Furious Viet Cong Attacks

Asian Diplomats Hint New Hanoi Peace Overture

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Asian diplomats here have suggested to the U.S. government that the furious pace of Communist attacks in South Viet Nam could be the prelude to new peace overtures from Hanoi.

Informed sources making this known Wednesday noted that the Communist offensives appear to be following the pattern of North Korean and Chinese Communist attacks in the Korean War some 15 years ago.

In the Korean case, fighting was heavily stepped up with seeming disregard to casualties in an effort to improve the Communist bargaining position before peace overtures were made.

U.S. officials said they are aware of this possibility but said there have been no indications of any new peace feelers from Hanoi.

State Department officials now estimate that more than 10,000 North Vietnamese army regulars are fighting in South Viet Nam. This is in addition to the 70,000 to 80,000 "main force" Communist troops of the Viet Cong who do not belong to regular units of the North Vietnamese army.

According to U.S. military authorities there are seven confirmed regiments of the North Vietnamese army in South Viet Nam and there is evidence that two more are also operating in the South. The strength of these regiments varies but each consists of a minimum of 1,200 men with additional units added for increased firepower.

The State Department tended to brush off as "not significant" the reported evacuation of Chinese civilians from Canton and other Chinese cities near the North Viet Nam border.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey said there have been reports of the evacuation of some civilian population in southern cities for some time over the past several months. At least one account of this reported movement dates back to last May.

Citizens' Panel In Proposal

Talk To Chinese, Johnson Advised

WASHINGTON (AP) — A citizens' panel is advising President Johnson to negotiate directly with Red China on disarmament. In the long run, the committee says, such a dialogue with Peking will be inevitable.

The committee's report, made available Wednesday, will be submitted at the White House Conference on International Cooperation opening Monday. The conference was called by Johnson in October last year "to search and explore and canvass and thoroughly discuss every conceivable approach and avenue of cooperation that could lead to peace."

The Committee on Arms Control and Disarmament is headed by Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner, dean of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and former science assistant to the President It was formed in 1964.

The committee's report also:

—Recommended a nonaggression pact between the Atlantic Alliance and the Warsaw Pact nations;

—Cautioned against the creation of a new nuclear force for the Western Alliance;

—Suggested a three-year moratorium on the emplacement of anti-missile systems, and —Called for parallel reduction of American and Soviet troops in Germany to reduce the cost and strain.

The suggestion that the United States talk directly with Communist China on disarmament follows certain signs which indicate that the Johnson administration is reconsidering the possibility of accepting a "two Chinas" policy in view of growing trend this year in the United Nations favoring the seating of Red China.

The committee's report said Wiesner and the other members believe it is absolutely necessary to open bilateral talks on arms controls with Peking and also to explore the possibility of bringing Communist China into the United Nations.

"We see no point in delay," the report said.

On Homes Suspected As Red Hideouts

Electronics Figure Held In Dropping Fire Bombs

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A brilliant electronics engineer was arrested Wednesday and charged with dropping firebombs from a rented plane on five homes he suspected of harboring Communist agitators and Negro rioters.

"It was purely psychological warfare to scare these agitators," said the engineer, Lon David Shaw, 30, as he described his year-long series of nighttime forays.

The last bombing was Nov. 16.

The simple but ingenious bombs, similar to Molotov cocktails, exploded harmlessly on lawns and backyards in Negro and white neighborhoods without hurting anyone, police said.

Shaw told a news conference he used a slide rule and complicated gear to plot his strikes. He said he could pinpoint his targets "within plus or minus 20 feet" from a height of 1,000 feet.

But the investigators said they were inclined to think he did not have any particular persons in mind when he hurled the bombs out the open windows of the planes.

Shaw, a native of Bellefontaine, Miss., with an IQ of 150, said he was not a member of any particular group advocating action against the Communists.

"Shaw's against everybody, the Communists, the Jews, the Negroes," said Detective Sgt. Dave Hillman.

Hillman would not describe the kind of bomb Shaw invented.

The police lab analyzed the first bomb last December and determined that it was dropped from the air, Hillman said.

"Then it was a matter of checking every airport in four counties to find a pattern," he said.

Californians Facing Soggy Thanksgiving

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California faced a soggy Thanksgiving holiday Wednesday night. The fourth heavy storm in two weeks churned in from the Pacific with an estimated three more inches of rain for a countryside already scarred by mud slides and flash floods.

Eight persons have perished in Southern California and five others were killed just across the border in Tijuana, Mex., during the disastrous series of storms.

The usually dry area already has had more than 11 inches of rain this season which began July 1 — compared with a normal to date of 1.45 inches.

There is no respite in sight.

The Weather Bureau said rain will continue at least through Monday.

Hillside and canyon homeowners sandbagged their property against the new onslaught. A few shoveled waist-high mudslides out of their residences, stopping occasionally to study darkening skies.

Later Hours Planned In City Stores Friday

Because they're closed today for the holiday, East Liverpool stores will remain open late Friday night after the annual Santa Claus parade.

Generally speaking, the stores will be open until 8:30 Friday. The parade ushering in the holiday season is set for 6, arranged jointly by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

The parade will form on lower Bradshaw Ave. and follow the traditional route along Walnut St., 5th St., Jefferson St. and 6th St. Holiday lights and the bulbs on the community Christmas tree on the Diamond will be switched on for the first time as the parade moves.

U.S. Observes Thanksgiving In Shadow Of Bitter War

Servicemen Get Message Of President

Grieves Over Loss Of American Lives In Resisting Reds

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson told members of the armed forces scattered around the world Wednesday that they are the guardians and defenders of freedom "which we cherish above all."

And as Johnson's Thanksgiving message went out over the armed forces network, press secretary Bill D. Moyers told newsmen of the President's grief over the loss of American lives in resisting Communist aggression in Viet Nam.

"I don't know of any matter that causes deeper personal interest or any matter over which he grieves more than the loss of American lives in Viet Nam or anywhere else," Moyers said.

In his message to the armed forces, Johnson said that "to each generation belongs the task of advancing freedom; of guarding it jealously; of nurturing it; of strengthening its institutions. To each generation belongs the task of defending it in its hour of need."

"Today we do not march in support of your unfinished task. We carry no placards to bolster your cause. We sign no petitions to show you our unity," he said.

"But we do much more. Today we raise our voices in a single prayer of thanks for your courage and your dedication."

Moyers spoke of Johnson's anguish as the U.S. military in Saigon reported 240 Americans were killed in action in Viet Nam last week, three times higher than in any previous week.

Moyers recalled that when Johnson left Bethesda Naval Hospital after his gall bladder-kidney stone operation, he told veterans who gathered to see him off that "every time I make a decision sending your buddies into war I do so with a heavy heart."

"That is not a feeling that is turned on and off whether the casualties are two or 200. The President is grievously and continuously concerned," Moyers said.

Like millions of other American families, the First Family will gather Thursday to give thanks and eat turkey, but Luci Baines Johnson is expected to be absent.

Moyers reported Luci, 18, is suffering from a fever and there is only a slight chance she will be able to come from Washington to Texas to be with her family.

The older Johnson daughter, Lynda Bird, 21, will be on hand, as will be some of Mrs. Johnson's kinfolk.

Americans Called On To Say Prayers

President Thanks GIs For Courage And Dedication

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans pause Thursday to observe Thanksgiving day in the shadow of a worsening war in Viet Nam.

In a message to the troops, President Johnson said, "We raise our voices in a single prayer of thanks for your courage and your dedication."

The President's Thanksgiving Day proclamation called on Americans to pray for an end of "the forces of violence, indifference and intolerance."

Food and gifts were being delivered to armed forces around the world. In Viet Nam, a Marine platoon shares its bounty with village children.

Throughout the United States families planned to gather for the traditional turkey feast. The President's family will be at his Texas ranch, although his daughter, Luci, may have to stay in Washington because of a fever.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will have turkey with his immediate family in Washington's Walter Reed Army Hospital, where he is recovering from a heart attack.

The White House said President Johnson grieved over the announcement of high casualties in Viet Nam — 240 Americans killed last week.

It was worse than the average casualty rate during the Korean War, but did not approach the 554 who were killed in traffic on America's streets and highways during the four-day 1964 Thanksgiving holiday.

At the federal reformatory in Chillicothe, Ohio, 612 of the 990 prisoners volunteered for a two-day "bleed-in" — contributing blood for servicemen in Viet Nam.

"It's our way to say thanks for being an American in spite of circumstances," explained one prisoner.

In Washington, organizers of a Saturday march "for peace in Viet Nam" said they expect 20,000 to take part. In New Jersey,

6,087-2,841 Vote Ends Strike

Machinists Ratify Pact; Due Back At Gemini Jobs

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Dissent-torn striking machinists at McDonnell Aircraft Corp. ratified a new contract Wednesday and agreed to return to their jobs producing Gemini spacecraft and jet fighter planes used in Viet Nam.

The new contract was accepted by a 6,087 to 2,841 vote. The tentative agreement had been reached early Wednesday in Washington.

Eugene Glover, vice president of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists and the head of the union negotiating team, had recommended the contract's acceptance.

But a leader of a rebel faction in the union, Bruce McArthy, said he had voted against the pact. He said his faction would return to their jobs, but would continue their fight with union leaders.

A McDonnell spokesman said a spot check has shown that about two-thirds of the Machinists had returned to work on the night shift. The company expects all the workers to be back on the production lines by the midnight shift.

McArthy said he thought something was "fishy" about the vote total and said he would contest it. He said the turnstile total indicated only 9,311 persons were in the arena.

The arena holds 13,500 persons. It was nearly filled. Officials also said some ballots were voided because they were improperly marked.

The contract provides for a 27-cent-an-hour increase over a three-year period. It also includes improvements of 40 job classifications, a better distribution of overtime, a modification of a no-strike clause, increased vacations, and better pension and sick leave benefits.

Glover told the Machinists during the stormy meeting the union negotiating team had reached the proposed settlement under pressure from the federal government, the company and some union members.

The strike began at midnight Nov. 18 and for a while threatened postponement of the launching next month of Geminis 6 and 7 at Cape Kennedy. Those capsules already have been delivered to the launching area.

McDonnell, the prime contractor for the space capsules, has about 200 union machinists at the Cape. They walked off the job when the strike started, but the union bowed to federal pressure and permitted them to return Monday.

The Machinists staged a wildcat strike Nov. 8-11, and many said it was as much against the union leadership as it was against McDonnell. The dissidents were angered with a contract extension their leaders granted despite membership rejection.

Four Inmates In Riot Put In Special Cells

Pen Officials Sift Charges In Slaying Of Three Guards

CHESTER, Ill. (AP)—Four convicts who started the bloodiest riot in the 89-year history of Menard State Penitentiary were held in special cells Wednesday while prison officials considered charges against them in the slaying of three guards.

Six other guards were seriously injured Tuesday night in a dining hall battle before the four rioting convicts whom officials called mentally unstable locked themselves in the prison kitchen, taking three guards hostage.

"The demands they made were petty," Warden Max P. Frye said. "It is a poor excuse for this tragedy, and the refusal of other inmates to participate proves its foolishness."

The convicts held homemade knives on their hostages while guards and state troopers surrounded the kitchen. The rioters demanded more radios, more recreation, better food and medical treatment.

Frye met Wednesday with Randolph County authorities who were expected to press charges.

Three guards were fatally stabbed within a few moments after the riot broke out. Frye said they were the first officers slain in the history of the old prison on the bank of the Mississippi River 70 miles southeast of St. Louis, Mo.

One of the rioters, John W. Stamps, 26, a convicted murderer, said he anticipated retaliation from guards. He told officials after he and his three fellow ringleaders surrendered:

"We gave up after we were guaranteed we would not be bodily harmed. Don't think the guards wouldn't like to get at us."

The four convicts blocked kitchen doors with bags of beans while negotiating with the state public safety director, Ross Randolph, who is a former Menard warden. He talked them into surrendering.

United School Emptied With Bomb Threat

HANOVERTON — The Columbiana County Sheriff's office continued an investigation today into a false bomb threat at United Local School Wednesday.

All 1,400 students in the first through twelfth grades were evacuated from the school at 11:05 a. m. after school officials received a telephone call from a man who claimed a bomb had been planted in the building.

The call was received by a secretary in the office of Supt. Chester M. Brautigam. She referred the call to the superintendent, who attempted to question the man about the "bomb."

After speaking briefly in a "coarse' voice, the man broke the connection, the superintendent said.

The sheriff's office was notified immediately and the children were ushered outside to the play areas and parking lots around the school.

They remained outside until the search was completed about an hour later. Some of the instructors aided in the search. After the students were called back, they checked their individual lockers.

A check also was made of the roof and the chemistry department was investigated to determine if any chemicals had been taken.

Damp Roads Add Hazards To Motorists

By The Associated Press

Wet roads in some sections of the nation added hazards Wednesday for Americans heading home for Thanksgiving.

The National Safety Council regards Thanksgiving as largely a home holiday with little long-distance driving involved. For that reason it adhered to its policy of not making advance estimates of traffic fatalities, as it does for the major holidays.

But many people will be on the move during the traffic death tallying period that began at 6 p.m., local time, Wednesday and will end at midnight Sunday.

In recent years the traffic tolls for the Thanksgiving tally periods — all four days — have ranged from 442 in 1960 to 554 in 1964.

Council At Midland Cites Need Of Another Doctor

Midland Borough Council members stressed the need to bring another physician into the community in a meeting at the Borough Building Wednesday night.

The departure of Dr. Constance Mourat, who left recently for another position, leaves just three doctors in the Borough.

Councilman Raymond Presutti recommended that Council advertise for a replacement for Dr. Mourat in the Journal of the American Medical Society.

Mayor Eli G. Corak suggested that a Council member be appointed to contact the three physicians practicing in the borough and ask them to help bring in a doctor by advertising in the medical publications.

In other business, Council authorized sending of letters to property - owners in an attempt to purchase proposed sites for off-street parking sites and recreation facilities.

The annual donation to the Midland fire companies was approved by Council.

Presutti complimented Louis Granito and the Street Department workers for their "fine job" in picking up fallen leaves and their preparations for winter snow and ice control.

Drizzle, But No Snow, Scheduled For Today

Relenting on an earlier forecast that called for snow today, the Ohio weatherman said Wednesday night that the holiday will be marked only by intermittent drizzle.

The weatherman said today will be mostly cloudy, with the mercury ranging up to 38-43.

Tonight will be partly cloudy and Friday will be cloudy and a little warmer, he said.

An All-American Holiday

The legend of the Thanksgiving observance in the United States includes a sharing of the feast here with the natives.

It may be just as well not to think too seriously about their disappearance from the feast as it evolved in later years.

The natives of North America—the only true Americans—have had little to be thankful for since the first shiploads of Europeans arrived. They have little to be thankful for today.

One can only wonder in passing whether it would have made a difference if they had been referred to down through the years as "Americans," instead of "Indians." That name was pinned on them in error because European explorers found the native Americans while looking for a trade route to India.

If the error had not been perpetrated and perpetuated, the distinction would have been between natives and trespassers, instead of between settlers and aborigines.

The distinction might have been between rightful owners and squatters, instead of between the developers and the dispossessed. To this day, claims are still being made by descendants of native Americans forced off their land by Europeans and their descendants.

Yet if the legend is correct, the Pilgrims who first gave thanks for a harvest that had been made possible by the help of the people who were here already when they arrived were gracious enough to include their benfactors in the first thanksgiving.

Settlers and natives—land developers and aborigines—had found nothing to put them at each other's throats in the early years of the 17th century. Blood-letting and mutual savagery were to come later when the interlopers grew impatient and began to force the issue with superior armament.

The forcing persists to this day.

The only true Americans are still waiting for something to be thankful for under the domination of the people who seized their land and forced them to live on reservations.

Time To Shut Up Or Shut Off

President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, who delights in saying nasty things about the United States, its motives and its ambitions, has finally stretched his luck a little too far.

His latest outburst—a literary blast in his book, "Neo-colonialism: The Last State of Imperialism"—not only has brought an official U.S. protest but has led to an outright rejection of his request for $100 million in Food-for-Peace aid.

And it isn't a moment too soon!

Nkrumah has been raking America over the coals for so long one can scarcely, if ever, remember when he found anything nice to say about our country or the people whose responsibility it is to lead it.

His book said, among other things, that the United States is the No.1 representative of neocolonialist, imperialist powers, and described the Peace Corps as a tool of imperialism and the U.S. Information Agency as a vehicle for American "psychological warfare."

He also was critical of the U.S. Agency for International Development (AID) and the World Bank—two agencies which have contributed heavily to Ghana's economic development in recent years.

Ghana has received more than $166 million in U.S. aid thus far.

Until Nkrumah can learn to shut his big mouth and show some signs of friendly cooperation with a country which is trying only to help, not run, his country, we would heartily endorse a complete shutoff of all aid, no matter what form it takes.

Dwight Eisenhower Showed How

Former Vice President Nixon wrapped up the Johnson administration's war dilemma in a television program last Sunday. All he needed was one statement:

If President Johnson fails to win the war and end it, Mr. Nixon declared, it could be a big issue in the national election in 1968.

First, win it. Then end it.

When Mr. Nixon was vice president, his chief was in a similar dilemma. The war in Korea had worn out the patience of the American people. Dwight Eisenhower knew this.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur had taken the position that the war should be won at any cost and could be won at any cost. He had been relieved of his command. The Truman administration was not committed to win the Korean War at any cost, because it had decided the cost would be prohibitive. But President Truman hadn't promised to end it.

When Gen. Eisenhower, who knew something about the cost of war and had said some solemn things about the value of human life, was elected president he was committed by a campaign promise to end the Korean War — not win it, just end it.

This is what Lyndon B. Johnson has committed his administration to do — end the war in Viet Nam. President Johnson never has promised to win at any cost. That has never been his commitment.

Aside from the confusion that has been blown up his administration's procedures and its surprising shift of emphasis from minimum to maximum involvement in Southeast Asia, the central fact is that President Johnson is still moving parallel to President Eisenhower, who ended a war in Korea and went on from there to increased popularity with the people and strong support from Congress, including the loyal support of the then Democratic leader of the U. S. Senate, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

There aren't many things about politics that can be predicted with certainty. But it can be predicted with near certainty that any president who says he is going to win a war at any cost is on shaky ground. Presidents pledged to stop wars have better luck.

Blood On The Leaves

By Truman Twill

A reader sent in a yellowed clipping of a column written years ago, requesting its republication. It is a pleasure to comply. We still wonder about killing for pleasure.T.T.

Hunting season is tapering off out in Rosy Fingered Dawn. It reaches its climax on Thanksgiving if the weather is good.

On that day, the game that hasn't been killed or wounded does well to lie low and let the hunters bang at one another. When it's over, the survivors have a good chance to get through Christmas alive and start counting the days until spring.

Those of us who never have been driven to hunting by hunger and wouldn't think of killing anything for the hell of drilling a hole in it with gunfire have to bring all our patience to bear on hunting.

We are sympathetic with the desire of so many people to go to the country to enjoy a few hours in the open. But we never think of taking along guns when we go to town to enjoy a day tramping up and down the streets and looking at the sights. It wouldn't occur to us if we were in our right minds to think that anything we saw running loose in town was a legitimate target.

This is a fundamental difference of opinion between huntsmen and us. To them, a cock pheasant with his beautiful plumage and proud gait is a living thing to be destroyed on sight with a blast from a shotgun. To us, a cock pheasant is an integral part of the rural scenery. We risk death to keep from hitting him and his harem when they run in front of our automobiles. We risk death to keep from running over rabbits, possums and woodchucks.

These creatures who live with us the year 'round are part of the family, as long as they stay out of trouble. Even rural dogs learn to respect their rights, sometimes by hard experience, as during a puppyhood tangle with a skunk, whose right to live is respected forever after.

Our enemies in the lower animal kingdom are few. Rats, certain dangerous snakes and, in some places, carnivorous beasts that have become outlaws. Oh yes, and insect pests.

A fat groundhog that had been taking his leisure in our country lane was surprised by my homecoming recently. He took off in a full gallop ahead of the car, his ridiculous tail bobbing up and down, his furry bottom in rhymba motion. It would have made a wonderful target for a shot. But who would want to make a target of a ground hog just for the fun of snuffing out his life?

Don't hate me, huntsmen. I'm only asking. Every year I'm asking when there's blood on the fallen leaves and suffering in the fencerows.

Grin And Bear It

Foot In The Bucket

Thanksgiving Tradition Endures

By John N. Adams
Brush-Moore Special Writer

One would have to go back to the very beginning of civilization for the whole record of man's attempts to show thanks for his blessings but it's not difficult to trace the origin of Thanksgiving and its stormy existence in America.

Since the earliest colonial days here, the feast has been the center of religious and national controversy that, at times, bordered on bitterness.

Much of the controversy was as absurd and futile as the current furor over who discovered America.

The South claims the first truly thanksgiving feast was held Dec. 4, 1819, when the Berkeley Company landed in Virginia at a spot designated as "Berkeley's Hundred." There, "in accordance with the proprietor's instructions, they celebrated a day of thanksgiving."

THE POPULAR AND traditional concept is that the American Thanksgiving began with the Pilgrims at Plymouth Colony in December 1621 when Gov. William Bradford called together the Pilgrims "to offer thanks to God for the preservation of their lives, food to sustain them and clothing for their bodies."

There's no known record of any later Thanksgiving observances in the Old Dominion State. It's to the Pilgrims of Plymouth Colony that we are indebted for making the feast an annual affair and thus perpetuating the celebration.

From Plymouth, the observance spread to other colonies in New England, where it became a particularly popular holiday. Native fruits and vegetables, wild game and pumpkin pies became the traditional foods for the day.

During the Revolutionary War, the Continental Congress appointed one or more days of thanksgiving each year, except in 1777.

President George Washington in 1789 issued the first presidential Thanksgiving proclamation "in honor of the new constitution and the blessings which accompanied it." The date for the observance was set for Nov. 26 of that year, but it was 1795 before Washington issued another Thanksgiving proclamation.

It was not until 1815 that the festival was revived on a national scale.

In that year, President James Madison, in response to resolutions of Congress, urged the people to offer thanks on a day set apart by presidential proclamation. It came at the close of the war with England and was dedicated as a season of prayer and praise for national guidance and peace.

For nearly half a century there were no more presidential proclamations, though by 1858 proclamations appointing a day of thanksgiving were issued by governors of 25 states and two territories.

A LEADING CRUSADER for a national Thanksgiving holiday was Sara Josepha Hale, a New England woman who had contributed much to the building of a favorable public sentiment through her writings.

For 20 years, Mrs. Hale labored to emphasize the significance of a national fall festival.

In an editorial published in 1852, Mrs. Hale said: "Thanksgiving Day is the national pledge of Christian faith in God, acknowledging Him as the dispenser of blessings. . . . The observance of the day has been gradually extending and for a few years past efforts have been made to have a fixed day which will be universally observed throughout the country. . . ."

The last Thursday in November was selected as the day, "on the whole, most appropriate."

Ten years later, in 1862, Mrs. Hale still was pleading for the national feast day which, the preceding year, had been celebrated in 24 states and three territories.

Although in the intervening years she had appealed to other presidents with respect to setting aside a national Thanksgiving holiday, it was not until Mrs. Hale appealed to President Lincoln in 1863 that she found a sympathetic hearing.

On Oct. 3, 1863, President Lincoln, by presidential proclamation, appointed the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day. Mrs. Hale, editor of Godey's Lady's Book, finally had won her battle.

Each succeeding president made similar proclamations setting the last Thursday of November as a national holiday of Thanksgiving, until President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1939 appointed the third Thursday in November dividing the observance for that year and the two following years, when some states refused to go along with the change. Some observed two Thanksgiving Days, celebrating both the third and fourth Thursdays in 1939, 1940 and 1941.

In December 1941, however, Congress by joint resolution adopted a bill designating "the fourth Thursday of November in each year after the year 1941 as Thanksgiving Day and made a legal public holiday to all intents and purposes."

The bill was signed by President Roosevelt on Dec. 26, 1941, just 19 days after the attack on Pearl Harbor. President Roosevelt termed the Thanksgiving imbroglio the "only mistake" of his administration up to that time.

In the United States, the Thanksgiving Holiday, despite its religious association, often has had a distinctly secular flavor.

A country Thanksgiving in the middle of the 19th century traditionally featured a raffle of fowls on Thanksgiving eve and a shooting match in the morning.

IN NEW YORK CITY, the day was celebrated by companies of fantastically costumed persons who paraded noisly through the streets. Children, dressed in the clothes of their elders went about their neighborhoods begging for money or contributions of fruits and vegetables.

Parades Feature Today's Celebrations

In New York, Detroit and other cities mammoth parades are staged by department stores. In Philadelphia, the Mummers Parade features the day.

Canada, our neighbor to the north, long has celebrated a thanksgiving, the date varying from year to year but generally placed the second Monday in October.

Many other countries also set aside a day to celebrate completion of the harvest and to render homage to the Divine Spirit who caused fruits and crops to grow.

Our hardy ancestors had no medicare, no social security, none of the thousands of other federal benefits. All they had was character. All they ever did was work, all they ever wanted was self-respect.

The sum of these traits made America great.

Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Redick and daughter, formerly of Clarkson, moved to Youngstown, where Redick accepted a position as mail carrier.

S. A. Hart was elected president of the newly-organized Townsend Club of Salineville.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Despite precautions taken by health authorities, an outbreak of scarlet fever continued to increase here.

Herbert J. Barth, formerly of East Liverpool, was named chief deputy in the office of Columbiana County Auditor I. J. Vorndran at Lisbon.

TEN YEARS AGO — Harry A. McFarland Jr. of Glenmoor was promoted to first lieutenant at the Moody (Ga.) Air Force base.

Mrs. Evelyn Mahan, Mrs. Katherine Nesselrode and Mrs. Helen Conkle were enrolled as new members of the Lady Elks.

The Columbiana County Board of Education met with the commissioners at the Courthouse in Lisbon to ask more office space for the county superintendent's staff.

Letter To Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

With the holidays coming up, I think of our young men in the armed forces. Some of these boys are very lonely and perhaps a bit homesick.

A letter or card from a friend, neighbor or a loved one would mean so very much to a serviceman or woman. Is it too much to ask in return from what they are giving?

A letter takes such a short time to write. And believe me it will add something very meaningful to a boy far away from home and the people who love him.

We should especially count our blessings at this time with Thanksgiving here and Christmas not far off. We Americans have so very much to be thankful for. Let's try not forget the real meaning of giving and give a little of our precious time to the young men who are giving much more. Whether a boy is here in the U.S. or Viet Nam, we here at home should let him know we haven't forgotten him.

Rhodesia Action Seen Improper

Unprecedented things are happening today in the conduct of the government of the United States — but most people aren't paying any attention to it, and representatives of both parties in Congress are strangely silent.

David Lawrence

Nowhere in the Constitution, for instance, is the President given the right to decide for himself with what countries trade shall be conducted or what tariff duties shall be imposed — unless Congress specifically authorizes such broad powers by legislation.

Yet, over the last weekend, the United States voted in the Security Council of the U.N. to call on Britain to "quell" the rebellion in Rhodesia. Then Ambassador Goldberg announced various economic measures decided upon by this government to carry out the purposes of the resolution. He declared that steps will be taken to tighten the economic squeeze on the Rhodesian secessionists and said that President Johnson had cancelled Rhodesia's 1965 sugar-import quota of 9,500 tons — a shipment which already was on the high seas en route to America. Mr. Goldberg added:

"The President has suspended Rhodesia's sugar quota for 1965 and has directed that this shipment will not be accepted. We will continue to consider urgently any other steps which will ensure that no action is taken to assist the illegal regime in Salisbury, Rhodesi. The writing is on the wall. The misguided rebels in Southern Rhodesia would do well to heed the voice of the council and the voice of the vast majority of the nations of the world."

COINCIDENTALLY American boys are being killed or wounded in South Viet Nam as a result of attacks by the troops of the North Vietnamese government — a regime that is obtaining supplies and commodities through trading with many nations of the world but nothing is being done here to cut off trade between the United States and such countries. chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to voice any criticism about the interference in Rhodesia's internal affairs such as he expressed about the use of United States forces during a rebellion in the Dominican Republic. Not only was the action of President Johnson then denounced as an improper interference with the right of a people to determine their own kind of government, but it was argued that the United States had no business interfering with a revolution organized by the people.

In the case of the Dominican Republic, of course, there was a violation of the Monroe Doctrine as well as a threat by Communists to take possession of the government but no such circumstances or precedents of international law are involved in Rhodesia.

IF THE PRINCIPLE is accepted that the executive branch has absolute power in international affairs — despite the plain words of the Constitution that Congress shall have the power to "regulate commerce with foreign nations" —then the United States will again and again find itself in an awkward position with respect to policies pursued internally by various countries in the world.

The economic weapon can be a powerful one, and Congress unquestionably would grant authority when an embargo would protect directly the interests of the United States. It's unlikely, however, that authorization would be given to pass judgment upon the internal policies of any country and to set up yardsticks to determine whether any government is or is not truly representative of the wishes of the people.

In the case of Rhodesia, Washington is doubtless motivated by a desire to please the British government but even more it seeks to curry favor with the large number of Negro voters in this country whose prejudices are easily aroused by the statement that Negroes in Rhodesia are being victimized by a white minority. In Rhodesia itself, however, there are many Negroes who feel that the future economic welfare of their country is linked to the opportunities of the whites to direct the development of the nation's resources.

THE TRUTH is that the Rhodesian question is being handled here as a political issue. Fear of the Negro vote in this country is what is influencing not only the executive branch of the government but also many members of Congress who are keeping quiet as Washington tries to tell the people of another country what kind of government they must have.

To use the economic power of the United States to meddle in the political affairs of a country in another hemisphere is unprecedented. The acquiescence of many people in a policy which reveals an avowed purpose to intervene in the internal affairs of Rhodesia is inexplicable.

The Planets

The planets of the solar system, in order of their distance from the sun, are Mercury, Venus, Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto. Uranus, Neptune and Pluto are not included in the celestial list because they are too faint to be seen without optical aid.

The planets move rapidly among the stars because they are very much nearer to us than the stars. The stars are also in motion, some of them at tremendous speeds, but they are so far away that their motion does not change their apparent positions in the heavens sufficiently for anyone to perceive that change in a single lifetime.

Although the difference is small, among those American adults who admit they have played cards at one time or another, women are ahead of men. Slightly over 82 per cent of American women have played some kind of card game, compared with 80 per cent of the country's

Water Crews Repair Break

Service was restored at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday in a 6-inch main along St. Clair Ave. between Park Blvd. and Armstrong Ln. after water department crews located and repaired a break which developed Tuesday night, Supt. Harold Peterson reported.

Service was turned off briefly during the repair work for approximately a dozen homes along St. Clair between the two intersecting streets.

The break was discovered about 6 p.m. Tuesday. A short stretch was barred to traffic overnight and the line crew started work Wednesday morning, boring holes through the concrete pavement with a pneumatic drill in an attempt to pinpoint the break.

About 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, the city discontinued a detour, which had shunted traffic around the site via Park Blvd., Park Way and Armstrong Ln. While the repair crew worked in the middle of the new St. Clair stretch, traffic was shunted around via the lanes on either side.

By early yesterday afternoon, the main had been uncovered after a section of concrete had been removed and the crew pressed on with a search for the exact site of the break.

3 Youths Held On Auto Theft

Three Pennsylvania youths were arrested late Wednesday afternoon by Aliquippa police on charges they stole an East Liverpool man's auto Tuesday morning from Church Alley, local police were advised.

The Beaver County police department advised local officers that it had taken into custody three youngsters 15, 16 and 17, all described as runaways from the Youth Development Center at Canonsburg, Pa.

The three are accused of taking a 1964 model Corvair coupe which Clarence O'Hanlon of 18 Cadmus St. reported stolen here between 10:30 and 11 a.m. Tuesday.

East Liverpool and Beaver County authorities also are checking out the possibility that the three youths may have been responsible for the theft of a Beaver auto which was found abandoned here Wednesday morning in Church Alley, just a short distance from the spot where O'Hanlon's auto was stolen.

The station wagon reported stolen by Peter R. Kullen of Beaver was found abandoned in Church Alley between Broadway and Union St. at 8:44 a.m. Wednesday by Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr., officers said.

Officers said a routine license check was made after the department received complaints that the Pennsylvania car was blocking garage doors. The check disclosed that the car had been stolen from Beaver, police said.

They were charged in warrants issued by U.S. Commissioner William N. Matthews on complaints authorized by U. S. Attorney Milton J. Ferguson.

Jarrell and Hensley voluntarily surrendered to the FBI in Matthews' office. They were released on $2,500 bond each. A hearing was set for Dec. 13 for Matthews. Bonds for both were posted by Ralph Williams of Huntington.

Railroad Denied Bid To Cancel Coal Rate

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission refused Wednesday to allow the Norfolk & Western Railroad to cancel existing rates on transporting bituminous coal from Virginia and West Virginia mines to the port here, the New York Central Railroad said.

The NYC said if N&W had been permitted to cancel its rates, the port of Ashtabula would have been deprived of more than three million tons of coal annually.

This move might have made the NYC close the facility permanently, causing loss of jobs for railroad and dock employes in the Ashtabula area, the railroad said.

Central State College Now University; New Building Set

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP)—Central State College became a university Wednesday and marked its new status by breaking ground for a new classroom building.

Gov. James A. Rhodes turned the first shovel of earth for the $750,000 classroom building, which will be named for Charles H. Wesley, longtime president of Central State who retired last summer.

Rhodes called on Central State alumni to become a voice in Ohio and "to erase the thought that Central State is for the minority only . . . this is a full-grown, full-blown university."

Dr. John D. Millett, chancellor of the Board of Regents, said at the ceremony dedicating Central State as a university that the change was "the logical beginning of a new era" in Ohio's higher education

He said the percentage of white students at the predominatly Negro school has risen in the last five years from 5 to 20 per cent and he felt sure the increase would continue.

"A reasonable next step," he said, would be conversion of Central State into a residential university in which most students live on the campus.

Before the ceremonies, the board of trustees, took two steps following up a state auditor's report criticizing Central State's past financial practices.

'Demented Person' Linked To 3 Deaths

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — "A malcontent or a demented person" may have had a hand in the postsurgery deaths last week of two young children and a young mother at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Investigators said they found a bottle at the hospital Tuesday which might contain clues. The bottle contained a drug.

The Oakland County prosecutor's office said the deaths were caused by a mixture of anesthetics.

The hospital said it had been unable to learn who was responsible for the lethal mixture.

"This case has all the ingredients of a malcontent or a demented person having a grudge against the hospital or the hospital administration," said assistant prosecutor Walter D. Schmier.

Man 'Mad At World' Gets Jail He Wanted

CINCINNATI (AP)—It looks as though Erving A. Hanna, 62, is going to get his wish—a bunk in the penitentiary.

The Cincinnati man was arrested Oct. 30 for breaking a window in the public library and the Hamilton County Grand Jury indicted him Wednesday for malicious destruction of property.

The policemen who arrested Hanna quoted him as saying he was mad at the world and wanted to go to jail. Prosecutor Melvin G. Rueger said the charge carries a penitentiary sentence of one to seven years.

Woman Slays Two Nieces, Wounds Self

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—"I did it. Janet Wolfe."

Those were the words found on a note Wednesday in a Batavia home where Cynthia Kay Hitt, 7, and her sister, Linda Fay, 6, were shot fatally and their aunt — Mrs. Wolfe — was wounded critically.

Cynthia Kay was dead at the scene and Linda Fay died several hours after in Jewish Hospital in Cincinnati.

Authorities said Mrs. Wolfe, also in Jewish Hospital, was not expected to live.

Clermont County Sheriff Donald Watson said Mrs. Wolfe, distraught because she feared she was going to lose custody of her two nieces, apparently did the shooting. He said he could not tell when the note was written.

Mrs. Wolfe had cared for the two girls for the last two years since the death of their mother —Mrs. Wolfe's sister. The father, William Hitt, remarried recently.

Sheriff Watson said he was told by Mrs. Johan Zurmehly, another sister of Mrs. Wolfe, that Mrs. Wolfe called her this morning and said the stepmother of the girls was coming for them. She was crying and asked what she should do.

Mrs. Zurmehly told the sheriff she went to the Wolfe home and heard a series of shots. The door was locked but she broke a glass in it to gain entrance.

She said she found Mrs. Wolfe lying on the floor between two beds. The girls, clothed except for their shoes, were in the beds and both had been shot.

A .22 caliber revolver was on the floor between Mrs. Wolfe's legs.

West Virginia PSC Studies B&O Request

CHARLESTON — A Baltimore & Ohio Railroad request for permission to discontinue seldom-used caboose passenger service between Huntington and Parkersburg was taken under consideration by the Public Service Commission after a hearing Wednesday.

The application affects one daily run each way. The trains, Nos. 103 and 104, theoretically are mixed passenger and freight runs with passengers, if any, riding in the caboose.

But the only B&O witness, J. E. Sell of Baltimore, testified no passengers used the service in 1963, four used it in 1964 and only four have used it so far this year. He said it was an unneeded and archaic service that should be discontinued. Sell is B&O Manager of passenger services.

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — A sailor — officially dead but actually alive and in good health —remained in naval custody today pending steps to correct his records as a possible preliminary to action on his 1964 disappearance.

Spokesmen said no charges could be brought against Yeoman John R. Warren in his present status. They said he was declared dead four months after he vanished from a Virginia Beach, Va., hotel and military services were even held.

Warren, 21, had been serving as a clerk at a naval station in Washington, D.C., when he disappeared while on leave, wearing only swim trunks and carrying a pair of fins.

Two weeks ago Warren walked into a Miami Naval Reserve armory and identified himself. After spending 10 days in jail while the Navy checked and confirmed his identity, Warren was brought to Key West Naval Station where he is being detained while the Navy decides what to do.

The Navy gave no account of Warren's experiences since his disappearance and Warren declined to talk with newsmen.

Warren is from Worthington Ohio, a suburb of Columbus.

2 Prisoners Escape West Virginia Prison

CHARLESTON (AP) — Two prisoners escaped Wednesday from the Medium Security Prison at Huttonsville, the Public Insitutions Commissioner's Office reported.

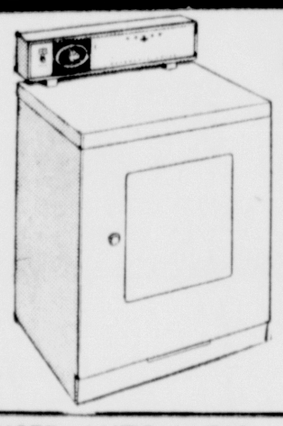

The office said Robert R. Gaston, 20, escaped from the prison dairy barn and James R. Lewis, 20, from the boiler room, both about 7 a.m.

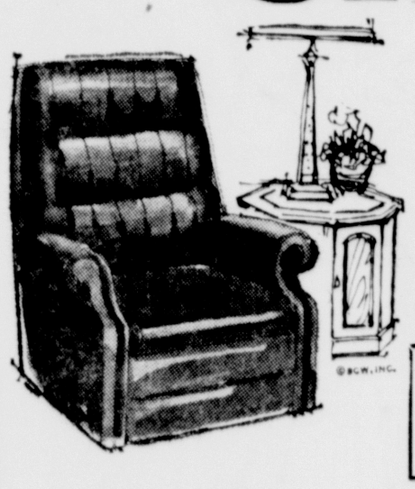

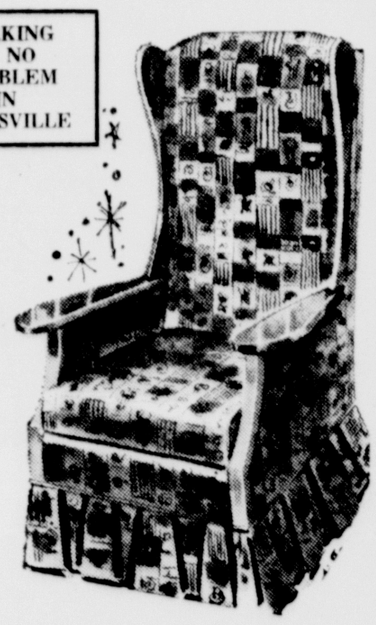

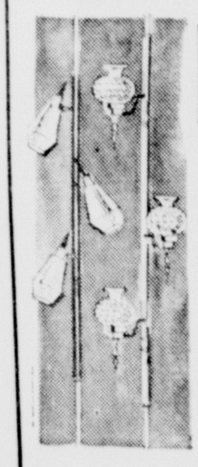

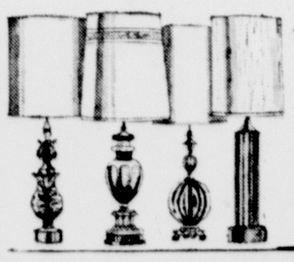

Records showed Gaston was serving 1 to 10 years from Harrison County for grand larceny and Lewis was serving 1 to 10 years from Wayne County for breaking and entering.

Thanksgiving

it was reported that some union bus drivers refused to take people to the demonstration.

In Massachusetts, services were planned re-enacting the Pilgrims' first Thanksgiving in 1621. Virginia claims the first one occurred two years earlier near Richmond, and held a commemorative feast there last Sunday.

Parades—many featuring Santa Claus—will be staged in New York, Philadelphia, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Charlotte, N.C., and other cities. Some will be televised, from 10 a.m. to noon, EST, by the National Broadcasting Co. and Columbia Broadcasting System.

Only a few college football games are on tap, rather than the usual full Thanksgiving slate. The Nebraska - Oklahoma game at Lincoln will be on na- at 1:45 p.m., EST.

USPA's Annual Meeting Arranged For Pittsburgh

The U. S. Potters Association is completing plans for its 87th annual meeting Dec. 7-8 at the Pittsburgh Hilton Hotel.

A general session will convene at 10 a. m. on Dec. 7, devoted primarily to committee reports reviewing developments in the industry in 1965 and looking forward to 1966.

The annual banquet and reception are scheduled the evening of Dec. 7, featuring an address by Imre Kovaca, a native of Hungary, on "It's Fun to be An American." Educated in several European countries, Kovacs also studied at Yale University and the Julliard School of Music in New York City.

Kovacs has traveled extensively in Europe and the U. S. In recent years, he has devoted his time primarily to speeches advocating tolerance and democracy and decrying the bigotry and hatreds in Europe. He has addressed an estimated five million.

The reception and dinner also will be held at the Pittsburgh Hilton, with the reception starting at 6:30 and the dinner at 7:30.

The meeting on Dec. 8, an executive session, will be devoted to more committee reports and will conclude with the annual election of officers following a report from the nominating committee headed by Arthur A. Wells of the Homer Laughlin China Co.

The current officers are: Fred C. Henderson of the Royal China Co. at Sebring, president; Robert M. Wells of Homer Laughlin, first vice president; John C. Thompson of the Hall China Co., second vice president; Richard B. Smith of the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., third vice president; Edwin S. Morse of TST, treasurer; J. C. Nordyke of Pittsburgh, associate vice president, and Miss Dena E. Powell of East Liverpool, acting secretary.

The USPA is a manufacturers' organization. Its member concerns produce a large percentage of the nation's dinnerware.

'Consumer Already Paying Share'

Gov. Smith Rules Out Retail Sales Tax Boost

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — A further retail sales tax increase was ruled out by Gov. Hulett Smith Wednesday as a possible source if he decides he must recommend increased tax revenue to the 1966 legislature.

"The consumer is already paying his share. . . we would have to look elsewhere," Smith told a news conference.

The 1965 legislature boosted consumers retail sales tax revenue by enacting a straight 3-per-cent rate schedule. The tax previously had been 2 per cent on sales of $1 or less and 3 per cent above the level.

The governor noted that the Board of Public Works has not completed its budget recommendations to the legislature and therefore cannot yet say how much revenue would be required.

"Perhaps we won't need any new taxes," he said.

Although Smith didn't say so, ruling out another sales tax boost probably would make the state income tax the most probable source to be tappped if the legislature decides more general revenue is necessary.

On the soft drink tax, earmarked exclusively for the West Virginia University Medical Center, Smith did not go so far as to say he would recommend repeal, but he expressed misgivings about this kind of financing.

"Whether we should continue a dedicated tax on one specific industry to support an institution that serves all of the people of West Virginia is certainly doubtful in my mind," Smith said.

Bottling industry spokesmen have called for repeal of the penny - a - bottle tax, in effect since 1951. WVU President Paul A. Miller and other university officials appeared before a between-sessions legislative committee Tuesday to argue the case for continuing the tax.

Smith said a tax dedicated to one particular activity "goes against what we normally consider" sound taxing theory. He also noted the soft drink levy was termed an inequitable tax by the State Tax Study Commission.

The pop tax brings in about $4 million a year. Smith said it appeared feasible to support the medical center by adding this amount to the general revenue appropriation which supports the rest of the university.

Judge To Buy Holiday Meal Of Prisoners

Continuing a custom which he began when he took the bench in 1960, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff will pay the bill today for a Thanksgiving meal for all prisoners confined in City Jail on the holiday.

It's a gesture of thanks, coupled with aid to the unfortunate, which the judge has followed each Thanksgiving.

"With all the blessings and privileges we enjoy in this great nation, I feel no one should be denied the right of joining in the feast of thanks to God," the judge commented. "Even the lowly and unfortunate must have something for which to be thankful — if only the gift of life."

The judge purposely withheld announcement of plans for the free meal until today, suspecting some of the frequent offenders on intoxication charges might make a deliberate attempt to get into jail and enjoy a big meal at his expense.

The judge checked with the police department Wednesday to assure that the meals will be provided. The desk officer has instructions to make a head count, then order as many meals as necessary from a nearby restaurant.

The meal always includes turkey, dressing, cranberry sauce and all the other traditional items of Thanksgiving fare.

The "tab" for the meal generally averages out to $2 per person. The jail's population was unusually low for Thanksgiving 1964 and only two prisoners dined at the judge's expense.

For the fourth straight year the National League set a new attendance record in 1965. A total of 13,581,130 fans paid.

'Distortions' In Business Spread Noted

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Distortions in the business expansion picture have become "increasingly evident this fall," the Cleveland Trust Co. warned Wednesday in its monthly business bulletin.

The distortions "are not yet strong enough to threaten the continued rise of business activity," the bulletin said but went on to state that "the business and financial sectors are both showing signs that the 'well - balanced' expansion of 1962-64 is giving way to a top heavy, volatile and potentially dangerous outlook.

"To a large extent the confidence of the world in the future of the dollar, as well as that of the business community in the administration, may depend on the forthcoming year's budget message.

"It is becoming increasingly clear that the economic goal of 1966 should be one of consolidation and not necessarily growth," the Cleveland Trust economists said.

Distortions noted by the report included a rise in business equipment output of 11 per cent on the annual rate between the first and third quarters while consumer goods output rose at an annual rate of only 1 per cent.

Auto Mishap Fatal

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP) —John Mazza Jr., 19, of Mount Vernon, was killed Wednesday in an automobile accident on Ohio 13 between Bellville and Mansfield in Richland County. Young Mazza had enlisted in the Marines only recently and was to have left for boot camp next Tuesday.

Court Overrules State Motion On Apportion Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 10th District Court of Appeals Wednesday overruled a motion by the state to dismiss a suit against the Ohio Apportionment Board.

State Sen. Frank J. King, D - Toledo, brought the suit against the board individually, and as a member of the board.

The court at the same time declined to dismiss State Auditor Roger Cloud as a defendant. In a brief opinion, the court indicated the attorney general should start arguing the case on its merits and stop making its fight on procedural steps.

Recently a special three-judge federal court ruled that the apportionment board's action in establishling 33 senatorial districts and 99 representative districts for the 1966 General Assembly elections will be the law next year. However, the suit before the appellate court is challenging the apportionment board's action under the Ohio constitution.

King contends it is legally qualified once every 10 years to meet and reapportion the General Assembly. He says the board met in 1960 and cannot legally devise another apportionment plan until 1970.

Toledo Will Receive Grant In 'Head Start'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Economic Opportunity Planning Association at Toledo, Ohio, will receive a $658,577 federal grant for a head start project, it was announced Wednesday.

The grant is part of $17.7 million in new grants announced by Sargent Shriver, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, at a news conference.

Doomed Man Indicted On 5 More Counts

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—More trouble piled up here Wednesday for Cleo V. Keaton, already under death sentence in Pickaway County for a killing.

Keaton, now in death row at Ohio Penitentiary, under sentence to die in the electric chair April 22, was indicted by the Montgomery County Grand Jury on three first-degree murder charges, one of armed robbery and another accusing him of shooting to wound.

The Dayton cases stem from a period prior to a killing for which Keaton was sentenced in Pickaway County, that of Maurice L. Francis of near Williamsport last March.

Dayton authorities accuse Keaton of fatally wounding two persons in a Leo Street tavern, Carl Bartee of New Carlisle, and Ruth Sherman, a waitress, last March 15. He also is accused of the slaying of Charles Sommars during a $400 holdup of a carryout store in Dayton earlier in the year.

The Francis slaying in Pickaway County took place shortly after the Dayton tavern shootings and while police were looking for Keaton. A jury convicted him of first-degree murder more than a week ago, and common pleas court has turned down two appeals for a new trial.

However, Keaton's attorney, Emanuel Nadlin of Dayton, today filed a 10-page brief in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court asking the court's reconsideration of its rejection of a motion for a new trial appeal based on a distant relationship of a juror to the prosecutor.

Meanwhile, Montgomery County authorities visited Ohio Penitentiary Tuesday to see if they could obtain Keaton's release for trial here on murder charges. Authorities said such a release may be possible if Keaton's current efforts for a new trial in the Pickaway County case are successful.

Edwards Named New President Of Panhandle Unit

The Washington, D. C., regional director, Andrew Newton, was guest speaker for the meeting, which was held at the Wheeling Post Office.

The association encompasses Hancock, Brooke, Marshall and Ohio Counties.

Garlands have been strung across the street. The City Hall also is being decorated and a tree is being erected in the square at 4th St.

The community's parade will be held Dec. 4.

Fifteen participated in the father-and-son project, with the contestanis 8 to 11.

Kuzma Paints Dismal Picture After Great Title Team

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Winning a state championship is fine, but how about the year after?

Hank Kuzma, who took a great Midland team all the way to the Pennsylvania crown last year, has found that the glow of state title only lasts so long.

The Midland basketball wizard, whose records are about unmatched in Pennsylvania High School annals, is painting a dismal picture for the Leopards in the 1965-66 season.

"YOU CAN'T imagine the tremendous losses we have had. Out of 14 boys being considered as varsity prospects, only two are over the 6-foot mark," Kuzma pointed out.

The Midland ranks were shattered by graduation, with the glittering stars of last year—Sim Hill, Ron Brown and Norm VanLier — no longer around.

"We have had four scrimmages so far and have lost badly in all of those," Kuzma added. The Leopards have met Ellwood City, Butler, Massillon and Canton McKinley.

THE LEOPARDS are the first district school to open their season and Kuzma is quite busy putting together a starting lineup for Saturday night's game with Montour at the Midland gymnasium.

"As of now, we have three solid starters in Brent Lake, Steve Alston and Rich Mahurt," Kuzma explained. "The other positions could go to several other candidates."

Leopards Open Season Saturday

The Review Sports
THURSDAY, NOV. 25, 1965 PAGE 18

Lake and Alston were regulars last season, but most of the scoring was done by the "Big 3" of Hill, Brown and Vanlier. Lake will be the tallest member of the starting squad standing 6-2. Alston goes 5-8.

—:—

LAKE looms as the chief threat for the Leopards, but may have to become accustomed to a new position. He proved to be a deadly shot last season from the outside.

Alston has been a steady backcourt man for the last two years and can be dangerous with his outside shooting.

Lake was No. 4 in the scoring last season with 252 points. His top effort was a 24-point night. Alston dropped in 106 points, but was used mainly in a playmaking role.

The sixth man on the championship squad last season was Rich Mahurt, a rugged 6-foot junior, who didn't slow down the Leopard attack in any way when called upon for relief duty during the drive to the title.

The other two starters for Saturday's game probably will be a pair of juniors — Jeff Lake and Sandy Martins, who both stand 5-11.

MAHURT won a letter last year, as did John Williams, another 5-11 junior, but Williams broke his hand early in the football season. While Williams is being counted upon as a regular later in the season, his injury has limited him in pre-season drills.

Another junior, who is the tallest member of the squad at 6-3, is Glenn Humbert. Kuzma feels Humbert will see quite a bit of action since the Leopards are sorely lacking height.

THE MIDLAND coach pointed out that "this is predominately a junior squad. We have eight juniors, four seniors and two sophomores and the juniors will have to carry the club."

Midland is working on a 28-game winning streak, not having lost since Uniontown defeated the Leopards in the WPIAL playoff game in 1964.

Kuzma also realizes that other teams in Section 8 are hungry for a title since Midland has won four in a row. Looking over the Section, Kuzma pointed to Monaca as one of the powers this year. "I feel Monaca will be the most powerful, with Hopewell and New Brighton next in line," he said.

THE ANNUAL Holiday tournament, which Midland has captured four years in a row, lines up as one of the best in history.

Two new teams have been added this season in Uniontown and New Castle. McKeesport returns to complete the field.

The tournament is scheduled for Wednesday Dec. 29 and Thursday Dec. 30.

Besides Uniontown and New Castle as possible foes in the Holiday tournament, four other new opponents have been added to the schedule.

—:—

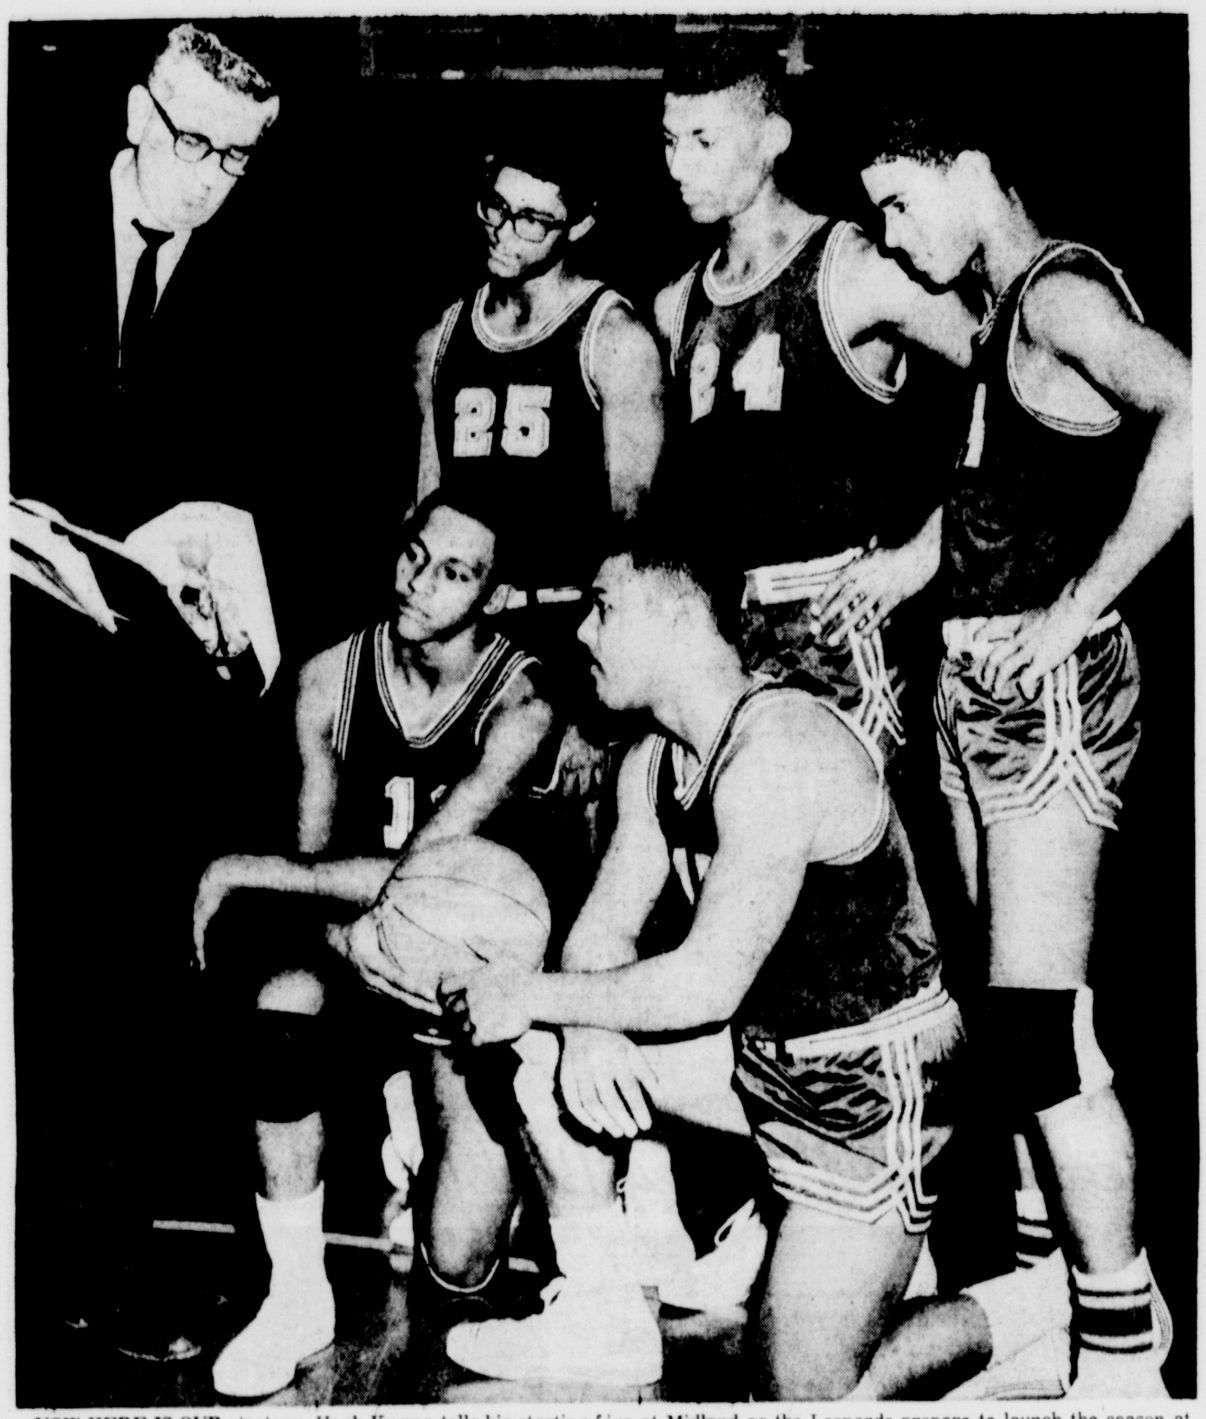

THE NEW foes include Rochester, Pittsburgh Fifth Avenue, a strong Schenley team led by Ken Durrett and Altoona. Midland met both Schenley and Altoona in tournament competition last season.

Montour, Saturday night's opening, foe won its Section title last year.

Kuzma again is again assisted by Ed Olkowski, who will handle the reserve squad.

The 1965-66 schedule follows:

Nov.	27	Montour, home
Dec.	3	Wellsville, away
Dec.	4	Coroapolis, home
Dec.	7	Rochester, home
Dec.	10	Beaver Falls, home
Dec.	14	Freedom, home
Dec.	17	East Liverpool, away
Dec.	21	Schenley, home
Dec.	29	Holiday Tournament
Dec.	30	Holiday Tournament
Jan.	4	Pittsburgh 5th Ave., home
Jan.	7	Western Beaver, home
Jan.	11	Hopewell, away
Jan.	14	Monaca, away
Jan.	21	Beaver, home
Jan.	25	New Brighton, away
Jan.	29	Altoona, home
Feb.	4	Western Beaver, away
Feb.	8	Hopewell, home
Feb.	11	Monaca, home
Feb.	18	Beaver, away
Feb.	22	New Brighton, home

Bills Attempt To Clinch Title

Baltimore Shoots For 9th In Row Today At Detroit

By The Associated Press

Streaking Baltimore will try to make it nine in a row in the National Football League and Buffalo will attempt to clinch a division title in the American Football League in two important professional games on Thanksgiving Day.

Baltimore, gunning for a Jan. 2 title rematch with the defending champion Cleveland Browns, will be in Detroit to meet the Lions in their traditional holiday noon game. Green Bay used to draw the Detroit Thanksgiving date for years but the opponents have been rotated in recent years.

The Colts, leading Green Bay by one game, with four to play, can help themselves considerably with a second win in five days.

The Buffalo Bills, AFL defending champs, can assure themselves of another title game by beating the favored Chargers at San Diego in a contest that could be a preview of the league championship tilt.

All of the other pro action will be Sunday. The NFL program will find Cleveland, with a three-game lead and four to play, at Pittsburgh, Chicago at New York, Green Bay at Los Angeles, Philadelphia at St. Louis, San Francisco at Minnesota and Dallas at Washington.

There are only two Sunday games in the AFL, Boston at New York and Houston at Kansas City.

The Baltimore-Detroit game will be seen on national television (CBS) at 12:15 p.m., EST. The Buffalo-San Diego game will be carried on network (NBC) at 4:30 p.m., EST.

Nassau in the Bahamas has three 18-hole golf courses. They are the par 73 Nassau Golf Club, par 70 Coral Harbour Golf Club and the par 72 Lyford Clay Golf Club. The latter is a private club.

Pitt Begins Search For Grid Coach

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The University of Pittsburgh began Wednesday its search for a new head football coach after John Michelosen was relieved of the job he held for 10 years.

"We will begin working on finding a new man this afternoon," said Frank Carver, Pitt's director of athletics after announcing that Michelosen had been relieved as coach and offered another job at the university.

Rumors that Michelosen would resign or be fired circulated for more than a week before Pitt closed out its dismal 3-7 season last Saturday by edging Penn State.

Mentioned in the speculation over a possible successor was Bud Wilkinson, former head coach at Oklahoma. Now a sports broadcaster, Wilkinson is known to want to get back into coaching.

No one at Pitt would comment on this, however.

Michelosen declined comment on the coaching change except to say:

"That's the way things happen sometimes." He said he had not decided whether to take another position with the university because he doesn't "know what it is yet."

Wilkinson's only comment, after being told about the Pitt coaching change late Wednesday: "I'm very happy doing what I'm doing."

Michelosen took over as head coach at the end of the 1954 season. In 10 years his teams had a 56-49-7 record.

Falcons Sell Tickets

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Atlanta Falcons, still without a coach or any star players, announced Wednesday they have sold 26,703 season tickets for their 1966 debut in the National Football League.

Providence To Quit

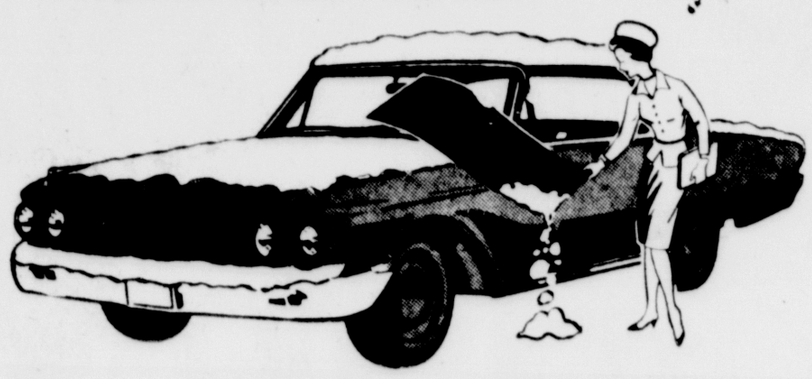

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — President David Haffenreffer of the Rhode Island Indians said the Continental Football League club will cease operations.

Haffenreffer blamed lack of public support for the team's financial downfall.

Former New York Yankee pitcher Spud Chandler has signed a two-year contract to scout for the Cleveland Indians.

Meets Oklahoma In Finale

Nebraska Last Finished Undefeated 50 Years Ago

By The Associated Press

There won't be any turkey served in college football stadiums on Thanksgiving, but the traditional rivals on the fields will be trying to knock the stuffing out of one another.

In most of the games there won't be anything at stake but pride, but there's always plenty of that in such rivalries as Texas-Texas A&M, Cornell-Pennsylvania and Virginia Tech-VMI

However, there will be more on the line at Lincoln, Neb., where Sugar Bowl-bound Nebraska will take on Oklahoma in quest of its third straight Big Eight title and first undefeated season in half a century.

The Cornhuskers, 9-0, also will be risking their No. 3 ranking in the game to be shown on national television, NBC, starting at 1:45 p.m., EST.

Traditional battles continue on Saturday and feature the Army-Navy and Auburn-Alabama games.

The latter rivalry will be more heated than usual because the winner will be the Southeastern Conference champion. Alabama, No. 5, will take a 7-1-1 record into the clash at Birmingham, Ala., Auburn is 5-3-1. Auburn accepted a bid Wednesday to play in the Liberty Bowl at Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 18.

In other Thanksgiving games, Colorado State University is at Tulsa, and Bucknell meets Davidson in a night game at Charlotte, N.C.

Former Dayton Belmont Star

Buckeyes Ready To Unveil Hosket, Best Since Lucas

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State, ready to unveil its most heralded sophomore since Jerry Lucas, looms as a darkhorse contender in the Big Ten basketball race this season.

Coach Fred Taylor's Buckeyes open their 1965-66 campaign Dec. 1 at Missouri and play four of their first five games on the road.

One of Ohio's opponents on a rugged 24-game slate is NCAA king UCLA. Taylor should know more about his squad after the Dec. 3 coast clash against the champions.

The kid who has Buckeye followers agog is Bill Hosket, the Dayton Belmont High School phenom rated as the finest prospect since the fabled Lucas.

Taylor, starting his eight campaign, is anxious to atone for last year's dismal finish when the Bucks closed with a 12-12 record and 6-8 in the conference.

The genial Buckeye coach was at the helm when Ohio either won or shared the league title an unprecedented five straight seasons.

"We think we could have a pretty good ball club," Taylor said.

"We have good over-all size, are stronger physically but not as quick as we'd like to be. I can tell you this—we'll be tougher defensively."

Taylor banks on six men to lead Ohio up to the heights again and admits that depth will be a major problem.

Among the stalwart returnees are Ron Sepic, the Uniontown, Pa., ace who has been switched to backcourt from a corner post.

The move is designed to let 6-foot-6 Andy Ahijevych and 6-7 Hosket man the forwards with 6-6 Bob Dove in the pivot.

Sepic will team with Al Rowley at the guards with veteran Al Peters ready to fill in where needed.

"We want to utilized Hosket in the corner because he shoots and drives well from that spot. We may have to use him in the pivot on defense, however," Taylor said.

Taylor labels Michigan as the team to beat in the Big Ten and rates Iowa, Michigan State and Northwestern as vastly improved.

Among the top Buck reserves are Jerry Tischer, Darrell Brautigam, Tom Glover, Kip Whitlinger, Marv Gregory and Del Richardson.

Newcomers include Mike Swain, Jack Walkey, Ted Bauer, Jerry Strauss and Terry Allen.

WVU And Ron Williams Favored In Conference

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Vanderbilt to repeat as champion in the Southeastern Conference, Duke to win the Atlantic Coast Conference and West Virginia to take the Southern Conference. That is the pre-season forecast in the South and Southeast for the college basketball season opening next week.

The return of six veterans, including 6-10 Clyde Lee, is the reason the Commodores are favored again to beat out Tennessee, Kentucky and Florida in the SEC. Vanderbilt had a 24-4 record last season, 15-1 in the league, and lost by only two points to Michigan in the NCAA playoffs.

Duke has four stars back in Steve Vacendak, Bob Verga, Jack Marin and Bob Riedy along with highly touted sophomore 6-9 Mike Lewis, and the Blue Devils aim to win the conference championship playoffs and qualify for the NCAA eliminations.

North Carolina State upset the Blue Devils in the conference playoffs last year and again may give them fits. Star Larry Lakins is gone, however, and his loss may hurt the Wolfpack. Duke also must look out for Maryland, which has all its starters returning.

West Virginia, which won the Southern Conference championship tourney last year despite a 14-15 record, has a new coach in Bucky Waters and several good sophs to go with six lettermen. Ron Williams is heralded as the best of the newcomers.

Davidson, 24-2 but upset in the Southern championship tourney, has lost four of its starters including All-America Fred Hetzel and isn't expected to do too much. William and Mary, surprise runner-up in the championship tourney, is considered the chief contender to West Virginia.

Western Kentucky is favored to beat out Tennessee Tech in the Ohio Valley conference. Virginia Tech, Miami of Florida, New Orleans Loyola and Georgia Tech loom the best of the major independents.

Indians Sign Three To Farm Club Teams

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians announced the signing of a catcher, a second baseman and a center fielder to Tribe farm teams Wednesday.

Signed to the Salinas Indians in the California League were catcher Paul Popovic of Gates Mills, Ohio, and center fielder Alfred Green of Coral Gables, Fla. Popovic played Class A ball in Cleveland.

Second baseman Salvadore Martinez was signed to the Dubuque, Iowa, farm team.

Telephone Co. Benefits Most From AFL's Draft

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If last year is any indication, the outfit that may profit most when the American Football League holds its annual draft will be the telephone company.

After keeping the phone lines open for 16 hours at last year's draft of the top college talent in the country, the AFL went on to sign eight of its first and second-round draft choices — and four have played a total time that wouldn't exceed a short teen-age phone conversation.

The National League, on the other hand, signed 20 of the players selected on the first and second round of its draft — and 11 have made considerable contributions to their teams, four have grabbed reserve berths and five have seen little or no action.

The biggest single factor depriving both leagues of their top choices has been injuries.

The leading loser is the AFL's Buffalo club, which signed both its No. 1 draft choice, Ohio State tackle Jim Davidson, and its No. 1 future selection, Louisiana State tackle Remi Prudhomme, and has not had the services of either for the entire season.

Davidson was injured in a pre-season game and Prudhomme was in a car accident.

Baylor receiver Larry Elkins, tapped by the Houston Oilers as the No. 1 pick in the league, has not played at all because of leg injuries. Ron Caveness, Arkansas linebacker taken on the second round by Kansas City, was used sparingly and now is out with a knee injury.

And John Huarte, Notre Dame quarterback and a second round selection of the New York Jets, has spent the entire season on the taxi squad.

Race Commission In W. Va. To Halt Passes To Tracks

CHARLESTON (AP) — The State Racing Commission has voted to end the practice of issuing free passes to horse race tracks in the state's northern and eastern panhandles.

Commission Chairman Joseph P. Condry said initially the passes were given to state government officials but "there has been a growing demand for the passes which has far exceeded the bounds of normalcy. . ."

With each pass worth $4, Condry said the tracks and the state lose significant revenue each time one is used.

The passes also represent "an aggravating administrative problem," Condry said. "In addition, there have been incidents of abuse in the use of such passes, including instances of counterfeiting and selling."

Condry said the commission passes will become invalid Jan. 1.

Assistant Of Stagg Claimed At Age 78

ST. JOSEPH, Mich. (AP) — Harland O. (Pat) Page, 78, whose athletic career earned him Hall of Fame stature, died Tuesday night at St. Joseph Memorial Hospital. He had been a patient since Nov. 14.

Page was an all-around athletic star at University of Chicago under the late Amos Alonzo Stagg and was an assistant to Stagg from 1910 to 1920. He later held head coach positions at Butler University, Indiana University and University of Idaho.

Joe Looks Like Million, Cited AFL Back Of Week

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — When Sonny Werblin gave Joe Namath $400,000 to sign with the New York Jets, people said no football player was worth that kind of dough. Well, don't bet on it.

Namath looked like a million in the bank Sunday when he threw four touchdown passes for the New York Jets in their 41-14 victory over the Houston Oilers.

As a result of that performance, his most productive as a pro, high school or college passer, Namath was named by The Associated Press the offensive Player of the Week in the American Football League.

Namath completed 17 of 26 passes for 221 yards while leading an offense that produced 522 yards. Matt Snell gained 135 yards on 19 carries and Bill Mathis 126 on 14 attempts.

"I felt all along the improvement would come," said Namath, who has started the last three games and played a major party in the Jets' four-game winning streak. In early season he had been playing behind Mike Taliaferro.

"He's just growing up," said Weeb Ewbank, coach of the Jets. "Joe is studying hard, learning patterns. He's making the right decisions on whether to run Snell or Mathis."

Spartans 286-Pounder Wins Lineman Honors

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Harold Lucas, a burly 22?-pound middle guard, has played a leading role this season in making the unbeaten, untied Michigan State Spartans the No. 1 college football team in the country.

The 6-foot-2 senior from Detroit demonstrated his defensive ability last Saturday in State's 12-3 victory over Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind. and Wednesday was named the Lineman of the Week by the Associated Press.

The 21-year-old Lucas has been termed the main stopper on the tough Spartan defense. Against Notre Dame Coach Duffy Daugherty's technique was to have the ends turn enemy runners into Lucas where he could hit them.

"He's the greatest I've ever seen in that position," Daugherty said Tuesday night at the banquet of the Rose-Bowl bound Spartans. "If he doesn't make a pro nobody should."

Lucas was anchor of Michigan State's awesome defensive line consisting of Bubba Smith, Don Bierowicz, Bob Viney and Al Owens, which held Notre Dame's fabled running attack to minus 12 yards on the ground.

Bill Wolski and Nick Eddy, two of Notre Dame's strongest runners, both were held to minus yardage.

It's 62-0, So Tulane Grid Coach Quits

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Tommy O'Boyle, who last weekend found himself in the very situation he said a man shouldn't get into quit Wednesday as Tulane's head football coach after four losing seasons.

O'Boyle succeeded Andy Pilney, who quit after the 1961 season when Louisiana State smashed Tulane 62-0.

"A man should never let himself get in position to get beat 62-0," O'Boyle said at the time.

Last Saturday Tulane closed out its 2-8 season by losing to LSU 62-0.

O'Boyle resigned in what "he believes to be the best interest of Tulane football," Yard said.

In O'Boyle's four seasons as head coach his teams won six games, lost 33 and tied one.

Sandy Koufax Cited

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Sandy Koufax, the hero of the Los Angeles' Dodgers' World Series victory, was named Wednesday as the S. Rae Hickok Professional Athlete of October.

Liberty Bowl Bid Accepted

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Auburn accepted Wednesday an invitation to play in the Liberty Bowl football game, and Mississippi shaped up as the odds-on choice to oppose the Plainsmen.

The game will be played Dec. 18 in Memphis.

A. F. (Bud) Dudley, Liberty Bowl president, announced Auburn's acceptance at a news conference and dropped a broad hint that the other team would be Ole Miss.

Dudley said he favored the Rebels, now 5-4, whether they "win, lose or draw" in their game with Mississippi State Saturday. However, Dudley said several other teams, including Tulsa, Texas Christian and Miami, remain on his list of possibilities.

Cincinnati Curbing Sale Of Toxic Glue

Ex-Local Man Hurt Fighting With Marines

Marine Cpl. Robert L. Walton of Steubenville, a former East Liverpool resident, is recuperating in a rear area in Viet Nam after having been wounded in action last Thursday.

He is the son of James R. Smith of 2141 Harvey Ave. and the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. George Walton of Steubenville, former residents here.

A crew chief on a helicopter, he suffered wounds of the right hand and arm when the helicopter was brought down by Viet Cong fire in a battle near Marble Mountain, according to information given the family in a telegram from the Defense Department.

The telegram gave some details of the action and rescue. This is the second helicopter he has served on that has been destroyed. Another was blown up about a month ago when guerillas made a sneak attack on an airfield.

Walton wrote home later saying that he took shelter in a foxhole and watched the helicopter burn while fighting the guerillas.

He has been in Viet Nam since June. He has a wife and two children in Steubenville.

This is the new snow tire approved for Highway Patrol cars. Because it can chase a crook at 90 mph on a snowless road...

and catch him.

U.S. Royal Winter Patrol™ (But you don't need a badge to buy one.)

Did you ever stop to think that a snow tire spends most of its life on snowless roads? That's why U.S. Royal's new snow tire was made to do a sweet, sustained 90 miles an hour . . . when there is no snow. And that's why it's approved for Highway Patrol Cars.
Of course, you may never want to go that fast on winter roads. But if you have to—you can.

Rails Spurt, Other Stocks Strengthened

NEW YORK (AP) — Rails went to new highs, adding their strength to aerospace issues, airlines and other glamour stocks with the result that the stock market advanced Wednesday despite weakness in a number of blue chips.

The Dow Jones industrial average had a gain of 2.39 at the end of the first hour but wiped this out to close unchanged at 948.94.

Other indicators, however, were unanimous in calling it a higher market. Gainers outnumbered losers by 654 to 490 among the 1,396 issues traded. New highs for the year outnumbered new lows by 113 to 29.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index rose .16 to a historic closing high of 91.94.

Analysts said that merger-minded rails seemed heartened greatly by a favorable court decision Monday on the projected Atlantic Coast Line-Seaboard Airline Railroad merger. New York Central, up 3⅜, and Pennsylvania, up 3⅝ also advanced.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks edged up .1 to 352.6 with industrials down 1.6, rails up 2.1 to a new high for the year and utilities off .5.

The Dow Jones rails advanced 3.11 to a record closing high of 240.89. Both Central and Pennsy attacted further buying by making an upside breakout in their price chart pattern, brokers said.

The air defense stocks were fueled again by the increasing costs of the Viet Nam hostilities and prospects of more government spending, said analysts, while the airlines continued to ride upward on their rising revenues.

The list of 15 most active stocks included 11 gainers, 3 losers and 1 unchanged, SCM Corp. Martin - Marietta topped the most-active list as it rose 2 to 23⅜ on 204,500 shares.

Eastern Air Lines advanced 2½, Thiokol rose 1⅝, Northrop ¾, Avco ½, United Air Lines 2¾, Boeing 1⅜, Zenith 1⅛, Polaroid 2½, Xerox 1½, Westinghouse Electric 1⅜.

Prices were irregularly higher on The American Stock Exchange. Volume was 2.94 million shares compared with 2.63 million Tuesday.

Auto Hits Truck, Hurting Man, 41

A 41-year-old city man suffered injuries when his truck was struck from behind on the Y. & O. Rd. at the intersection with Route 30 late Wednesday morning, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Albert J. Dray of 933 Bank St., employe of the Milligan Hardware & Supply Co., was treated at City Hospital for neck and shoulder bruises received when the truck, owned by the firm, was struck by a 1965 coach driven by George Thompson, 22, of Columbiana.

Officers said both drivers halted on the Y. & O. Rd. for the intersection. Both moved forward, but Dray halted and the car hit the rear of the truck, the patrol said.

Thompson was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Restaurant Beer Permit Revoked

Revocation of the beer license of the Mayfair Restaurant on Route 30 near Chester was announced today in Charleston by G. T. Davis Jr. of the West Virginia Beer Commission.

The action took place at a hearing last week in Charleston following charges of possession and sale of liquor and exhibiting gambling devices at the establishment.

A bond of $200 placed by the owner, James D. Burns, was forfeited, Davis said.

Man Will Go To Pen For Killing, Beating

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gus Coleman, 35, Rt. 1, Middleburg, Ky., was sentenced Wednesday to consecutive penitentiary terms for killing a woman and beating a man at a cafe in suburban Elmwood.

Coleman pleaded guilty in Hamilton common pleas court to charges of aggravated assault and first degree manslaughter.

He had been charged with second degree murder in the death of Mrs. Georgia Drew, 35, who was kicked last spring while she was fighting with another woman. The fight took place while Coleman was out on bond after being charged with aggravated assault for beating William Earl with a baseball bat, assistant prosecutor Fred J. Cartolano said.

Judge William J. Keating sentenced Coleman to one to 20 years in prison for manslaughter and one to seven years' imprisonment for aggravated assault.

Needs Cars — and Pick Ups, Too.

Must be exceptionally sharp. Will pay cash or if payments are too high we will trade back to older model and finance balance to be paid off. Why not trade your old car or high payment costly operating car back on a Volkswagen? All for no money down—just good credit. Up to 48 months to pay at bank rates. Volkswagen operates for approximately 1c per mile. It uses any regular gas and gets up to 36.3 miles per gallon at speeds between 30 to 50 miles per hour. It holds 3.5 pints of oil and transmission only holds 3.5 pints of gear lube. Tires?? We have a customer in Aliquippa with 88,000 miles on the original tires, one in East Liverpool with a 1957 Volkswagen with up to 95,000 miles before he bought his first tires. (Their names given upon request.) You can do this with proper rotation and inflation of the tires. New front fender costs only $18.95 and new rear fender costs only $14.95. Yes, we still have the compact with the lowest rates of any kind of insurance. Would you please check some compacts. Note that they are no longer compacts costing double any way you figure today. May our courteous salesmen prove what we say are true facts. We ask you to compare resale value of a Volkswagen. There is a small depreciation instead of the big costly operating car. Big depreciation on some models that you could purchase a like new Volkswagen. Do you know Volkswagen eliminates many costly items such as radiators, water pumps, anti-freeze, universal joints, etc. The motor is air-cooled, rear engine car. The weight is applied where it is needed most. Resulting that you go in the snow, mud, or sand. Rarely do you need sonw tires or chains. If kept serviced and cleaned an extra sharp car you can trade from year to year for what it would cost you on big costly cars with power steering, power brakes, power seats, and windows, antennae and automatic transmission. A Volkswagen starts at $1585 POE. You pay less and you save up to 50c on each $1 while driving a Volkswagen compared to a big costly car. Come in and see our salesmen — Don Harris, Dave Houk, Bob Lynch, and Curley Gibson. Let them show you the facts. Why don't you join the millions who are turning to economy by driving a Volkswagen as a first car or a second car for Mother, school teacher, salesmen, college students, mailmen and anyone going any distance to work. Think how long you sit in traffic and use so much gas going nowhere versus a Volkswagen sitting in traffic. Be our guest. Let us take you for a test drive and you be the judge. You will have the surprise of your life. See us for a free complete demonstration drive. May be inspect your car or any car at our Volkswagen garage? For Service call Paul Nelson or Parts Manager Earl King or Service Manager Bill Commella. Phone 775-4550 at Beaver Valley, "Your factory Volkswagen dealer."

Thanksgiving is not a day; it is a habit. We can not be thankful on Thanksgiving Day unless we have been learning how every other day in the year. There are some simple rules: Walk on the sunny side of the street; live as much as possible in the best room in the house; think about your friends, not your enemies; talk about your good luck, not your bad. These are some of the ways of acquiring the spirit of cheerfulness which is the only soil in which the flower Thanksgiving will grow. — JAMES M. FARR

Who Carves The Turkey?

The Thanksgiving Crisis

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The Thanksgiving crisis comes in millions of American homes when it is put upon the table.

It is a bird called a turkey, and it may weigh anywhere from 8 pounds to 30 or more.

It will be washed and plucked. Everybody in the family will come by and pat it fondly. Then it will be stuffed with sage and oysters and bread crumbs and put into the oven and basted and watched over until it turns a tender golden brown.

Then, accompanied by a myriad of vegetables, it will be placed upon the table by a wife whose warm-flushed face is a testimony of womanhood in glory.

As everybody stands around marveling, the wife will go into the kitchen and come back with a knife in her hand.

She will hold it out with a questioning look.

This is the hour of crisis.

This is the terrible moment of decision.

Who will carve the turkey?

This is the time that separates the man from his performance.

"You do it, Joe," says the host to a guest.

"Naw, Jim," replies the guest to the host. "You do it."

They face each other with a look of equal cunning and equal dismay.

Each knows that if he takes the knife he will make a fool of himself—and of the festive occasion.

They may be chefs, butchers, brain surgeons, plumbers or lawyers.

But each knows, whatever his talent, it is inadequate now.

He knows that, if he accepts the knife, it will turn out to be dull. He will find the turkey tough. He will sweat and strain and wish he could attack the bird with a Boy Scout ax or put a dynamite cap in its middle and blow its junctures apart in a shower of gravy.

Finally, the hostess says in pretended exasperation:

"Well, you men! I don't know what the world is coming to. Sit down now, and I'll serve you."

Sighting in relief, the men sit down and shuffle their feet under their chairs, and the ladies sit down, too, and say ladylike things to each other such as, "My, doesn't the table look lovely?"

The hostess takes up the knife and skillfully attacks the bird. Swiftly she apportions the meat to the plates, and one of the children meekly suggests, "Shouldn't we say grace first?"

"You say it, Jim," says the guest to the host, knowing what the answer will be.

"No, Joe," says the host to the guest. "You say it."

"Okay," says Joe, lowering his eyes. "O Lord, we thank thee for Thy peace and fellowship at this table and...uh...what we are about to receive, forever and ever. Amen."

There is a moment of silence, as each guest reviews his blessings, and then Jim says rather loudly:

"Hey, that was okay, Joe. What'll you have—light or dark or both?"

And the flushed and smiling hostess, too excited herself to eat, sits before the turkey like an angel with a sword, ready to serve more.

There is plenty for all.

High Court Declines Review Of Contempt Reversal Cases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court refused today to review reversal of contempt convictions for 14 witnesses who declined to answer questions during a 1963 gambling investigation by the Mahoning County Grand Jury.

Vincent Prato and the others invoked Ohio and federal constitutional provisions against testifying against themselves to support their silence.

The 7th District Appellate Court reversed trial court convictions on grounds that "in the absence of complete immunity granted a witness, a trial court can only punish for contempt for refusal to answer non-incriminating questions of a grand jury."

County Prosecutor Clyde Osborne contended that immunity laws deal only with misdemeanors and "therefore immunity was complete."

"The purpose of these statutes is to force upon the reluctant witness an acceptance of their responsibilities under the law whether they want to or not. When the interest of justice and society demand it, the individual who has been given complete immunity can and should be found in contempt for a failure to answer even incriminating questions."

The three dogs used most today as duck retrievers are Labradors, Chesapeakes and golden retrievers.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 13-year-old girl with a problem you never have heard before. I have a boy friend who is also 13, very good-looking and nice. I get to see him in the evening about twice a week outside of seeing him every day at school.

Yesterday my girl friend (who is 14) asked me how I was getting along with Tom. When I told her "just fine" she asked if I had let him get to second base yet. I didn't want to seem dumb so I just smiled but I really don't know what second base means.

She looked at me kind of funny and said, "I can tell by your answer that Tom is still at first base."

I hope you won't think this problem is too dumb to answer. I know the facts of life but I don't know what this base stuff is all about. Please smarten me up. — STUMPED IN STAMFORD.

-:-

Dear Stumped: Maybe the bases are numbered differently in Stamford than they were in Iowa where I grew up. But no matter what the numbering system may be I strongly recommend that you get out of the lineup and stay on the bench for a couple years. Errors can be mighty costly, Toots.

Deluged With Junk

Dear Ann: The season of "worthy causes" is upon us and I'm sick to death of it. Please, please tell us what to do when boxes of unordered merchandise come to the house.

A few years ago I was softhearted (and soft in the head, too) because I sent a "donation" for a couple of items—not that I needed them but because the charity sounded like a worthy one.

Is it true that once you get on a sucker list you are stuck because one outfit sells the names to another? I think it must be true because I've been deluged with junk from all sides.

I am sick of paying postage to return stuff I didn't order. My neighbor says I do not have to return anything. My husband says I do.—FISH.

-:-

Dear Fish: You need not return the merchandise. Don't use it, however. Throw it out.

Mother Of Seven

Dear Ann: My one and only precious daughter, Lila, has seven gorgeous children. She also has a devoted husband who is an excellent provider—something I never had.

I've always been self-supporting and still am. I had to go to work when Lila was a baby so I was denied the pleasure of staying at home and enjoying her formative years but I feel very close to her now.

Now Lila wants to work as an aide in a nursing home "to prove herself," she says. What in heaven's name she is trying to prove is beyond me. Don't you feel that a woman with seven marvelous children has proved enough?

Perhaps she got this crazy idea because her youngest started school this fall and for the first time in 18 years her nest is empty. I feel that nurse's aide work would be degrading to a woman of her social status. What do you say?—MASSACHUSETTS MOTHER.

Dear Mother: There's an old Haitian proverb, "Shoes alone know if the stockings have holes." And what you don't know about your daughter, even though you think you are "very close," would fill a book.

It's how Lila feels that matters, and obviously she feels unfulfilled. There is nothing degrading about serving the sick—in any capacity.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Conscription More The Rule Than The Exception

Young Men Face Draft World Over

LONDON (AP) — From Moscow to Jerusalem to Saigon, young men face the same problem that provokes discussion in the United States — the military draft.

Conscription is more the rule than the exception in a deeply divided world, a survey shows.

Britain, Canada, India and Pakistan are among the few big countries that rely solely on voluntary enlistments. Quarreling India and Pakistan lack officers or equipment to handle the hundreds of thousands who would enlist if they could.

Israel, surrounded by hostile Arab countries, drafts both men and women. In Mexico, training is on a Sunday-only basis.

The United States draws from men in the 19-26 age group, with Selective Service to furnish 36,-450 men this month. Thats the highest call since the end of the Korean War and some states expect to start inducting childless married men to fill their December quotas. Washington plans to strengthen the military forces by 340,000 men for a total of about three million.

How does the U.S. conscription policy compare with those of other countries? Tougher than some, more lenient than others, the following survey of representative countries indicates:

SOVIET UNION — Strict universal military training calls for induction of all youths 17 and 18 who have completed secondary school. When they reach 19, they're drafted even if they have not finished secondary school, but college students are exempt. Draftees must serve two to five years, depending on the branch to which they are assigned.

Draftees' pay is $3.30 per month. Leaves are granted only for emergencies or outstanding service.

BRITAIN — With neither universal military training nor a conscription system, Britain took its last draftees in 1960. Since then the regular army has been below strength. It is now 15,000 under the goal of 181,000 men. Britain's Territorial Army is the reserve force, composed entirely of volunteers, mostly former servicemen.

FAR EAST — South Vietnamese youths face three years of military service under a draft law that covers all men 18-35. The women's army corps is voluntary.

In India and Pakistan, food uniforms and housing made military service such a privilege there is no need for conscription. India could raise an army of millions if it had the equipment and training cadre; Pakistan's applicants for service exceed the number that can be accepted.

Japan's Self-Defense Force of 245,000 men is voluntary and conscription is virtually outlawed since the national constitution bars war as an instrument of national policy.

Red China has a bottomless pool of manpower to draw upon. Its selected standing military force is estimated at 3.5 million men and available standby militia is estimated at 20 to 30 million men and women. The militia usually is poorly armed and sometimes not given arms at all except for training purposes. Under Mao Tze-tung's military theories "all the people are soldiers."

Nationalist China on Formosa has much the same draft system as the United States. Everyone is subject to call-up at 18 but college students get deferments and can take reserve officer training. Compulsory service in the army is for two years, and the navy and air force require three years because of technical training.

DOWN UNDER — Australia and New Zealand are gradually boosting their military training programs. Australia, with troops fighting guerrillas in Southeast Asia, will draft 4,200 men for two years of military service this year. The 1966 target is double that figure.

New Zealand has a national military training program, but only about a fifth of the eligible youths are summoned into the Territorial Force. This is not normally employed in military operations but would be integrated with regular troops in an emergency. Youths register when they reach 20 and selection is by lot.

Some 3,000 New Zealanders are inducted per year, out of an estimated 15,000 who are eligible, to maintain the force at 10,-000 men.

MIDEAST — Tiny Israel has possibly the most sweeping military training programs. It requires military training for men and unmarried women 18-26. Men serve 26 months, women 20. Men 27-29 must serve 24 months.

After completing their terms, the men remain in the reserves until they are 49, childless women to the age of 34. As reservists, the men report for 31 days of training a year until they are 40 and then 14 days annually until they reach 49.

WESTERN EUROPE — France, Germany and Italy all use military training to augment their regular forces. The West German youth is liable for 18 months of duty when he reaches 18, and nearly all of those eligible are being taken now since the birth rate was down after World War II. Because of health requirements, deferments for university students and other exemptions, only 55-60 per cent of those eligible would be taken normally.

France has universal military training with youths at 19 subject to 18 months' active duty, plus 3½ years of availability plus 12 years in the active reserves. In 1965, the pool of men reaching draft age was 400,000; about half were conscripted.

Italy has had the draft since 1870 and the present law makes males eligible for induction at 20 and subject to recall until they are 45. Men taken in the army or air force serve 15 months; the navy term is 24.

LATIN AMERICA — Mexico's Sunday-only training program for youths may be expanded, but not because anyone's worried about war. Those favoring a plan that would draft some youths into the army for one year argue that it would curb juvenile delinquency, teach patriotism and literacy, and relieve unemployment. Mexico's World War II draft was dropped because of the cost.

A lottery system draws 60,000 Argentine youths into uniform each year, with army and air force draftees serving a year and navy conscripts two years. The Argentine Congress recently lowered the conscription age to 18. Students who qualify in marksmanship are given three months of summer training in place of full-time service.

Brazilian males register at 16 and are subject to call two years later.

Holiday Events Are Planned By Chester Legion

Several holiday events were announced at the meeting of Chester American Legion Post 121 Monday night at the post.

Robert House, second vice commander, reported that the monthly social night will be held Dec. 3 rather than Dec. 10, as previously scheduled.

Other upcoming events include a smorgasbord Dec. 11, open to all Legion members and guests; a Christmas party for Chester children Dec. 17; a New Year's Eve party, and open house on New Year's Day.

House also reported on the recent Veterans Day dance and announced that the post will sponsor a bus to the Steelers-Brown football game Sunday.

Charles W. Morris, adjutant, in reporting on the progress of the membership drive, said that 50 per cent of the 1966 goal has been attained. Dale K. Allison gave a progress report on the remodeling of the grill room and added that a new sign has been placed in front of the post home.

Further nominations to the board of directors were made. The election will be held in December.

Comdr. John Fred Morris presided. He reminded members that only one meeting will be held in December. It will be Dec. 13 at the home.

City Workers Due Pay Boost In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — There's good news for city employes—Cincinnati's proposed budget for next year includes $650,000 for long-sought wage increases.

City Manager William C. Wichman submitted the $70,784,-190 budget to council Tuesday, noting that operating expenses will be $165,220 less than this year's.

The main reason for the decrease is due to a new state welfare program that goes into effect next year. As a result, the city's poor relief costs have been cut to $1.5 million, about half of this year's figure.

Officials say the savings will be enough to give some 5,-700 employes increase of more than 2 per cent.

Tulsa led the nation's major colleges in 1964 in scoring with 38.4 points a game, total offense with 461.8 yards a game, passing at 317.9 and set an all-time record with 34 touchdown passes.

Youth Admits Setting Fire Killing Seven

SUNBURY, Pa. (AP) — A 17-year-old boy says he shot his parents, then set fire to a house that killed seven younger brothers and sisters because he wanted to collect insurance to pay off debts, police report.

State Police Capt. John C. Grey said the youth, Harold Bordner, made the oral statement Tuesday from his hospital bed.

Another official, Coroner Henry F. Ulrich, quoted Bordner as saying: "I wanted to pay my bills. I thought it would be better this way."

Earlier in the day the grief-stricken father, Paul, 38, attended graveside services for his seven children—Cindy, 8; Jerry, 7; Stephen 6; Roger, 5; John, 4; Ruby, 3, and Dennis, 1. The father received minor wounds from shotgun pellets.

All were buried in a single casket at Northumberland Memorial Park Cemetery in central Pennsylvania.

Harold Bordner, his parents and five other children suffered burns in the fire Saturday night at their two-story log house in the nearby tiny rural community of Herndon. All but the father remained hospitalized.

Mrs. Bordner, 39, was listed in serious condition. Ulrich said she asked her son about the shooting.

"Who shot me Harold?" Mrs. Bordner asked.

"I did," Ulrich said Harold replied. "I though I could get rid of you, mom."

Capt. Grey did not elaborate on Bordner's financial problems. He said the youth admitted the incident after being confronted with evidence.

The officer said Harold admitted shooting his parents while they lay in bed. Then, Grey continued, Harold said he tossed gasoline into an enclosed stairway leading to the upstairs bedrooms and ignited it. The children who died were asleep upstairs.

PTA Project Set In Beaver Local

A committee for improvement of the Beaver Local Public School playground was named during a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Monday night at the school.

Miss Mildred Wise was appointed chairman of the committee, which includes Mrs. Delmar Harrold, Douglas Steebner, Robert Smith and Ernest MacKenzie.

Thirty attended the meeting at which William Smith, board of education member, screened slides of a 1957 trip to Russia.

Donald Elliott, president, was in charge. Because of the holidays, there will be no meeting in December. The next meeting will be Jan. 4.

THAT SOGGY FEELING. Tradition has it that a track meet is never called because of rain. In Stuttgard, Germany, this pole vaulter would just as soon forget about tradition and get out of the water.

Belgian Court Mourns Death Of Queen, 89

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The Belgian court went into mourning today for Dowager Queen Elisabeth, a heroine in two world wars and one of Europe's leading patronesses of the arts.

The 89-year-old queen suffered a heart attack Nov. 4. She had another serious attack Tuesday night and died within a few minutes.

Elisabeth was the widow of King Albert, the mother of former King Leopold III and the grandmother of the reigning monarch, King Baudouin. Former Queen Marie Jose of Italy is her daughter, and Grand Duchess Josephine-Charlotte of Luxenbourg is a granddaughter.

Although born a German princess, she won the hearts of the Belgians during the two wars in which her native country was the enemy.

"An iron curtain has fallen between my country and me," she said when German troops invaded Belgium in World War I. She nursed the wounded in the trenches and was awarded the French War Cross for her "courage and devotion under enemy fire."

In World War II she defied the Nazis and succeeded in staying in Belgium when the retreating Germans removed the royal family to Germany.

A violinist, pianist, painter and sculptress, she sponsored one of the world's top musical contests, the Queen Elisabeth competition, and founded or assisted 175 artistic, charitable and scientific foundations and institutions.

Noted for her independence, she was sometimes called the "Red Queen" because she sponsored the Communist-front Belgo-Soviet Friendship Association and showed sympathy toward the Soviet Union and Communist China.

She traveled to the Soviet Union when she was 82 and told Premier Nikita Khrushchev he was a "marvelous man." She also visited Red China and expressed admiration for Mao Tze-tung.

Elisabeth was born July 7, 876, at Possenhofen Castle in Bavaria, the second daughter of Duke Karl Theodor of Bavaria and Infanta Marie Jose of Portugal.

In 1900, she married Albert, heir to the Belgian throne. The couple took the throne in 1909 and ruled until 1934, when the king was killed in a mountain climbing accident.

Crown Prince Leopold succeeded his father but was forced to abdicate in favor of Baudouin after World War II.

Elisabethville, the capital of Katanga Province in the old Belgian Congo, was named after Elisabeth when it was founded as a mining camp in 1910.

Last April, she became the first woman to be elected to the French "Institut de France," a top scientific and artistic body.

U.S. Warned On Hope For Early Victory

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland warned the American people today against hope for an early military victory over the Communists in the Vietnamese War.

In an interview with Mutual Broadcasting System, the commander of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam said:

"When the American people read the headlines about victories which have been enjoyed in recent months. . .there may be a tendency for them to exaggerate the magnitude of these actions. By and large, these tactical actions are small, involving relatively small numbers of troops and from these successes there may be a tendency to draw a conclusion that a battle or series of battles may end the conflict through a single or a combination of military victories.

"This is not that type of war. I do believe that there is a certain danger that we may be overwhelmed by a certain feeling of optimism and may lose sight of what I consider a true appraisal of the situation. It involves a long conflict and we must be prepared to accept this."

On the other hand, Westmoreland said that the big U.S. troop buildup has "brought an air of optimism" to the Vietnamese.

At the same time, he said North Vietnamese troops are infiltrating into South Viet Nam on a daily bais and that the United States must be prepared to meet this challenge.

What To Do With It On Friday?

That Leftover Turkey

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —What to do with leftover turkey?

This is the problem that will face many American families Friday.

Unlike a chicken, which quits growing when there is enough of it to satisfy anybody, a turkey is an architectural extravaganza.

People have been saying for some time that something ought to be done about the turkey, the wattled token of the noblest of American holidays—Thanksgiving.

As a matter of fact, something is being done about the turkey. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, whose bulletins I recommend as a remedy for middle-aged insomnia, the turkey is getting both larger and smaller.

I understand it now ranges in weight at maturity from eight to 75 pounds.

In our upside down civilization the size of the turkey on the Thanksgiving table is a status symbol.

The richer you are the smaller the turkey you order—and the more per pound you pay for it.

The poorer you are, the larger the turkey you buy—and the less per pound you pay for it.

The rich don't have much of a problem. They eat their turkey at a single meal, then sail the bones out their penthouse window and start looking forward to Christmas.

The poor, as ususl, are stuck. To begin with, their turkey is so large that the children sprain their wrists trying to break the wishbone.

Their ordeal begins the day after Thanksgiving. What to do with leftover turkey?

For several days a wife can dice it and hash it. After that her husband and kids refuse to have anything to do with it. The dog won't eat it. The cat walks away from it.

Things that can be done:

It can be ground up and mixed with starch and used as wallpaper paste.

You can be patriotic about it, and offer it to the U.S. Navy as ballast.

You can wrap it in anonymous paper and mail it as a CARE package to wealthy friends.

On some dark midnight you can take it out and bury it in the back yard, muttering as you do so, "No one knows the real troubles of poverty."

Then, if you buckle down and work real hard, maybe by next Thanksgiving you can earn enough money to afford a smaller turkey.

...ne Not Same For Vietnamese, Go-Go American

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — In Viet Nam the clock stands still and there is no repairman in sight. Time is not the same thing to a Vietnamese and a go-go-go American.

The American, anxious for an end to the killing, is baffled by the war's slow pace, the lack of any sign the North Vietnamese Communists want to talk peace.

But the Vietnamese as a people have been around longer than Americans and they learned to wait through centuries of trouble. They were in Southeast Asia before the Christian era.

The Chinese, taking them over in 111 A.D., held them in vassalage more than eight centuries before the Vietnamese shook loose. Meanwhile, through the centuries, they warred among themselves.

They defeated the armies of Kublai Khan in the 13th century, were taken as a colony by the French in the 19th and held about three-quarters of a century.

The Japanese drove out the French in World War II and the Vietnamese, under the Communist leadership of Ho Chi Minh, began fighting the French return in 1945 and never stopped until they crushed the French in 1954.

No wonder the North Vietnamese, with this endless history of waiting and dragged-out fighting, are not pleading for peace because the United States bombs them and steadily builds up its forces in a ground war.

Perhaps some U.S. officials, who made quick survey trips to Viet Nam in recent years and came back drenched in optimism, also are baffled that they could be so ludicrously wrong.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara made a number of trips to Viet Nam, several times returned with rosy forecasts, and as late as January 1964 predicted U.S. forces could be withdrawn by the start of 1966.

He added: "I do not believe we as a nation should assume the primary responsibility for the war." That was before the United States got fully into the war and took on the responsibility.

As for his prediction on the withdrawal of U.S. forces: now the United States has at least 160,000 men there, within a few months may have 200,000.

For weeks there has been buzzing about whether the Communists might have been willing to talk peace and whether President Johnson muffed the chance. Last April he proposed peace talks, without any prior conditions for starting them.

But Ho Chi Minh has just made hash of the suggestion.

The Red Chinese Tuesday quoted him as saying there can't even be a start to such talks until all American forces are withdrawn from Viet Nam. This would mean American surrender to the Communists, a defeat.

Thus, while Johnson said there did not have to be prior conditions, Ho Chi Minh laid down conditions — the withdrawal of all American forces. At this moment there is nothing in sight but a war dragging on

Hid From Reds 7 Days

Copter Plucks Wounded Yank From Viet Jungle

PLEIKU, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. helicopter plucked a wounded American soldier from the Ia Drang Valley jungle today after he had hidden there for seven days from North Vietnamese troops.

Pfc. Toby Braveboy, 24, of Coward, S.C., underwent a 30-minute operation at a U.S. field hospital in Pleiku for multiple bullet wounds.

He was pronounced in satisfactory condition tonight.

Braveboy was gunned down during the ambush of the 7th Cavalry Regiment's 2nd Battalion early Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 17.

A scout helicopter was flying over the valley in the central highlands this afternoon when the crew saw a man waving his tee shirt.

They swooped down and picked him up.

Brveboy was wounded in the chest, arms and hands. Maj. Philip Warner of Los Angeles operated on him.

"Braveboy was quite dehydrated and emaciated," said Warner, "but his medical condition was good. The amazing thing about this from a medical point of view was that he was not in worse shape."

Warner refused to let newsmen interview the soldier.

"He needs a good night's sleep," the doctor said.

Braveboy gave Warner and his company commander, Capt. Joel Sugdinis of Cornwall Bridge, Conn., this account of his experience:

The North Vietnamese launched what the Carolinian thought was a company-sized assault against his small group of troops. He and his buddies were overrun.

Braveboy, wounded severely played dead as a group of North Vietnamese soldiers came through the jungle toward them. Braveboy was splattered by blood when the Communists decapitated the soldier lying next to him.

Some time later, Braveboy's own life was saved by the compassion of a young North Vietnamese soldier. The Vietnamese came up and peered at him closely. Apparently thinking he might still be alive, he raised his rifle toward the wounded American.

Braveboy remembers raising his arm. The young Vitnamese lowered his rifle and walked off into the jungle.

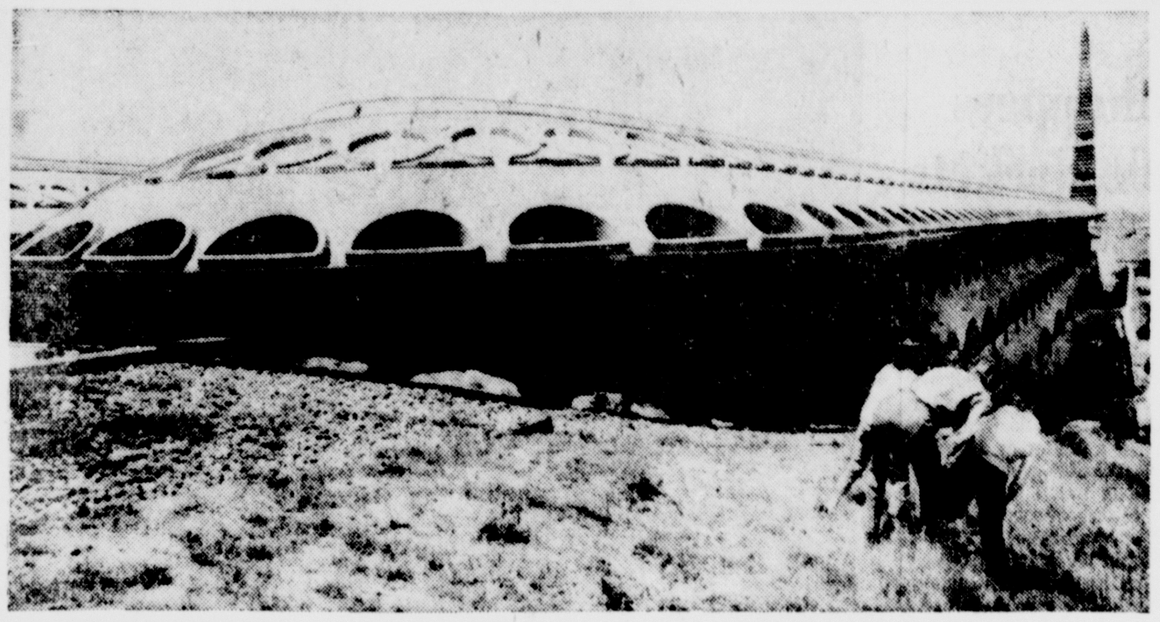

Braveboy had nothing to eat during his long vigil in the jungle. But he got water from a stream near where he lay.

7 Of Church Warned On Disturbing Service

CINCINNATI (AP) — Seven members of Revelation Baptist Church have been warned against disturbing services at the church in the future.

The warning came from Municipal Judge George S. Heitzler who Tuesday acquitted the seven of disorderly conduct charges filed after a hassle Oct. 17 while the Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth was conducting services.

Part of the congregation of 800 is criticizing Shuttlesworth's handling of church money and accusing the civil rights leader of running the church like a dictator.

Radeschi Issues Hints

Businessmen, Shoppers Warned On Yule Rackets

The holiday season is one of the warmest spirited, happiest times of the year, but merchants, shoppers and householders should realize that petty thieves, confidence men and burglars take advantage of the hustle and bustle to reap one of their biggest harvests from the unwary, Police Chief J. Radeschi warned today.

The chief issued a series of hints designed to cut down on the thievery, swindling and burglary that always mark the season.

RADESCHI warned that passers of counterfeit currency and fraudulent checks always are especially active in the rush period. Merchants should instruct their clerks to check large - denomination bills carefully and not to cash a check unless they know the endorser personally or the check has been approved by the management, he said.

If a clerk suspects he has been handed a phony bill or a bad check, he should attempt to delay the passer until someone else can notify the police department by telephone, the chief added. Short - change artists also are active, he warned. They make a specialty of confusing clerks with glib talk and walking away with their own money and some of the store's as well.

Clerks also should be instructed to be watchful for shop-lifters, as crowds provide good "cover" for petty thievery, Radeschi warned.

Merchants should not keep large amounts of cash in their business places overnight, the chief said. Such a practice is an invitation to burglary. The police department will be glad to provide an escort to a bank's night depository if the management will make the request, he said.

Before locking up the store for the day, the businessman should check restrooms and other out-of-the-way spots to be certain a thief is not in hiding, waiting to loot the building, the chief said. Businessmen should make certain all their doors and windows are locked and the entrances of the store as well as the interior are well - lighted.

SHOPPERS should not carry unusually large amounts of money — only the sum they feel they will need for purchases— the chief said, explaining that pickpockets take advantage of crowds to ply their trade. He also had this advice:

Women should not leave their purses unwatched on a counter while examining merchandise, as this provides a perfect opportunity for a thief to remove the currency and escape undetected.

When placing purchases in an unattended parked car, they should be locked in the trunk and not scattered on the seats in plain view as an invitation to theft. Even though an auto is locked, a skilled thief can gain entry in a matter of moments.

When possible, autos should be parked in well - lighted areas as a further discouragement to theft or vandalism.

Thieves recognize that many families are away from home on evenings in the holiday season and take advantage of the fact to loot households of valuables.

When leaving home for the evening, the family should leave the house well - lighted to help discourage intruders, also making certain that all doors and windows are locked securely. The garage doors should not be left open, as the fact the family car is missing sometimes provides a tip to burglars, he added.

Large amounts of cash or valuable jewelry should not be kept on the premises as an invitation to thievery.

Cleveland State U. Okays Three New Buildings

CLEVELAND (AP) — Trustees of Cleveland State University gave preliminary approval today to the construction of three new buildings, costing $36 million.

The trustees said the architectural appointments have the approval of State Architect Carl Benz.

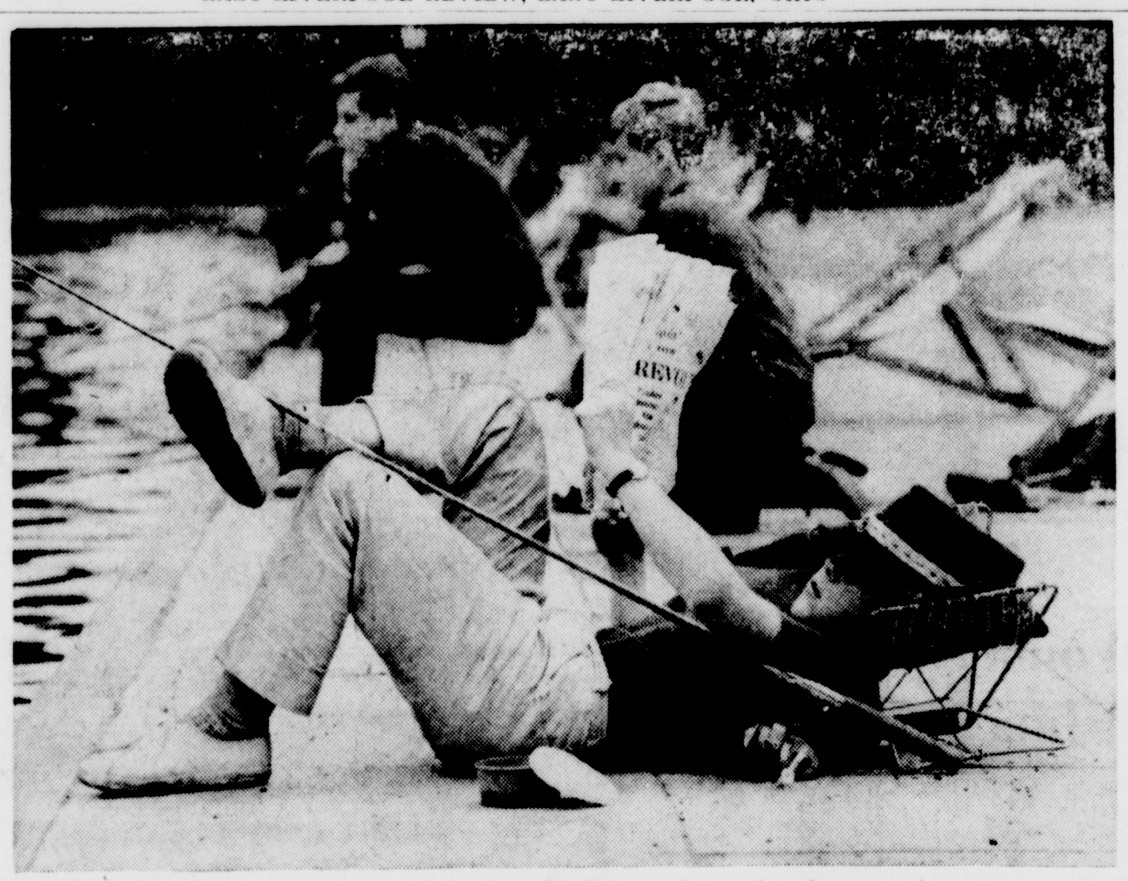

The new structures will be located on a seven-acre parking lot in downtown Cleveland which the university is in the process of acquiring from Albert A. Levine.

Included in the educational building project are an undergraduate library-faculty building, a classroom and lecture center and a general administration building.

Largest of the three contracts is for the library building which will cost $14,755,000.

Trustees also said they will operate branches in Lakewood, Euclid and Bedford and that they will close down Kent State University branches of John Adams and John Marshall High School in downtown Cleveland.

CSU has taken over the branch operations of Kent State and Ohio State University and will maintain the programs in three suburbs.

Woman Claimed To Ignore State Fire Marshal's Order

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff Wednesday set a hearing Wednesday, Dec. 8, for Miss Dorothy B. Forster of 752 Dresden Ave., accused of failure to obey the order of a deputy state fire marshal which instructed her to tear down or repair a "dilapidated" two - story frame home at 530 College St. which she owns.

Miss Forester was granted a continuance at the request of her counsel, John B. McDonald. She was released on her own recognizance.

Asst. Fire Chief Alfred R. VanDyne filed the affidavit Monday, alleging that the fire marshal's order was issued on Oct. 15 directing Miss Forster to repair or raze the building within 30 days. A copy of the order was attached to the affidavit.

The assistant fire chief's affidavit alleges that Miss Forster, "being the owner of premises at 530 College St., wilfully failed, neglected and refused to comply with" the order.

The fire marshal's order said that the "building is in a dilapidated condition, the foundation is caving in, the roof is partially torn off and unsafe, the windows are broken out, the doors are torn from their hinges, the plaster is off the walls of the rooms, trees and weeds create a serious situation and there are large stones on the sidewalk, making walking difficult."

Miss Forster did not enter a plea. She was accompanied to the bench by her counsel while the charge was read and the judge then asked the usual question: "Do you understand what you are charged with?"

"No, we don't, your honor," the attorney replied. "We did not have a chance to read the affidavit or the warrant until five minutes ago, when it was waved under the defendant's nose by some officer."

He asked a continuance to allow him to examine the affidavit and indicated he may file a motion to quash the evidence and the charge. The judge granted the continuance and released the defendant on her own recognizance.

Court Cites Landlady For Discrimination

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A landlady who refused to rent an apartment to a Negro, has been ordered by Circuit Court not to rent it to anyone else.

Judge J. Robert Lacey acted on a motion filed by the State Civil Rights Commission.

'Great Potential' For Ohio Markets Seen In Europe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A "tremendous po'ential" for Ohio markets in the European market is seen by State Treasurer John D. Herbert.

Herbert, who accompanied Gov. James A. Rhodes and a trade mission to Europe recently, said today he was "astounded" by the amount of business the 60 members of the mission accomplished.

Herbert, at a press conference with Development Chief Fred Neuenschwander, said there were many inquiries about products which were not represented among the Ohio businessmen on the mission.

"The group did more business in London than they expected to do on the entire trip," Herbert said. "This was true all along the trip. It was astounding."

He predicted it "wouldn't take much of an effort" of Ohio, with $1.5 billion in exports, to move ahead of New York, which is first in the nation with $1.7 billion in exports.

Glenn Dobbs, Tulsa head coach, was an outstanding pro and one of the top passers in Missouri Valley Conference history. But his son, Glenn Dobbs III, chose Tulsa because his dad hired Sammy Baugh as an assistant.

David Rodenhausen, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Albert Rodenhausen of 1034 Bradshaw Ave., is among 22 students at Alderson - Broaddus College at Philippi, W. Va., who will leave Friday for three months in Austria.

Rodenhausen, 21, a history major, and the other students will attend the University of Salzberg at Salzberg for regular courses and will visit throughout the area.

The program is part of the college's special "off - campus experience" projects and is designed to acquaint the students with the people and cultures of other lands.

The group will leave New York by plane Friday. The young people will stay in Austrian homes on weekends and plan visits to Switzerland and other cities in Austria.

Gambling Called Only Part Of Uglier Setup

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Organized gambling in Connecticut is only part of a larger and uglier criminal operation, the governor's committee on gambling reported.

"If the people want to combat the evils of organized crime," the committee report said, "they will have to start by refusing to fill the criminal coffers with their 25 cent bets on numbers and their $2 bets on horses."

You And The Law

It any court in your county is ever destined to enter the life of you or your family, it is the Probate Court. This court serves as a consultation center on numerous human problems, performing a combination of administrative and judicial functions.

In fact, it could be said that it is almost inevitable that the Probate Court will affect your family, since this court handles your will.

THE JURISDICTION of the Probate Court also includes such matters as the adoption of children, appointment and supervision of guardians and administrators, issuance of marriage licenses, actions for change of name and commitments to state mental institutions, to name only a few.

The Probate Courts were established by the Ohio Constitution in 1851. At present, one or more are authorized per county, but only Cuyahoga County has two. In some counties, the Probate Court is merged with the Common Pleas Court, provided the county population is less than 60,000. Currently this situation exists in Adams, Henry, Morrow and Wyandot counties.

The law prohibits the Probate Court judge or his deputies from giving legal advice or preparing papers. It is, therefore, advisable to consult an attorney on any probate matter since statutes, tax requirements, questions of title, etc., are becoming more complex every year.

COSTS IN this court are fixed by law and cannot be waived. These must be paid at the time of filing papers, with all costs collected being paid into the county treasury.

As mentioned, the Probate Court is directly involved in the handling of wills. It determines whether the will presented is in fact the will actually drawn by you. If there is doubt as to its meaning, the court will construe the terms of the will. If necessary, it will appoint administrators and executors to handle your estate.

The Probate Court is also given the power to issue writs of habeas corpus. It determines if a prisoner was properly arrested and is being detained according to the law.

Ruler Of Kuwait Claimed; Brother To Succeed Him

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Kuwait's ruler, Sheikh Abduallah As-Salim As Sabah, died Wednesday, Kuwait radio announced.

Death followed a heart attack suffered late last month, the announcement said.

Crown Prince Sheikh Sabah El Salem El-Sabah, a younger brother, was proclaimed ruler of the oil sheikhdom by the Council of Ministers, it said.

The crown prince has been premier of Kuwait, whose oil wealth makes it the richest country per capita in the world.

Abdullah had ruled Kuwait since its independence from Britain in 1961.

Under his rule, the sandy little country became a democracy with an elected Parliament. In 1963, he enrolled the sheikdom in the United Nations.

The emir was 70 years old, but his portly bearing, gray hair and beard made him appear much older.

Abdullah had been called one of the world's richest men. He gave away much of his personal fortune but still remained a millionarie from Kuwait's tremendous oil royalties estimated at $600 million a year.

IT'S INEVITABLE. These tom turkeys cast a wary eye at the ax and chopping block, seemingly knowing their fate. Thanksgiving means they will be guests at someone's table.

Ounce Of Prevention

Fires and Burns

Burns are the No. 2 home accident killer. Some 75 per cent of the fatalities are among children and the aged.

It is estimated by the area Red Cross that for every fatality there are 100 serious injuries.

Fires and the injuries they cause result from careless smoking habits and use of matches; misuse of electrical equipment such as overloading of circuits, defective wiring and appliances; faulty heating equipment with defective controls, wiring or defective chimneys and flues; placement of combustible materials near unprotected heaters or open fires, and careless use of flammable cleaning materials.

FIRE SUPERHEATS the surrounding air and may result in the generation of toxic gases.

In addition to burns inflicted by the fire to the body surface, serious damage can be done to the respiratory system by the inhalation of superheated air.

Very serious burns can be fatal.

Short of this, with blisters and skin destruction there is the danger of infection. Shock can occur with severe burns. Sometimes permanent disability scarring, long and costly hospitalization can result.

The Red Cross has issued the following suggestions for prevention of fires:

1. Don't smoke in bed, at any time.
2. Don't smoke near flammable liquids.
3. Discard cigarette butts in safe places, not in wastebaskets.
4. Keep matches and lighters away from children.
5. Have your heating equipment checked annually.
6. DON'T PLACE heaters, stoves, and smokepipes near combustible walls.
7. Never place combustibles, such as furniture, clothing, papers, near stoves, heaters, or fireplaces.
8. Clean your oven and broilers regularly.
9. Use proper size fuses in your switchbox.
10. Do not overload wiring.
11. Replace wornout electrical equipment.
12. Get rid of rubbish in attics, closets, basements, garages, and yards.
13. Store flammable fluids carefully.
14. Do not use kerosene or gasoline to start fires.
15. Keep fire extinguishers in good order and readily available.
16. Provide screen guards around fireplaces.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—Whenever I paint chairs or other furniture, which I have placed on newspapers to protect my floors, my finished paint job invariably sticks to the newspaper and creates a mess. How can I avoid this?

A.—Try inserting a piece of aluminum foil under each leg of the furniture, between it and the newspaper, and your furniture will not stick to this.

Q.—How can I repair cracks in my laundry tubs?

A.—A litharge-glycerin paste usually proves effective for this. Make this paste by mixing enough glycerin with a quantity of litharge so that it can be applied as a plastic cement.

Q.—How can I care for slate tile floors?

A.—This type of floor should be dusted with an untreated mop and brushed with a soft brush or vacuum cleaner attachment. Wash with a mop and mild suds, rinse, and wipe dry. Wax makes a nice finish.

Here Are Do-It-Yourself Pleasing 'Gourmet' Gifts

Are you at a loss for what to give your nice next - door neighbor or your sister-in-law, who has everything, this Christmas?

A gift you make yourself has a special meaning that no bought gift can convey. Never mind if you have no talent for crewel embroidery or painting. You're a whiz in the kitchen, aren't you? Or you can fake it? Well, then, concoct something special like a holiday party dip or a sophisticated salad dressing.

The project needn't be complicated. Here are two tempting recipes developed by The Roquefort Association that are quick and easy to make as befitting the busy holiday season.

The holiday Roquefort Dip features this world - famous cheese combined in a sour cream and cottage cheese base flavored with capers, caraway and anchovy.

The classic Roquefort Dressing is a smooth and tangy combination of Roquefort, oil and vinegar, Worcestershire sauce and lemon juice. It is perfect for crisp wintertime salads.

Put each gift in an attractive, re - usable container. The Dip in a charming French onion soup bowl, for instance; the dressing in a delightful old apothecary jar. And, don't forget to tuck a copy of the recipe in with each gaily wrapped gift.

Yuletide Roquefort Dressing

1 cup Roquefort
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2/3 cup salad oil
2 tablespoons vinegar

Mash cheese with a little salad oil. Add Worcestershire sauce, lemon juice, vinegar and balance of oil. Shake well until creamy. Serve on lettuce, cucumbers or endive.

Holiday Roquefort Dip

½ cup (2 ounces) crumbled Roquefort cheese
1 cup creamed cottage cheese
1 cup sour cream
1 tablespoon caraway seeds
1 tablespoon drained capers
½ can (2 ounce) flat anchovy fillets, minced
½ teaspoon onion salt
2 teaspoons paprika

Combine all ingredients and blend well. Pack mixture into a small crock and cover. Chill until ready to serve. Serve with Crisp wafers, potato chips, rye wafers or an assortment of vegetables. Makes about 2¼ cups.

A WORK-SAVING GIFT, an automatic dishwasher with cherrywood carving top. The new portable model provides extra working space in the kitchen for it has a rich wood top suitable for carving or chopping vegetables. Easily rolled anywhere it is needed, it will also help Mother's hands stay soft and beautiful.

AMERICAN AS APPLE PIE, and just as popular, are these American-made bikes for sis and big brother. They are made to give years of service, provide years of carefree fun, healthful exercise and economical transportation.

Holiday Places Strain On Eyes

Your eyes are under unusual strain during the hectic holiday season. Take care of them — pamper them. They deserve the best care you can give them.

Here's a list of do's and don'ts for protecting your eyes and keeping them healthy and beautiful:

1. — Avoid glares in reading and working . . . steady reflection from bright, shiny surfaces or too white paper can be tiring.

2. — Rest your eyes frequently. Because you use your eyes every moment you're awake, they deserve a little rest now and then. When doing close work over a long period of time, rest them by glancing into the distance for a moment at least once every half hour.

3. — Never rub your eyes; you can do permanent damage if you scratch the cornea. If you should get something in your eye, lift the upper lid and gently put it down over the lower lid and let tears wash the eye clean.

4. — Pamper tired eyes. When they have been exposed to sun, glare, dust or poor lighting, refresh them with decongestant eye drops. Eyes that are irritated due to fatigue, allergies, smoke, smog or industrial pollutants also benefit from decongestant eye drops, according to clinical studies.

5. — Don't watch TV without some additional light in the room — light from a TV screen is not adequate and may strain your eyes.

Unexpected company for supper? That creamed vegetable you made for the family will be party-style if you top it with heated crisp French-fried onion rings. As you probably know, the onion rings come in cans and are handy to keep on the pantry shelf.

Kitten From Kris Kringle Makes A Cuddly Playmate

If one of your children or a friend has been hinting that he'd like to acquire a kitten, Christmas is the perfect time to fulfill that wish.

The first step is to find out what type of cat is preferred. All kittens are fluffy and adorable, but knowing the difference between various types of cats can either make the recipient of your gift happy and thrilled with his new pet or completely indifferent.

The Friskies Pet Foods Research Center advised that you go to a reliable pet shop or cattery. Or if you're just thinking of an ordinary alley cat, you probably can obtain one from your local pound or animal care center.

However, whether you get "just a kitten" or a pedigreed Siamese, Manx or Burmese, they suggest that you have a veterinarian check on the animal's health and his vaccination program.

Check the breeder or pet shop on the kitten's diet and try to avoid any sudden changes. If the kitten is under 10 weeks old, keep him on the same diet he's been used to, changing slowly.

Feed often with small portions and be sure that drinking water is always available. As the kitten grows, he'll be fed less often. Usually, the commercial cat foods contain the proper amounts of protein, minerals and carbohydrates.

Although cats are strongly independent and learn personal hygiene naturally, they have to be shown to the litter box when they are brought to their new home.

When you purchase a kitten, a nice "extra" gift is a sanitary tray. This should be placed in its permanent spot and filled with dry earth or one of the many commercial products made for this purpose. The kitten will get the idea very quickly.

Social training will be easy if it's started immediately when the kitten is brought to his new home. This includes not clawing wood or fabric, staying off the chairs and sofa and off the laps of visitors.

If this is a "first" cat for the new owner, a smart investment is one of the many good books available on the care and upbringing of kittens.

They include such valuable information as proper diet, symptoms of common illnesses and how to train kittens with a minimum of effort.

Her Eyes Will Sparkle Together With Jewelry

While the way to a man's heart may be through cooking, the way to a gal's heart is surely through jewelry!

Somehow women never have enough of those pretty baubles and the smart shopper will remember that at Christmastime.

This season there's a wide array of costume jewelry to please milady, all in a decidedly feminine mood, with the accent on gold.

Gold - look jewelry is favored for good reason . . . it's as versatile as it is smart. Sleek with sportswear, real - looking with soft dresses and glamorous with after-5 styles, gold provides the perfect fashion accent.

MONET HAS designed a holiday collection of such gold-look jewelry to please every taste and complement wardrobes.

Necklaces are almost unlimited in variety, ranging from the classic look of great chain links to intricate, lacey motifs and textured bead - like looks.

Emphasis is on shape, with new "V"-shaped necklaces and regal pendants; some of these styles can be changed simply by removing part of the design.

Side - draped necklaces of delicate shimmering chains add an especially feminine touch to the season's necklines, while jewel necklines are complemented with filigreed and beaded high-rising styles.

Wtih the return of the sleeve in so many variations, bracelets once again come to the fore. And the more the merrier. Many of them are matched with necklaces for a fashionable total look.

As with necklaces, there is great variety in bracelets; they range from narrow to wide, are elegantly detailed, bold and rounded, chunky and textured, and feature the richness and elegance of fine jewelry.

SOME ARE made up of strands of shimmering chains, caught together with fabulous clasps. Bangles are another big favorite, adding their special touch to everything from sporty knits to at-home fashions. Here again, the variety is endless.

Pins are equally versatile, can be worn in many ways. Worn singly on a pocket, a lapel or a scarf, worn in pairs or teamed with chains, they stamp every costume with her very own look.

The Monet collection features delicate fretwork, exciting new textures and dimensions. Bold bows, wonderful bursts, lovely leaves and flowers plus whimsical creatures are some of the many designs offered.

And now with hair styles short and soft for daytime or upswept for evening, earrings also step into the spotlight.

Designs vary from quiet simplicity to sophisticated elegance, include vari-textured buttons, classic wedding bands, mobile drops and gypsy hoops.

Whatever her preference in costume jewelry, you'll find just what she wants among the glittering new gold styles now on holiday counters.

There were 466,805 cars stolen last year, many of them by thieves who found the cars unlocked and keys in the ignition switch.

'DELICIOUS' GLOW OF COLOR. Gown and peignoir in flamingo pink. Floor-length shift gown and flowing robe fashioned of crepe tricot made of Enka Crepeset nylon, frosty, soft, opaque and washable. The gown, which glides silkily along the body, is edged with flutters of marabou trim at the hem, collar and sleeves.

THIS JUNIOR FIREMAN is amazed at the authentic purr of a giant engine as it is reproduced without batteries in this heavy-gauge steel fire truck. Comes with adjustable extension ladder that can easily be wound into place for a wall-scaling operation. It will delight the heart of any adventurous boy on Christmas morning.

Here's Gag Gift That's Practical

Christmas is the time for merriment and gag gifts always bring a good chuckle. When they are also practical, they are twice welcome.

A real flasher for the favorite female in your life is a new "way out" headband for her hair with an honest-to-goodness flashlight attached to it.

She'll go into an "orbit" of delight when she opens this gift, which also serves a useful purpose as a unique flashlight that is three units in one.

It is a portable flashlight, two inches in diameter by two inches long, containing the power of flashlights more than five times its size.

It is a powerful work light, when put on its special stand, which has a swivel base. And it is a convenient headlight with a headband that leaves both hands free for work or play.

Made of unbreakable plastic, it contains a special zoom switch, which converts it from a spotlight to a miniature floodlight. And best of all it is rechargeable, holding its charge for more than a year. The flashlight itself is backed by a two-year guarantee.

Factories in the United States were safer than ever in 1964 as the rate of industrial fatalities dropped to an all-time low of 21 per 100,000 workers. The worst year in the past quarter century was 1940, when the rate was 35.8 per 100,000.

There Are Many Pleasing Articles For Pipe Smoker

If you are giving a gift to a pipe smoker this Christmas, additional pipes and smoking tobacco are always appreciated.

Other fine gifts which add greatly to the gentlemen's pipe smoking pleasure are such accessories as humidors, pipe lighters, reamers, pouches, pipe racks and pipe knives.

This year there ia a wider choice in selecting pipes, smoking tobacco and accessories.

Two-pipe sets, always a favorite with the pipe smoker, are handsomely packaged for holiday giving. Tobacco is also attractively wrapped in packaging that assures freshness and retention of flavor. A wide assortment of tins, pouches and variety packs are available to choose from.

And there are pipes in all sizes, shapes and colors to suit every personality.

A recent survey by The Pipe and Tobacco Council indicated that the use of a pipe enhances man's image.

Women editors throughout the United States evidently agree with these findings. So, to suit the individuals on your list, the Council suggests you consult your local tobacconist to help you choose the just - right pipes for them.

Bell Is Back

LINCOLN, Ill. (AP) — An "old timer" is back for the 1965-66 year at the unit school at Delavan. It is a bell used at the former school building from 1871 to 1963. When the school was torn down in 1963, the bell was purchased by Robert M. Culbertson, who presented it to the board of education. During the vacation months, the 93-year-old bell was mounted on a concrete base on the school lawn.

The Presidency

History Shows Do's, Don'ts

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, now starting his third White House year, is different from any of his predecessors in this century with its brilliant examples of how to run the presidency, and how not to.

While Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft were both conservatives, Roosevelt, his batteries always charged, was conscious of changing needs and sought to meet some of them. Like Woodrow Wilson later, he tried to provide new ideals.

But he never stopped being a bit of a cowboy and it confused his image in the public mind. Taft, who can be called the father of the income tax because revenue was needed at the time, was no social innovator.

He never rocked the boat. He oiled the machinery of government.

Wilson, idealistic and liberal but only up to a point, never learned the president is not a private person. He isolated himself and became remote. More a prophet than a statesman, one commentator said.

In dealing with Congress, despite all he wrote on government, Wilson was an amateur compared with someone like Johnson. And he paid for it dearly.

Warren G. Harding was the country's best example of how not to be a president, while Calvin Coolidge, the silent type, showed few words may mean few ideas and that the White House is no place for the country store outlook.

Franklin D. Roosevelt's presidency demonstrated there can be more action in the mind than the biceps. A paralytic in a wheelchair throughout his presidency, he changed the spirit and direction of his country.

He responded to chaos with imagination and concern, combining his actions with eloquence and a miraculous voice, which revealed how a politician who can create a father image of himself, based on performance, is unbeatable.

Harry S. Truman, no intellectual, was proof that a man can be a great president without a Ph. D. He didn't have learning, he had judgment. He didn't have charm, he had guts.

Together they enabled him to make tough decisions — and some mistakes — facts which, put another way, meant he had the willingness and sturdiness to encounter and conquer crises, or try to.

Dwight D. Eisenhower's eight years in office will not put him among the great or even the near-great presidents.

Perhaps his best contribution — through a fortunate combination of personality, prestige, calmness and public confidence — was in restoring the country to sanity when it had been almost pathological about communism.

Yet Eisenhower, a soldier without political experience, wound up one of the best politicians of the century, if political success is to be judged by the attitude of voters.

Eisenhower was a lesson in how a man who comes to the presidency already famous and well-liked can remain so if he avoids quarrels, does a routine job and is smart enough to surround himself with capable assistants.

John F. Kennedy's presidency can never be fully appraised since the final judgment would have had to rest with the future which, for him, never came.

In his three years his success with Congress, where his Democrats had only a tiny majority, was not impressive. His success eventually might have been sensational if he had won re-election with a huge majority in Congress, such as Johnson got in 1964.

In time, judging from his popularity abroad, he might have been a grest world leader. Because his chances and therefore his achievements were limited, his popularity at home has its own lesson: The magic personality, even without great performance, can bring a president not only acclaim but even adulation.

Johnson has some of Theodore Roosevelt's bounce, some of Taft's concern with the machinery of government, and none of their conservatism. He speaks in the idealistic terms of Wilson, but not nearly so well, although he has shown himself more truly liberal. Wilson was withdrawn; Johnson is anything but.

Since Franklin D. Roosevelt was his hero, Johnson's apparent desire to be his country's father image is understandable. Before he is through, he may achieve far more than Roosevelt and the New Deal ever envisioned.

By his actions in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic he has shown the same determination as Truman and the same willingness to face decisions. He lacks Kennedy's grace, wit and ease but has far more ability in getting things done.

More than any president in this century he is a master politician — so far — in obtaining what he wants. And, more than any of the others, politics and the presidency are so much his total life he works at them almost 24 hours a day.

And They Did

SHELBY, N. C. (AP) — Rush Hamrick, Jr., who underwent surgery at the hospital here, gave nurses and surgeons a smile as they prepared to operate. As the medical crew pulled down the sheets on the anesthetized youth, they found written in red ink across the patient's stomach the words: "Open With Care."

GIFTED MAN. It's a highland tweed sports coat of comfort and good looks, handsomely blended. The texture touch fabric has the flair and flavor of Scotland and its plaid pattern is tastefully dominant. Slacks complement the jacket.

FOR THE HOSTESS, generous - sized aluminum cookware for party preparations. The aluminum electric Dutch oven is attractive enough to use on the buffet table. The gold-anodized coffee-maker makes up to 30 cups of coffee and the 3-quart aluminum saucepan with rich bronze cover is part of a matched set of range-top cooking utensils.

Protect Your Hands, Both Indoors And Out

Rough! That's what hands and skin frequently are, at holiday time, just when a woman wants to look her prettiest.

Such increased activities as cooking, dishwashing and house cleaning are particularly severe on the hands.

Another enemy of beautiful skin, the experts tell us, is indoor heating. It dehydrates, robbing the skin constantly of moisture, just as much as exposure to wind or cold or too much sun in warmer climates.

Since your hands have far less natural oil supply than your face, it is even more important that they be protected indoors as well as outdoors by a good hand cosmetic that will provide them with oil and moisture and guard skin against dryness and aging.

Experts recommend an application of hand cream or lotion in the morning, as part of your daily grooming to protect hands both indoors and out.

Sock It To Dad With Unique Trio

Alas, poor Dad! He's usually too busy on Christmas eve, filling everyone's stockings, to hang his own.

This year surprise him with amusing little men to present his favorite gifts of socks and ties. The "wear - with - all" of the gift involves soft, comfortable socks and handsome silky - looking ties.

You might present one set, or a wardrobe of sets, each in keeping with Dad's special interests. For even more fun, tuck a "go-with" gift in the hand of each sock man.

To make the sock - and - tie men, stuff the toe of one sock with its mate and some tissue paper. This becomes the head.

Then, make a cone of heavy paper and fit the sock leg over it. Tie the necktie around the neck with a four - in - hand knot, tucking excess under the cone.

Bits of felt, paper or buttons may be used as features and shirt collar. Pipe cleaners twisted round the body make the arms. Tape or tie the extra gift —something such as a key ring to sport with the new car; a new pen for his business hours; a good looking tie clasp for dress-up evenings out — to the pipe - cleaner hands.

There you have it — a clever, new kind of stuffed stocking for Dad at Christmas.

Any Man Can Use Sock Wardrobe

Practical gift for any man is a sock wardrobe.

Since the most popular styles contain stretch yarns, there is no size problem to worry about. Like sports shirts, socks are now sized small, medium and large.

Each size range assures a neat comfortable fit for four conventional sock sizes.

Everyday and dress styles include the new longer socks that pull over the calf for a sleek fit. What's more, these socks stay up and in place without garters.

For causal wear, the crew sock in wide or narrow ribs is still the top favorite.

Both basic styles come in a wide choice of colors; conservative solids, brilliant reds, blues and yellows as well as the new heathery mixtures.

Despite the soft furry feel and all - season wearing comfort, these socks are machine washable and dryable.

They resist shrinking and even fire engine red shades cannot fade or run because the dye is a part of the fiber itself.

It Really Works

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — A mechanical cow caller being used on the Virgil Rawson farm near here is bringing a protest from some of his neighbors. The mechanical caller rotates and bellows to call his cows home to their barn some two miles from here. But cows on other farms, so the neighbors say, "are in a constant state of agitation, stand at the fences and bellow back toward the machine."

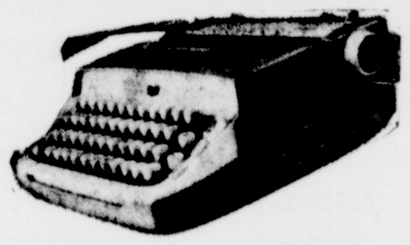

Although more than 90 per cent of all automobiles stolen in the United States are recovered, about 30 per cent have been damaged or stripped of parts — many to the extent that they represent total losses.

Action, Laughter Mark Many Of Newer Games

Action and laughter keynote a number of the new games which appear on the Christmas scene this year.

For example, "Operation" is a spoof on playing doctor. "Players "operate" to mend broken hearts, cure writers cramp and Charley Horses with an electric prober.

And for James Bond fans, there is a thriller spy action game for kids and a chance-taker spy adventure game for adults.

—:—

THERE ARE new games for girls only. Most unusual is "Mystery Date," where the girls strive to assemble suitable wardrobes for their blind dates. When the date is revealed, if their costume is inappropriate, they lose out.

"Shenanigans" recaptures the fun of a summer carnival in colorful 3D, with a wide range of action games pointed to laughs.

Then there's a whole sector of games keyed to brain challenge. Skill with words is tested by games such as the "Match Game," "Jeopardy," "Call My Bluff" and the popular "Password."

New in the games of strategy category is "Hit the Beach," which replays the South Sea Island battles of World War II. In a different category are Charles H. Goren's "Play and Defend" and "Beginners Bridge."

—:—

A NOVEL action - game that will draw different family age groups into hilarious competition is "Frantic Frogs," an ingenious variation of a race game played with three dimensional frogs.

"Bash," another 3D novelty game gives players a chance to release inhibitions and exercise skill by trying to remove the links supporting a comic character's head without disturbing his equilibrium.

An all - family favorite is "Game of Life," where players spin the wheel of life and struggle for their share of an 8 million dollar supply of cash. The winner is the first player to win a million dollars.

The quiz game is a classic favorite where school - going children and parents can compete for hours of fun. "Go To The Head of the Class," for example, provides questions at three different levels and has a board reproducing the Little Red Schoolhouse classroom.

For the kindergarten set, a longtime favorite is "Candyland," where small - fry progress by matching colors, so there is no handicap for players who do not read or write yet.

The wider - than - ever range of game formats is planned to provide a happy solution for every kind of family recreational need, says James J. Shea, president of Milton Bradley, setting trends in a family fun for 105 years.

Silver Will Add Charm, Elegance

With the accent these days on elegance in entertaining, nothing adds as much to the table as the luster of fine silver, bringing a special glow to family and guests alike.

Gleaming silver and festive occasions go together like love and marriage, says the Jewelry Industry Council. Silver, the "Queen of Metals," always reflects good taste and charm to family gatherings of all kinds, especially during the holidays.

A fine silver service grows more beautiful with use through the years, and makes a memorable Yuletide gift that the entire family will appreciate and enjoy.

For Christmas and for use throughout the years, holloware pieces bring a "special occasion" feeling to every meal. Beautiful silver bowls, platters, ash trays, compotes and vases are gifts of timeless value.

Most popular in silver holloware gifts are silver bowls of all sizes from tiny individual ash trays to huge centerpiece bowls for flowers or fruit.

Silver rates a top place on every Christmas gift list — bringing added joy for happy holiday entertaining plus every day pleasure throughout the year.

EASY-TO-MAKE CHEERY DECORATION for the front door. Use cone-shaped base for bells, spray with bright red paint. Tape two coat hanger dowels together to measure 30" in length, Make two sets. Attach silver sprayed styrofoam balls to end of dowels and insert into ball. Trim with huge bow of plastic ribbon and evergreen boughs.

CHRISTMAS TREE OF RIBBON ROSES. A wonderful new idea for Yule decorations. Satintone rose bows can easily be assembled into the lovely and colorful Christmas tree shown above.

THE EYES HAVE IT. "Aye, aye, sir," she loves her new portable color TV. Now, for the first time a color television set that is light enough to carry any place in the home. Only slightly larger than a makeup kit, it has a 60-square-inch viewing screen. Cabinet is made of high-impact polystyrene with walnut-grain finish, it has a retractable carry handle and built-in di-pole antenna.

Fast Paint Job

BEECH GROVE, Ind. (AP) — Four and a half minutes is all it takes to paint a box car at the New York Central's new automatic paint spray shop here. As the car moves through the shop by means of a pusher rod connected to a winch, two sets of double nozzled spray guns paint the car from top to bottom.

Unwanted Prize

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Larry Pohlman was transferred here to a new job and for months he looked for suitable housing for his family. During that time, he lived at motels until he was tired of them. Recently, he attended a Chamber of Commerce breakfast and won first prize—a free week-end at a motel.

You Can Fashion Own Ornaments From 'Play-Clay'

Replenishing your supply of Christmas tree ornaments each year is an expensive proposition.

But if you and the children make your own out of a home-made "play - clay," you'll save money. You'll also wind up with festive fire - proof ornaments that won't shatter into hundreds of dangerous little slivers if they fall. And since "play - clay" is made out of foods — it's safe in the smallest hands.

Here's how to make the clay. In a saucepan mix thoroughly together one level cup of corn starch, two level cups of baking soda.

Then add one and a quarter cups of water, mix and cook over medium heat stirring constantly until mixture reaches a dough - like consistency (about four minutes). Turn out on work surface; cover with a damp towel and let sit until cool enough to handle. Knead as you would dough.

Now here's how to make the ornaments. Roll clay into little balls, tear drops or bird shapes. Insert loop of colored cord in one end for hanging.

Decorate with paint, felt - tip markers, by rolling in glitter, or by pressing colored cord into clay in desired pattern. Insert snip of aluminum foil in sides of birds for wings. Moisten clay with water to help cord, glitter or foil stick.

Ornaments will harden overnight, faster if you put them on a wire rack in a warm, turned-off oven.

If you want the entire batch of clay colored, add food coloring or tempora paint to the water before mixing it in with the starch and soda.

Deadly Dragon

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Viet Cong Fear C-47's Guns

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)--Puff, the magic dragon, wove her deadly spell so well against the Viet Cong that 20 sisters have now joined her in belching flame and bullets.

Puff is a pre-World War II C47 that someone with imagination outfitted with three gatling-type Mini guns capable of delivering broadsides at 18,000 rounds per minute of 7.62MM bullets, tracer or standard.

The strange bird which has officially been designated as FC47, meaning fighter cargo plane Type 47.

Any fighter pilot would gasp at the thought of making a C47 which has changed little since production first began in 1934, into a fighter plane.

They might admire the Mini guns, six - barrelled weapons each capable of throwing out lead at 6,000 rounds a minute.

But they would be horrified at the mountings.

The guns all point at 90 degrees from the line of flight and deliver the kind of broadsides John Paul Jones would have understood much better than a Korean jet ace or veteran of the jet strikes in North Viet Nam

Primarily an antipersonnel weapon, Puff circles a beleaguered outpost while the pilot lines up the target in a gunsight pointed out of the left window. Flying at 122 knots, he fires while he keeps the left wing low and the pipper (illuminated sighting image) on the target.

Puff has been in Viet Nam for 11 months undergoing test under combat conditions. Her attributes are obvious.

Despite her slow speed, Puff has never picked up more than four holes on one mission. Part of this is probably due to the fact that the FC47 flies at about 3,000 feet, works mostly at night and has yet to come up against antiaircraft gunners willing to face her murderous fire. But this phase of the war is fast changing in Viet Nam. So some day some of the FC47 fire-spewers may meet their St. George.

Capable of circling long hours over a beleaguered fort or outpost, Puff can start the deadly circle quickly and in three seconds cover an area the size of a football field with at least one bullet to every square foot, says Lt. Col. Thomas E. Rickelman.

Rickelman, of Lancaster, Ohio, bossed the Puff program through its latter testing stages.

The names traces back to one of the first FC47 missions when the guns were loaded with all tracer ammunition. Government troops were panic-stricken by the tongues of fire that they saw licking over the ground after Viet Cong.

Calling the plane a dragon, the troops were virtually on the point of breaking and running. Their U. S. advisers calmed them with assurances that the dragon was friend, if magic.

Auto thefts in the United States have nearly tripled since 1948, according to the Insurance Information Institute. There were 163,400 cars stolen in 1948 and 466,805 in 1964. Authorities stress that the best way to safeguard your car against thieves is to lock it and take the key with you.

UNDER THE UMBRELLA. European soccer fans take their sport any way they can get it—wet or dry. Standing in the rain, and sporting their best wet weather gear, these German rooters didn't let the dampness get them down as they cheered for their favorite team.

You Can Retain Yule Joys With Tape Recorders

Record the happy sounds of Christmas — the tumbling laughter of children, the glad welcoming of guests — all the personal and wonderful happenings.

At Christmastime the tape recorder can come into full use, with 12 hours of recording time available on some reels of tape and up to 15 hours available on tape cartridges.

With these versatile machines you can record seasonal religious music as well as music for holiday parties and dancing.

Another wonderful way in which they can be used is for recording personal Christmas messages to send loved ones who live out of town.

Many families enjoy recording the gay chatter of a neighborly holiday get - together or the delightful voices of parading carolers and enjoy listening to them for years to come.

Families with recorders use them for all manner of family fun — ranging from recording music "live" or from records or the radio to playing musical chairs.

Homemakers also are finding that this year's tape recorders are slim, compact and decorator styled. They come in a variety of walnut cabinets, some with separate speakers, and lend themselves to eye-catching wall arrangements that complement any tasteful decorating theme.

"A newspaper is an adviser who does not require to be sought, but who comes of his own accord and talks to you briefly every day of the commonwealth, without distracting you from your private affairs."

FRESH FLOWERS enhance a merry holiday centerpiece. Set a pretty Yuletide table with this festive arrangement of carnations and holly. Dotted with glimmering golden ornaments, the bouquet makes a perfect holiday decoration for your home or a gala greeting for friends on your gift list.

FOR EVERY BUDDING BEAUTICIAN, a toy hairdresser set changes dolls' hair-color in seconds. With 'Color 'n Curl' she can change the color of her Barbie dolls' hair back and forth at will, yet it contains no dyes and is totally harmless. Set includes a hair dryer that actually works, four wigs in different colors, rollers, curlers, comb, brush, Barbie pins and hair mist.

Now They Do It

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. William Scranton bruised his nose about six months ago when he walked into a glass door while visiting in Allentown. Recently, the Pennsylvania House of Representatives passed a bill which required eye-level warnings on all transparent doors in public buildings. Violators will get a fine of from $10 to $50 or a sentence of ten days in jail.

State Stores To Close

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Since Christmas and New Year's fall on Saturdays, state liquor stores will be closed on Christmas and New Year's Eve. Liquor Director Don Cook noted that Ohio law requires state employes get Friday off with pay when a holiday is on Saturday, a nonworking day.

'Talking Cards'

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

A 'Something Different' Gift

The sounds of Christmas are many and varied; the carillon's call to services, the religious music and caroling, the tinkle of sleigh bells, the crunch of foot steps on freshly fallen snow, the ho, ho, ho of a street corner Santa, the sounds of laughter and joy which are everywhere during this season of happiness.

It just wouldn't be Christmas without all of these special sounds and it also wouldn't be Christmas without Christmas cards.

Now, with a litte imagination and 3M Company's "Scotch" brand recording tape, you can produce individually tailored "talking" Christmas greetings that Marry the marvelous sounds of Christmas with the traditional Christmas card through the modern medium of magnetic tape.

Making a personalized talking Christmas card can be a family fun project.

All that is needed is a reel of magnetic tape; three - inch tapes are idea for the purpose. They can record 15 minutes of sound, just enough time for everyone in the family to have his say and for the family to sing a carol if it wishes.

After the tape has been recorded, the tape carton with its familiar tartan design can be covered with myriad holiday decorations.

Costume jewels of plastic or sequins can be pasted to the box; a festive paper or an artificial "spray-on snow" can be used to cover it, and a small pine cone or Santa doll can be affixed with ribbon bows. The ways that you can beautify the tape box just for Christmas are limited only by your imagination.

A taped talking Christmas greeting in a hand - decorated box will be that "something different" that will be the hit of the Yuletide season and will be remembered all the rest of the year.

DON'T LET GO. Up to his neck in trouble, Bornholm, Denmark, steeplejack Poul Johansen found himself at the top of a 100-foot chimney with very little keeping him there. The old chimney started to crumble when Johansen reached the top. The steeplejack held tight for three hours until he could be reached by a Danish air force helicopter.

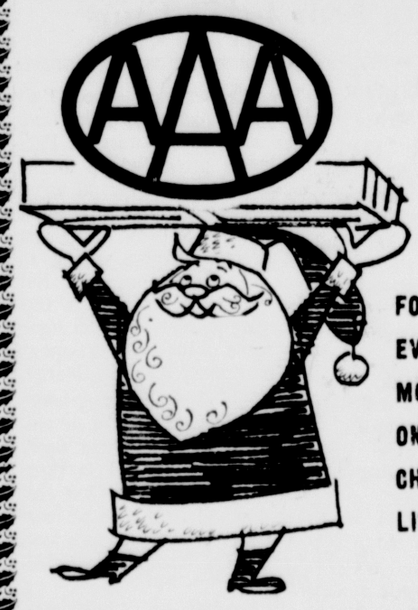

Driver Took Detour

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP)— A car driver told police he stopped when he saw flashing rde lights in front of him. But the lights were in the middle of the runway at San Francisco International airport. Two jet planes had to be diverted while officials moved the car. The driver said he thought he was still on the nearby Bayshore freeway. He was booked for drunken driving.

Holiday Will Be Less Hectic If You Follow Kitchen Hints

Every homemaker's private recipe for simplifying holiday cooking would include a kitchen without eager, little hands; a limited number of unexpected guests to cook for, and a week's vacation between Christmas and New Year's.

But chances are the same homemaker would miss the pleasure of playing household Santa and spreading holiday cheer with her cooking excitement.

So prepare to put up with hectic holiday conditions (extra hands in the pie mix and sudden visitors in the dining room) by employing all the time-saving steps at hand, advises Louise Allen, director of home services for Club Aluminum Products Co. These are suggestions by the cooking expert:

Do prepare jello molds and cranberries in advance. But don't try to fix dressing or stuffing the evening before — health authorities warn that spoilage is a danger when dressing is allowed to stand for any length of time.

You can, however, cut up and refrigerate vegetables and all "makings" of stuffing, which can be put together quickly at the last minute.

Do plan to use the "waterless" method of cooking vegetables — it saves their juices and simmer them to perfection while you're mashing the potatoes.

Don't ask Aunt Ellen to stir up a gravy, just because you're afraid of making a sticky mess of it. Do have a non-stick pan for the job to assure a golden brown, tasty juice.

Do prepare tandem dishes such as peas and carrots at the same time. Try a divided pan to speed cooking — and to make sure everything arrives at the table at once.

Handsome Gifts, Weather Or No

For gifts that are beautiful and useful, see the handsome antiqued ponderosa pine panelled weather instruments.

Trio models are mounted on vertical panels or on horizontal panel with decorative golden eagle trim.

Panels are hand - crafted in early American styling that is a welcome addition to any office or home.

The instruments are housed in dustproof containers that have a heavy metallized finish with the glow of polished brass, guaranteed to retain their high luster permanently.

A Time To Remember Who We Are

Let us be grateful for our heritage. For a little pride is the wellspring of courage. Let us endure unflinchingly whatever sacrifices we are called upon to make to defend our free institutions from the night of communism, which is bent on undermining our faith in ourselves. Let us rely not only on the gold in our vaults, but the iron in our blood. And let us cling like ivy to the faith of our fathers until, in God's good time, all men are free.

Give Lingerie

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Here Are Important Hints

Probably no gift is presented with more pride or purchased with more pleasure than lacy, lovely lingerie at Christmas time.

With the resurgence of lace on everything from pajamas to all-over slips, holiday shoppers will be boggled by femininity.

To make sure the man in your life isn't cut adrift in the lingerie department without some guidance, here are suggestions by shopping type, from Gossard-Artemis, on how to get your heart's desire.

—:—

IF HE'S a "comparison shopper," he generally waits until the last minute to pick up something special. Because he's always late, he rarely has sizes or color ideas and hopes to find a sales person with whom he can compare his wife.

Since comparison shopping usually results in an extravagant selection that's either too big or too small, be sure he's equipped with a little note that tells your size, and color preference.

If he's a "companion" shopper, he's also a late starter, but for support he takes along your best friend. Be sure your friend knows what you'd like, but be sure she also knows how to present it as "a woman's point of view" — and not pre - Christmas collusion.

IF HE'S a "happy shopper", he runs agog amid the lace, picking the loveliest thing he can find that you would never wear.

The only way to stop a happy shopper from post Christmas return-blues, is to send him to a saleslady who is as happy as he is, but who knows where to draw the line between glamour and the life you really lead.

If he's a "statistical" man, he knows all your sizes, but when it comes to style, he's lost.

The best way to turn his mind toward fashion is to make some very specific comments about the lingerie you want, emphasizing your point by showing him photographs of fashions you would like to own.

If he's a "fashion expert", relax and let him do the picking. A man with good taste is a joy to have in the house and should be especially indulged at Christmas time.

It's Always Night

ATCHISON, Kan. (AP) — Delbert Ehret, director of the Atchison YMCA says that everytime he looks out in his pasture he sees a new moon. Recently, his 25-year old mare named "Moon" gave birth to a colt. Ehret's children insisted the newcomer should be named "New Moon."

FRIENDLY FAMILY SCENE. In Trinidad, where the climate is great and the living is easy, the lion population is growing by leaps and bounds. Here Mama poses with her lively litter, born at a zoo. Pop was out with the boys when photo was taken.

HELLO, PARIS CALLING. At West Bend High School, in West Bend, Wis., Paris is just around the corner. Thirty pupils shown here took part in an educational first when their French class spoke to contemporaries in Paris via Early Bird satellite.

How Can I?

ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I keep eggs fresh for a fairly long time?

A. Rub very fresh eggs with oil, butter or pure glycerin.

Q.—How can I remove match scratches from white painted surfaces?

A.—Rub with a cut lemon. Future scratching of matches on these surfaces by inconsiderate louts can be prevented if you'll rub the surfaces lightly with petroleum jelly. The slightly oily surface will defy any attempts to scratch matches.

Q.—Can you suggest a way in which I can make candles burn longer?

A.—If you'll place your candles in the refrigerator for about 24 hours before using, this has a way of making them longer - lasting.

Play Brings Stardom

Actor Matthau Claims 35 Good Breaks In Career

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "They say that all you need in show biz is one good break," growled Walter Matthau. "I've had 35."

The first 34 made him one of the most serviceable character actors in plays, films and television. The 35th seems to have made him a star.

The one big break of Matthau's career was "The Odd Couple," the Neal Simon comedy which exploded on Broadway late last season. The play in which Matthau and Art Carney costarred as wildly incompatible apartment mates whose wives had left them, sparked what appeared to be a Walter Matthau appreciation drive.

"Don't ask me to explain it," said the actor. "I've starred in 20 plays, and nothing like this happened before. Everything seemed to fall in place. Even without having a personal press agent, the publicity poured in."

For Matthau, the harvest of "The Odd Couple" was four movie scripts with starring roles.

"I sent them all back," he said. "Then Billy Wilder said he wanted me for a picture, but he hadn't written it yet. I said I'd do it."

The Wilder film turned out to be "The Fortune Cookie," for which Matthau took a leave of absence from "The Odd Couple." He plays Jack Lemmon's brother-in-law, an opportunist lawyer who makes the most of a minor injury Lemmon receives while photographing a Cleveland Browns football game.

Matthau — he pronounces it Math-ow — was also offered television series in the wake of "The Odd Couple."

"I could no doubt make about five billion dollars if I took one," he observed, "but that would mean doing piecework. That's why I left the factory; to get away from piecework."

It was an electroplating factory on Long Island, and he was employed to dip handbag frames, wearing sneakers so he wouldn't get electrocuted. Matthau felt there were greater challenges for him, especially after appearing in every settlement-house play he could find.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Do you have any advice for a girl, 20, who is planning to marry a man, 45? I'm not going to doll up the facts. I will give them to you straight and I want a straight answer.

Joe will have to pay alimony and child support for nine more years. He has a fairly good job, no money saved and he owes a few small bills. Do you have any statistics on the earning capacity of a man his age? Will it go up or down? If Joe should start another family, would he be able to earn enough to see his second set of children through college?

What if his health fails? If he should be forced into a lower-paying job could he meet his obligations? Joe seems to be in good health now but I want to look ahead a few years. — MISS WORRIED.

P.S.: He's a very likeable person.

Dear Miss: The faint praise with which you have damned poor Joe in the P.S. takes your letter out of the human relations category and makes it a math problem.

My computer says, "Forget, it, Kiddo."

'Best Pal' Gimmick

Dear Ann: Do you believe a married man can be a "best pal" to a divorced woman he used to go with before he married? My husband says "yes." I say "horsefeathers." Here are the facts:

Bonita has been married three times. Chuck says she's really a good person who has had some rough breaks. I say a woman who can't make a go of marriage after three tries is a little flakey.

Our phone rings at all hours. One night Bonita couldn't find her keys so she phoned Chuck at 2 a.m. and asked him to come over and break the basement window. (I think she was stiff.)

When her father died she asked Chuck to drive her to Mankato in the middle of a blizzard, and he did. He stayed up there for three days — said the roads were "impassable."

I've got four kids who need a father, so don't tell me to kick him out. Chuck says there is nothing between them and that all she wants is a shoulder to cry on. What do you think? — ONLY HIS WIFE.

-:-

Dear Wife: I think a father of four kids should keep both shoulders at home. Tell your husband to cut out the counseling. He should send her to the Family Service Association or the YWCA. They offer excellent services.

Lost Appetite

Dear Ann: A friend and I drove into a well-known drivein for lunch. The boy took our orders and was back with the trays within a few minutes. My friend got what she ordered but I got a frankfurter and a malt instead of a cheeseburger and iced tea.

As I was explaining the error to the boy, a waitress came over and said, "That tray belongs to the other car." She took my tray off the window and brought me another tray from a car across the way.

When I saw that my sandwich had been unwrapped I simply could not eat it. I was too embarrassed to complain to the manager so I didn't have any lunch. Don't you think they should have brought me a fresh sandwich instead of one that had already been unwrapped?

My friend says I'm crazy. What do you say? — ARKANSAS BEEF.

Dear Beef: Some folks are more squeamish than others. This does not mean they are crazy.

If you didn't want the sandwich after it had been unwrapped you should have told the manager. I'm sure he would have seen to it that you received a fresh one.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Astronauts For Half-Time Show?

With a straight face NBC's vice president of news says the network on Dec. 4 will "telecast simultaneously the launch of the Gemini 7 spacecraft and the NCAA football game between Penn State and the University of Maryland in color."

Hal Humphrey

P. T. Barnum in his wildest imagination would have had trouble conjuring up such a spectacle, to say nothing of his then having to shout, "And, ladies and gentlemen, it's all FREE!"

-:-

THE NECESSITY (if it can be labeled such) for NBC's displaying this two-headed electronic freak naturally springs from a desire to protect a big financial investment—say something like $6.5 million which it paid this season to televise the NCAA football games.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration double-crossed NBC by picking a Saturday to orbit Gemini 7 and, worse, setting launch time at 2:30 p.m., which is one hour after the Penn State - Maryland kickoff at Maryland.

So, on Dec. 4 at approximately 2:30 p.m., we can tune to NBC and in the upper left quadrant of a split screen see the Gemini 7 blastoff at Cape Kennedy, while at the same time watching the football contest.

THEN, OF COURSE, there will be "instant replays" during both events for those viewers whose eyes get crossed trying to focus simultaneously on a quarterback sneak and the astronauts climbing into Gemini 7.

TV's split - screen technique has been employed before, but generally for different phases of a single event as when one baseball camera splits off to catch a runner on first in an upper portion of the TV screen.

NBC first used the split screen during the 1956 presidential conventions to catch delegate reactions to speeches. But to split between a football game in Maryland to a rocket launching in Florida is ridiculous, if not dangerous.

WHAT HAPPENS to the commercials, for instance? Are we going to be harassed with split-screen messages on razor blades and oil, and maybe even a news bulletin across the bottom of the screen on the latest battle in Viet Nam?

The logical extension of a precedent such as NBC is foisting off on us Dec. 4 will be splitting the screen in half for the entertainment shows. The next thing we know they will be taking us back to the old plug - in headsets, giving the schizophrenic (he will be, if he isn't already) viewer the choice of two shows simultaneously while he switches the split-audio to whichever side of the screen he wants to hear.

I suppose in a season as dull as this there really is no reason why we shouldn't watch "Peyton Place" and the Smothers Brothers on a split screen. Actually, one wouldn't need the sound on at all. Both shows might take on a whole new meaning in this half-and-half form.

BUT I WOULD rather see NBC make other arrangements and forget this whole thing. Maybe if the NASA officials were approached nicely by the old Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff himself, he might prevail upon them to synchronize Gemini 7's takeoff into the half-time period of the football game.

Most football fans, I think, have tired of the average half-time festivities, unless they have a daughter who is a pom-pon girl. The launching of a manned spacecraft from Cape Kennedy could prove just the thing to repace all those marching bands and other folderol. It's got to be a spicier show, the more I think of it.

In fact, there really is no good reason why other events aren't already integrated in this fashion. For some time now it's been admitted by both political parties that they are having trouble sustaining viewer interest in the national nominating conventions.

SO WHY CAN'T they get together with the new commissioner of baseball and see what can be done about convening the Democrats at the Houston Astrodome and the Republicans at Dodger Stadium in 1968?

Q. — Just what are the proper paintbrush cleaning agents for the various kinds of paint used?

A. — For oil paints and varnishes, use turpentine and then naptha or kerosene. For flat paints, just naptha or kerosene. For shellac, denatured alcohol does the trick. For lacquers, acetone and naphtha. For calcimine and other water paints, just plain old water.

U.S. Tourist Sentenced By Soviet Court

MURMANSK, U.S.S.R. (AP)—A Soviet court today sentenced a young American tourist, Newcomb Mott of Sheffield, Mass., to 18 months in a labor camp for illegally crossing the Arctic border between Norway and the Soviet Union.

The court rejected the 27-year-old book salesman's contention that he was "hot, tired and lost" when he crossed the border last Sept. 4.

Mott heard the sentence without any visible display of emotion.

In Washington, a State Department spokesman had no immediate comment, but said a statement probably would be forthcoming later in the day.

Just before the judge read the sentence, Mott closed his eyes for several seconds. Then, standing in the fenced-in dock, he opened his eyes and glanced at his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mott of Sheffield, who had flown to Russia for the trial.

Mrs. Mott wiped her face with her right hand as the sentence was read but made no sound. She was dry-eyed as she left the courtroom a few minutes later.

The prosecutor asked for a 2½-year sentence Tuesday. The section of law under which Mott was tried carries a penalty of one to three years imprisonment.

Mott's Russian defense lawyer said the American should be given a probationary or conditional sentence because of his "sincere repentance and mitigating circumstances."

Mott told the court he had crossed the border through carelessness and without thinking. He had been traveling in Norway and was arrested Sept. 4 just inside Soviet territory near the town of Borisoglebsk.

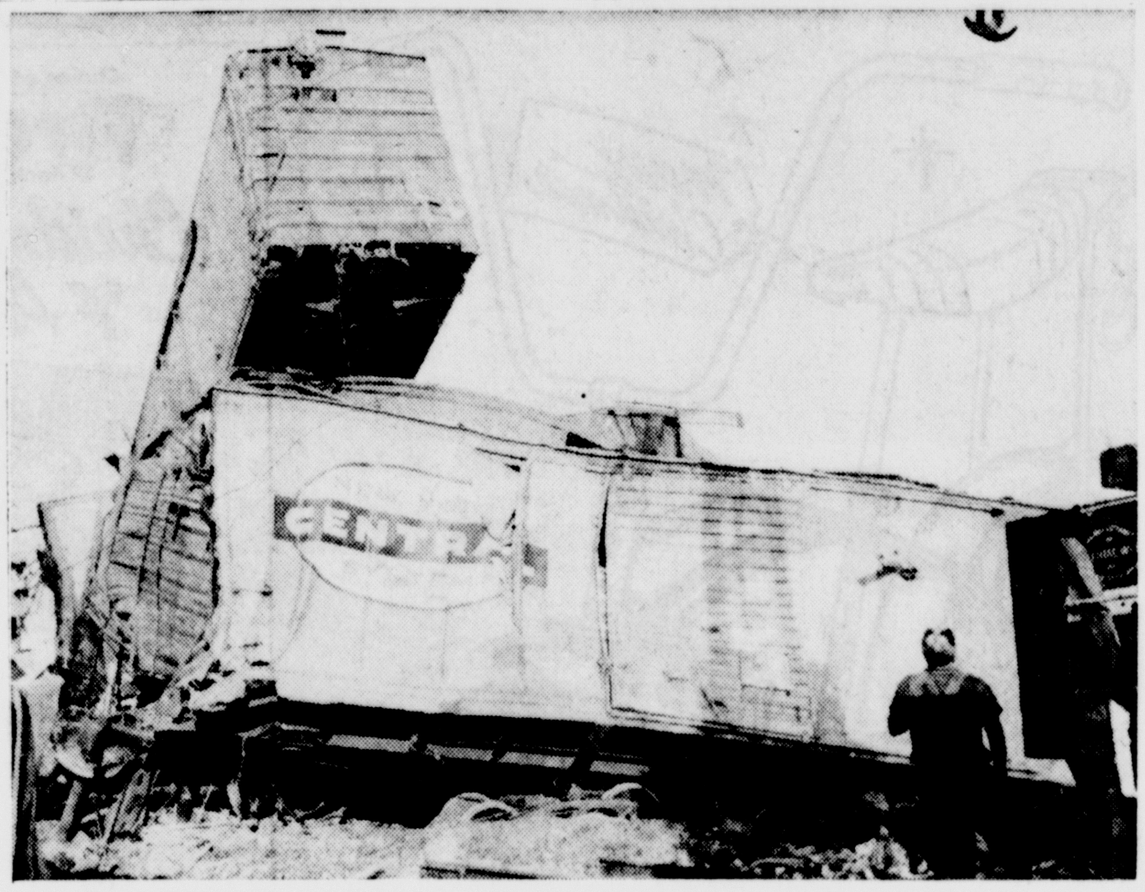

Norway and the Soviet Union have an agreement to let Norwegians visit the town without visas during the summer months.

Youth, 18, Quizzed In Shooting Of Boy

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—A 13-year-old Lorain youth died of a shotgun wound in the stomach Tuesday night and police were questioning an 18-year-old neighbor of the victim.

Police said the 18-year-old youth was holding the gun when it discharged, killing Douglas Edwards.

Business Reported Interested In Negroes' Living Standard

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Business has a substantial interest in increasing the standard of living" of Ohio's Negro population, Board Chairman Barton A. Holl has told the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

"The colored population is increasing faster than the white segment," Holl said in the chairman's report at the annual meeting Tuesday.

"We either put them in a position of being responsible members of society," said the Logan industrialist, "or you will be faced with increased taxation to provide welfare-relief costs.

Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., and Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, took part in a panel discussion at the meeting on how far the federal government should go in regulating state taxation. The two congressmen recently introduced bills intended to ease problems of overlapping state taxes on interstate business.

State Finance Director Richard L. Krabach spoke on Ohio tax studies and Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe at a panel talk on legislative reapportionment.

District directors elected by the Ohio Chamber for three-year terms: Northeastern district, Carl E. Anderson, Canton; northwestern, Edwin L. Heminger, Findlay; central George H. Pringle, Chillicothe, and southeastern, Ira H. Lane, Ironton.

Group directors elected included Don W. Montgomery, Celina, and Howard E. Lefevre, Newark.

October Record Set For Grain Shipments

CLEVELAND (AP) — Grain shipments on the Great Lakes in October reached an all-time high for October, the Lake Carriers' Association reported today.

Johnson Sets New Look At World Affairs

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, busy at shaping fresh domestic programs, is laying the groundwork for broadened attention next year to world problems.

Because Viet Nam has demanded so much concentration on his part, Johnson has not had the time in the last few months to grapple in depth with the threat of the weakening of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization posed by French President Charles de Gaulle's nationalistic policies.

While there can be no presidential relaxation of supervision of the Viet Nam effort, on the basis of the massive legislative program passed by the first session of Congress, it appears the President may be able to relegate some domestic issues to lower priorities.

The signs now point to a determined effort by the President in 1966 toward recementing Western Europe's defenses, improving East-West relations and halting the quarreling between India and Pakistan.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Specific Obligations Curb Delinquency

What we read in the papers about children is nearly always something they do that comes in conflict with the law. We rarely read of their failure to work hard, failure to share in the drudgeries of the home, failure to take responsibilities. Yet many parents are worried more about what their children don't do than what these parents want them to do.

Dr. Garry Myers

Indeed, many letters I receive from parents tell of their difficulties at getting the child, especially of school age, to do what they want him to do.

Some examples:

CHILDREN not doing regular chores about the home and sharing in the home drudgeries; going at their homework and doing it faithfully; following simple routines of personal cleanliness and tidiness; getting themselves ready for school on time; taking proper care of their own things, etc.

Nor is it easy for anybody to give workable advice to parents whose children shirk such responsibilities.

A mother in Florida mentions many hard problems for parents to solve:

The child I am concerned about is my son, 11. The child is very bossy to his brother, 8½, and sometimes to his sister, 6. He's lazy, has to be told many times to give a hand around the house and sometimes acts as if he has absolutely no brains at all. He does not exert himself in his school work.

"HE COULD do better but does not try. Yet the child has ingenious ways of earning money, but never completes the job he sets out to do. I've never seen him pick up a book to study without being told to do so. He has to be told constantly to brush his teeth and comb his hair.

"I am a working mother and try my hardest to help my children with all their problems. Sometimes I feel it's a losing battle. I am very disappointed in him. He knows this and will hardly try to do anything for himself or me, even with encouragement.

"He sets the pace for the younger ones and, of course, they treat him like he treats them. There is constant battling. I would appreciate an answer."

My answer in part:

Any parent may face many or all the problems you report. Their solutions depend on how skillful the child's parents are in restraining him, when restraints are desirable, in winning his cooperation, and in inducing or requiring him to do what he would rather not do.

IF YOU parents still have effective control, assign each child in accordance with age and ability a few regular jobs he can't escape any more than breathing. When any youngster fools around or neglects his chores, require him to sit unamused, doing nothing, where you can see him, for a definite period of time—from 15 to 30 minutes, according to age.

Don't expect any child just to stand around ready to help when called upon. Let him know beforehand exactly what and when he has a job to do, for a week, month or year. When he volunteers to help at other times or chooses to help when requested, express strong appreciation. Wonderful when your eldest volunteers in ways which show special abilities.

No doubt the eldest boy feels he does not stand as well in the family as the other children do, which could help explain his being bossy to his younger brother. Dad might do most in building up this older boy, going places with him only, treating him as his eldest son.

Look for strong points in this lad and build on them. These children so far apart in ages can't be happy playmates constantly. Each needs to cultivate playmates of his own age. Try to enjoy all these children.

THE ELDEST son is probably a poor reader. Find him books which appeal to him and are also easy enough for him to read well. At almost any financial sacrifice, try to find a teacher, preferably a man, to work with this lad a short period daily.

My bulletins, "Preventing and Reducing Jealousy," "Celebrate Your Child's Successes," "Educating Your Child in Responsibility," and "Home Helps in Reading, Spelling and Arithmetic," may be secured by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Ohio's Mapping New Plans For '66 Youth Corps

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Department of Natural Resources is mapping a new program for the 1966 operation of its Neighborhood Youth Corps, the department announced today.

This year, the Youth Corps program did not begin until June. It covered 32 state forests parks, nurseries and wildlife reserves.

The 1966 program will include 50 such areas within the state providing work throughout the year, the department's work supervisor, Frank W. Bennett, reported. He said he felt he could work 18 additional state areas into the 1966 program by operating with smaller work crews.

In this way, he said, more crew leaders will be needed, which will help the college student summer unemployment problem, and with smaller crews and more crew supervisors, the enrollees will receive more and better individual instruction and counselling.

This year the Youth Corps program was successful in placing 35 per cent of the out-of-school enrollees — high school dropouts or graduates, in private industry. Bennett said he hopes at least 50 per cent of the enrollees can be placed in private industry or returned to school in 1966.

How Can I?

ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can be done about white furs that have yellowed?

A.—Often this can be overcome by spraying on a solution of hydrogen peroxide or by brushing with a soft brush. And sometimes hanging the fur in the sun afterward will speed up the re-bleaching process.

Q.—How can I prevent chromium from rusting?

A.—Chromium itself is rustproof. But the chromium we usually know is just a thin plating of metal over another metal that will rust, and when this begins to happen, there isn't much that can be done about it. You can prevent this to a good extent, however, by painting the chromium with clear lacquer.

Q.—How can I treat a white garment that has become scorched while ironing it?

A.—Rub the spot immediately with a cloth dipped in diluted peroxide, then run the iron over it, and it will usually be as white as ever.

Flowers Add Enchantment

Christmas is the season of storybook enchantment, a holiday rich in fables and fancies for the young-at-heart.

The familiar Christmas tree, gleaming with festive tinsel and trim is a centuries-old holiday delight.

According to legend, a kindly woman once decorated a tree on Christmas Eve and during the night spiders spun webs on the tree's branches. Before morning an angel changed the webs to sparkling silver.

Evergreen trees, plants and flowers are a Yuletide tradition, and your florist will help dress your home in the merry magic of the season.

This year, trim a gala tree with bright Christmas ornaments and your favorite flower. Ask your florist to place roses, carnations or pompons in tiny water - filled tubes. Wrap the tubes in ribbon and tie them with bows on the branches of your tree.

The season's greenery, a symbol of everlasting life, and red blossoms for joy and laughter make holiday - bright bouquets for Yuletide decorating or festive greetings for family and friends.

An ancient tale says that the red Christmas rose sprang from the ground at an angel's bidding, and centuries ago the flowers were placed at the entrances of homes to keep the occupants from harm.

Today, floral experts suggest red roses to help set a cheery holiday table. Make a merry mixture of roses and dark green holly in a straw basket. Dot the arrangement with miniature gilded pine cones and sprinkle with sparkling "snow."

GOLFING SWEATER. It is specially designed with three front panels on either side that open and close with each stroke, to swing with ease. Fashioned of Arcilan, mildew, stain and moth resistant for light-weight warmth and easy laundering. This handsome cardigan packs well, too.

Holiday Symbols Abound In Cards And Wrappings

The spirit of Christmas will be richly illustrated this year with traditional holiday symbols abounding in cards and wrappings.

Santa Claus, the tree, mistletoe and holly, and religious themes will be richly represented with special flocking and embossed effects.

For those who are especially fond of one particular holiday symbol, there are coordinate card and wrapping designs so distinctive that they hardly need a signature. The partridge - in - a pear-tree fancier, for example, will find an embossed card with the words to this popular and well - beloved carol thoughtfully included, as well as a coordinate paper done in woodsy hues against a white background.

Tissue papers will also gain in popularity this year and are available in color selections in cool shades of blue and green and in hot pinks and oranges.

An innovation is boxed greeting cards with envelopes lined in such brilliant tissue paper colors as cerulean blue, purple and moss green.

Your imagination, sure to be stimulated by the charm and richness of today's gift wrappings, should inspire you to create special decorative effects.

Here's Appliance Of Unusual Type

Small electric appliances always make welcome gifts for the homemakers on your Christmas list, but one question that invariably pops up when choosing the appliance is "Does she already have one?"

One way to lower the odds is to select an appliance that's relatively new, with unique features that would outdate anything she might already have. One such gift idea is a cordless electric knife.

The cordless electric knife is something every lady - of - the-house would treasure, but would be unlikely to have as yet.

It's simple and safe to use, and makes easy, uniform slices of even the trickiest roast or turkey, not to mention bread, cheeses and vegetables. With a cordless model, the homemaker can take the knife right to the serving platter, whether it's in the kitchen or dining room. In warm weather, it can follow the platter to the patio, backyard barbecue or picnic table.

One type of cordless electric knife has five powerful rechargeable energy cells, which assure efficient slicing for the longest day's entertaining or picnic outing.

It comes in a smartly - styled storage rack with built-in automatic battery recharger that keeps the knife constantly powered for instant use.

Curls Are Chic

So Declare The Experts

Go ahead! Show your fashion spirit, be ahead of the crowd with a holiday hairstyle with curls for Christmas.

Curls are chic, says Paris and Rome. Curls are in, says New York. The newest look in hairdos, according to the experts, is short and curled.

These are free-form curls that toss merrily for the gayest festive hairstyle you've had in many a party season. It is a happy, young look, just as if you never had a worry about gift-giving, guests or gourmet meals.

ALL THE HAIR is softly, beguilingly curled, circling forward on the cheeks, with curving bangs covering the brows. The upkeep is easy. With a standard home wave your hair has lasting body and bounce.

Hairdos last from one shampoo and set to the next without teasing and without resetting. This is a blessing during the hectic holidays when you want to look your prettiest. So, have your home wave early before the shopping rush and parties begin.

If you feel reluctant about curls and prefer to keep your smooth, straight-looking hairstyle, there is an uncurly permanent to help keep a smooth coif in line.

This gives body and curves but no curls.

WHETHER YOU choose a smooth 'do or a cap of curls for your holiday hairstyle, gather together a small treasure of tiny ornaments and set them aside for last - minute coiffure touches.

A leaf or two and a few red berries from artificial holly, a sprig of mistletoe or a small poinsetta blossom, real or not, will give a festive air to your hairdo.

The tiniest tree ornaments or bells add just the right note for a party coif. If they sparkle, so much the better, so will you!

Hand-Grooming Aids Are Always Welcome

Every woman who is interested in good grooming will appreciate getting a gift of hand cream or lotion.

Since the modern hand cosmetics are not sticky, they are recommended for use at night without requiring the use of gloves.

Chemists who specialize in hand care suggest that the user gently rub in the hand cosmetics before she retires so that they can combat skin dehydration while she sleeps. These hand - grooming aids will also do a great job on her cuticles.

Most popular today are the anti - detergent and medicated hand creams that give extra protection.

They are made with emollients and moisturizers designed to penetrate and lubricate the skin, plus light medications to help promote and maintain skin beauty.

How To Select A Diamond

The Jewelry Industry Council offers some valuable suggestions on how to choose a diamond engagement ring.

This important Christmas gift should be selected with infinite care and with the aid of a reliable jeweler who can give expert advice and help.

He can explain the qualities that determine the value of a diamond and also can assist in choosing the most flattering setting in any price bracket.

THE COUNCIL lists what it calls the "4 C's" — color, clarity, cut and carat — as the essential factors in selecting a diamond.

"Color" in a diamond is a delicate thing; a faint shade or tone can make a world of difference. Diamonds have been found in varying colors, from colorless white to deep yellow, brown, blue and even black. The finest commercial diamonds resemble a crystal clear drop of water.

"Clarity" refers to a diamond's freedom from imperfections such as spots of carbon, internal cracks or tiny bubbles. Nothing in nature is perfect and a diamond is a product of nature.

The smaller the flaws in a diamond and the fewer there are, the greater the value. For commercial purposes a diamond which shows no flaws to an expert eye under a 10 - power jeweler's magnifying glass may be advertised legally as "perfect" or "flawless."

—:—

"CUT" REFERS to the shape of the diamond and the process by which it is changed from the rough to the faceted stone.

Until the stone is cut its value is but potential. The full measure of its beauty, meaning its fire and brilliance, is attached only by the proper cutting.

"Carat," the fourth "C," is the acceptable standard of weight for diamonds. The carat is divided into 100 points. Thus when a girl says her diamond is one quarter carat she means 25 points.

Add a cup of grated sharp cheddar cheese to a package of pastry mix and make up according to package directions. Roll out ¼-inch thick; cut into strips and bake in a very hot oven for about 10 minutes. Serve as a delicious accompaniment to soup.

TEEN-AGERS FIND POPULARITY and new friends when they can play the piano for a party. Surprise the whole family this Christmas with the gift that will help youngsters develop poise and social adaptability at a time which is the "awkward age" for so many. It will brighten their holiday season and give everybody hours of pleasure for years to come.

GIVE PAUSE FOR PRAYER

THANKSGIVING

From prayerful moments in the church of our choice to family gatherings around the festive board, spread with turkey and all the trimmings, Thanksgiving is truly a time to give thanks. In the traditions of this day, treasured since the first Pilgram feast, we gratefully take account of bountiful blessings. For health and happiness, prosperity and pleasure, we solemnly express our gratitude and dedicate ourselves to wholehearted new endeavors whereby we may fully use the advantages given unto us, to move forward to ever greater achievements.

Living Plants Add To Cheer All Year Long

There's no better way to add extra warmth to Christmas than gifts of living plants.

Topping the list traditionally are stately, luxurious poinsettias.

Available with either red or white flowers, these traditional Christmas plants lend a festive holiday air to any room in which they are displayed. Contrasting pairs or foursomes in red clay pots with matching waterproof saucers make a brilliant color scheme.

Gift poinsettias should be kept out of drafts, in temperatures between 60 and 75 degrees and given filtered sunlight or adequate artificial light.

The plants should be maintained in an evenly moist but not "drowned" condition. Their porous clay pots are ideal containers which automatically allow excess water to drain gradually, safeguarding against overwatering.

Another really distinctive "growing" gift is the Norfolk Island pine. Actually a miniature evergreen, it has few equals as a hardy and decorative Christmas house plant. It is virtually immune to dry air and requires little light. Kept in a six - inch clay pot, the little "tree" should be moist but not soaked.

The Podocarpus too withstands indoor conditions well. This evergreen shrub grows from one to five feet high. Its clay pot provides insurance against both overheating and overwatering, and provides a sturdy, tip-proof base.

Foilage plants such as the "Star of Bethlehem" hanging vine, syngonium (green gold), and the lush green Jade or Prayer plant (Maranta) are always welcome additions to any one's house plant collection.

Other popular plant gifts for holiday time include the Christmas cactus, the Christmas begonia, Jerusalem cherry, combination plants grown specially for the season, and perperomias, cacti and succulents.

There are several more popular flowering plants avaiable year - round that you might wish to choose from for their distinctiveness.

These include the clay — potted chrysanthemums in white, yellow and shades of reddish bronze; miniature roses in many colors, and azaleas and African violets.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I would like to share a most satisfactory way of carrying cardboard cartons:

No matter how large, bulky, or heavy a carton is, by cutting a halfmoon (or halfcircle) on each side, and simply pusing the fingers through to turn the cut part back, you can make handles that make the carton easier to carry.

It takes only a minute with a jack-knife, paring knife, or even a nail file in a pinch. (please—no big knives. They slip so easily.)

I use cartons for carrying nearly everything — for storing, for toy boxes, etc., because of this ease. It saves my fingernails, and prevents boxes slipping out of my hands and spilling the contents.

It's easier for another person to help, too, when there are handles on a full, huge carton.

You can let your imagination go to work, and decorate cartons for mending boxes, knitting boxes, and the like

ONE OF YOUR "CLUB MEMBERS".

DEAR HELOISE: Today, we hear so much about problem teen-agers.

I have been blessed with two daughters (one 18 and the other 13) and I have found it much easier when God and I share their upbringing, instead of leaving it entirely up to Him alone — or me trying to do it without His help.

ONEITA DAIGLE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I bought plastic dishpans, it wouldn't be too long before the edges would break (frem lifting the pan when full of water or dishes).

On the last one I bought, my husband ran a pliable, yet firm, wire under the brim of the dispan and down at each end. Now the rim does not crack.

The wire (about the thickness of a stick of spaghetti) never gets in the way, nor does it scratch.

I've had the last dishpan a long time, and expect to have it much longer.

HELENA JOHNSON.

DEAR HELOISE: Does your cake of soap in the bathroom get mushy and soft from lying in water?

When cleaning your sink, change the soft soap for a new bar. Just put the soft one in a cupboard, on plastic or something, and it will be quite hard within a couple of days.

By that time, the new one is soft, so change again.

By rotating the cakes, you are saved throwing away all that "mushy stuff" that clings to the soap dishes.

"JUST SIXTEEN."

FROM HELOISE'S KITCHEN

Listen, folks, that old light in my belfry just went on again!

Know something else those wonderful plastic tops on the coffee cans are good for?

Try turning them upside down on your drainboard, then using them to chop onions on, slice a tomato, cut a lemon, etc.

It saves getting out your cutting board (which we always have to wash later, and don't like it stained or full of onion odor, anyhow), and also protects your cutting knife.

Plastic is soft.

The lid is easily washed, and can be used over and over again, takes up no space in your drawer, and, best of all, it's free!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: My little boy received a nice pair of coveralls last year. However, the legs were too short, and the knit bands on the bottom kept coming up to his knees!

I took a pair of socks (slightly larger than his normal size, and sewed them with elastic thread to the bottoms of the pant legs.

Now everyone wonders how I keep his socks up and his pant legs down!

FAY McGEE.

Here Are Words Of Wisdom When 'Firing' The Camera

One of our happiest family traditions at Christmas is the taking of snapshots and home movies.

If you receive a camera for Christmas, or if you are the family photographer, here are a few professional tips from a widely - known photographer.

Establish a pattern of shots, he suggests, and carry it over the years.

The children in their pajamas as they see the decorated tree for the first time . . . the dinner table in all its glory (and later) . . . the beautifully wrapped gifts (and later!) . . . and a family group shot.

On this last, he urges that you do not ask everyone to 'smile, please.' That makes a hard - looking, unnatural picture. Get them talking, some laughing and others serious.

It is always best to use a flash bulb for inside shots, he advises. When you photograph the tree in color, use the slowest shutter speed. This gives the garlands of lights a chance to 'burn in' and show up well.

With a truly modern camera, you are free to concentrate on your duties as director of the family - and - friends cast.

As you focus for distance, you automatically set the proper flash exposure by means of an electric eye.

An annual tradition in many homes is the showing of last year's slides and prints.

But this is the moment when you should look to the future as well as the past. Take some shots with next year's Christmas card in mind. Color prints are less expensive these days, and you can inset them in standard greeting cards or make your own.

One final word of wisdom: When you arrange slides or mount prints, put them in a 'story sequence.'

"You can even," he says, "make a real production of it by having your youngest hold up a card marked Christmas 1965," and then having other members of the family display credits such as 'Catering by Mom,' 'Decorations by Santa,' 'Gifts from Everyone.'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Doctors at last found out what was causing the recurring rash which had Donald B. Steele in and out of clinics for some time. They found he was allergic to heat. Steele has been a fireman for 15 years.

Cross-Country Run Hazard: Getting Lost

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — You can add this to the hazards of cross - country running: Getting lost.

Pete Scott of the University of Nebraska was leading the pack in a four - team meet over the Pioneers Park course in Lincoln recently when he made a wrong turn. Even worse, several teammates followed him. By the time Scott got back on course, he was out of contention and finished fifth.

Coach Frank Sevigne was philosophical about the mixup. "This isn't the worst thing that ever happened to me in cross country," he said.

"I had some guy hitchhike one time back East."

Wheatley Offers Gift Idea

American women shopping for Christmas gifts were urged today to consider the quality, durability and high style of American ceramic products.

"Gifts of American-made, union - produced china, porcelain and potteryware can be counted on to excel over cheap imports," declares E. L. Wheatley, president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, whose members produce the vast bulk of all U.S. and Canadian tableware and other ceramic products.

"Any lucky recipient of a brand name of superior domestic ware knows well that the giver thought enough to pick a gift with top quality built into it," Wheatley says. He pointed out that, barring any accident of breakage, a fine piece of pottery will last eternally. "Pottery can't rust, corrode, rot, fade or change in any manner" he said. "It is one of the most lasting gifts anyone can give and should be selected with topmost quality in mind."

There are many top names of domestic tableware, chinaware and giftware in the U. S. and Canada, he pointed out. The discriminating shopper will have no difficulty in making a suitable selection from the great variety available in a wide range of prices.

Modern Lighting Fixture Will Prove An Ideal Gift

A gift from Dad to Mom that's different from any other he has given her could be a beautiful lighting fixture.

If it happens to be a carefully crafted adaptation of a Moorish chandelier, she'll love it not only for the good cheer and beauty it will add to holiday entertaining, but all through the year.

It will harmonize with traditional, Early American or contemporary furnishings.

When shopping for home furnishings, think of lighting fixtures as regular decorative accessories.

Today well - made fixtures are beautifully designed and available for relatively little money. This means that the fixtures can be changed as often as there is an urge to redecorate or rearrange an interior.

A new trend in the popular chandelier is its wide range of sizes . . . large, medium and small, to fit any interior.

Another new idea in the future of lighting fixtures is a continuous electronic dimmer switch built right into the lighting fixture. The user can dial the light from total darkness on up to total brightness.

Today's pulldown fixture can do two and even three jobs. Zoomed upward it can highlight a wall accessory.

Pulled down it is just right for close work and eliminates the need for an extra table.

Pendants are more colorful than ever, they cost little and add a great deal of warmth and friendliness to an interior.

And, pendants, together with pulldowns and wall scones, have moved right into the kitchen area. They add beauty, plus good lighting, to special areas such as a breakfast nook or over a work desk.

THE POTENTATE LOOK. This handsome robe is made from plushy, colorful terry towels. The "Cantata" pattern is especially masculine in concept, consisting of stylized pine trees on ombre stripes and comes in blue contrasted with brass, red with blue or yellow with saffron. The robe binding and belt is from the "Aurora" pattern. The entire garment calls for three "Cantata" towels and one matching "Aurora" towel. Before putting together garment, cut selvages and seams from towels.

Buying For Man?

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

These Tips Should Be Helpful

Buying a gift for a man? The following tips should help:

1. — Subtly take inventory, if possible, of the gentleman's wardrobe to see what he needs —items that are missing, others that need replacing or updating, etc.

2. — Have a knowledge of the fashion image the man prefers and stay within these limits. Some men like one look to the exclussion of all others while other men like to change their dress by wearing all of today's looks.

3.—Choose furnishings—shirts, ties, shoes, etc. — to fit the look the gentleman wears. A natural shoulder man would undoubtedly choose styles altogether different from the advance fashion man.

4. — Pick colors favored by the gift - recipient.

5. — Be sure of sizes. Make a list of sizes — lots of sizes — such as suit, sport jacket, trouser inseam (for slacks), waist, shirt sleeves and collar, hose, shoes, hat, and gloves for examples.

6. — Sometimes you can't obtain sizes and still be subtle about it. In this case, select a gift that isn't sized. For instance: ties, cuff links, silk squares for jacket pockets, etc.

7.—Another place to be subtle is in offering sartorial guidance disguised in the form of a gift. Remember, it's not your gift and you won't have to wear it. Pick something he'll like . . . and will wear. You'll do little sartorial uplifting if the gift never gets out of the drawer or closet.

8.—Finally, buy early. You'll find a greater selection of sizes, colors and styles available.

TEEN-AGERS ASK FOR BIG SOUND. This lucky young lady found a guitar under her Christmas tree. It is a three-quarter length unit. The amplifier can be sat on as well as played through.

Individual Meat Loaves Tasty And Thrifty

This fall, serve a meal that's delicious, economical and a new twist on an old favorite, meat loaf.

Three qualities make this dish different: Its form in individual flavorings and meat composition, and its quickly prepared sauce.

The base of Individual Meat Loaves is crushed thin saltine crackers mixed with horseradish, mustard, chili sauce, onion and celery. If you use equal parts of ground beef, veal and pork, more flavorful meat loaves result.

Serve them with a simple cheese sauce made from a combination of canned cheese soup and milk. If you have any leftovers, slice the cold meat loaves for sandwiches. Here's how:

INDIVIDUAL MEAT LOAVES

28 double thin krispy crackers
1 teaspoon powdered horseradish
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
½ cup chili sauce
¼ cup minced onion
¼ cup minced celery
2 pounds meat loaf mixture, (equal parts ground beef, veal and pork)

With blender or with rolling pin, crush crackers into medium fine crumbs between two sheets of waxed paper (about 1½ cups). Sprinkle with horseradish, salt and mustard; mix well. Beat eggs with chili sauce, onion and celery, and stir into cracker mixture. Add meat and blend well.

Pack gently into 6 lightly greased 4½x2½ individual meat loaf pans. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F) for 30 minutes, or until done. Let stand in pans for 10 minutes before removing. Serve hot with cheese sauce. Yield: 6 servings.

CHEESE SAUCE

1 can cheese soup (11 ounces)
1-3 cup milk

Add milk to cheese soup and heat, stirring constantly. Pour warm sauce over meat loaves.

How Can I?

ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I remove spilled fingernail polish from rugs or clothing?

A.—Use amylacetate (banana oil), available in drugstores. Commercial polish removers may dissolve the synthetics commonly used today in such materials.

Q.—How can I clean an umbrella?

A. — Scrub it occasionally with warm soapsuds to which a little ammonia has been added. Then rinse with clear water, and dry it in an open position.

Q. — How can I soften liquid glue to usable consistency?

A. — Vinegar will soften liquid glue that has hardened in its container.

Q.—How can I remove daubs and splashes of paint from window glass?

A.—Easy. Just rub gently with fine steel wool.

EGGNOG, with a difference. For an elegant holiday table refreshments served in your best silver complemented by a zesty eggnog. The secret is to add coffee-with-chicory as one of the ingredients. But be sure to make plenty, as your guests will notice the difference and ask for more.

Glue 'n' Glitter Will Work Magic

You can work decorator magic on hundreds of Christmas items with white glue and a sprinkle of glitter.

The glue, which comes in a plastic dispenser, writes like a fountain pen. No mess, no fuss.

The glitter sprinkles from a shaker - top jar. Tiny shimmering glitter particles come in many holiday colors, to lend dairyland fantasy to even the most commonplace articles.

Just write or draw as you please, then, while the glue is still moist, dust with glitter. They will stick on the fresh glue, the rest will shake off and can be put back into the dispenser.

There's almost no end to the decorative possibilities of this handy twosome. Use on Christmas candles, greeting cards, centerpieces, tree ornaments, gift decanters, packages and many other items. Use on paper, cardboard, styrofoam, fabrics and many other surfaces.

Personalize your gifts, etc., by writing the name or message in glue and dust with glitter.

Glitter comes in silver, gold, red, green and a host of other colors, including multicolor, and even beads that glow in the dark.

FOR FESTIVE CHRISTMAS DINING and to add joy to holiday entertaining the Jewelry Industry Council suggests sterling silver flatware and other fine silver accessories. The double vegetable dish, candelabra, salt and pepper shakers bowl and tray that can also serve as a centerpiece, covered relish dish and handsome butane table lighter, all made of sterling silver, make impressive and useful Christmas gifts that will be used with pleasure and pride.

Toys Reflecting Leisure Trends

This Christmas toyland is catering to the young connoisseur with highly realistic replicas of contemporary transport.

A boon to mothers, too, is a new line of heavy - gauge steel toy trucks which not only have an exact reproduction of the sound of heavy duty truck motors, but the sound is achieved for the first time without use of batteries, so there is no danger of sound failure spoiling playtime for the young transportation specialists.

The most luxurious aids to American leisure life have reproductions in today's toy offerings.

The last word in camping effort, for example, available in the grownup world at around $10,000, is reproduced in a heavy gauge steel version for youngsters' play.

The highest death rate by fire is among persons 65 years of age and older.

There were 13,501 business failures in the United States in 1964.

Crab Meat Stuffing Main Dish For Buffet

Having a group of friends over and wondering how to feed everyone? Make it easy and serve buffet style.

During the past few years the buffet has become a popular way of serving a number of people. It may be a planned affair or a spur-of-the-moment idea.

For our buffet we plan to serve: crab meat stuffed tomatoes (easy to prepare when you use herb-seasoned stuffing) a platter of sliced meats and relishes, a mixed green salad, brown - and - serve French rolls, and frozen parfait cake for dessert.

The wonderful convenience of parfait cakes is that you may keep a variety of them in the freezer and serve one or more with your buffet.

CRAB MEAT STUFFED TOMATOES

10-12 medium tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
monosodium glutamate
½ cup butter
1-8 ounce package herb-seasoned stuffing
2-6 ounce packages frozen crab meat
¼ cup chopped green pepper

Remove centers from tomatoes and crush pulp with a fork. Add salt and pepper to pulp and set aside. Sprinkle inside of tomatoes with a little monosodium glutamate.

Melt butter and add to herb-seasoned stuffing. Fold in tomato mixture, crab meat and green pepper. Blend well. If mixture is dry, add enough water for desired consistency.

Stuff tomatoes and place in buttered baking dish. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes. Serves 8 to 10.

You Have Wide Selection If You're Giving A Watch

Years ago, people usually owned just one good watch.

In the case of the women, often it was an expensive one with diamonds, while the gentlemen had a traditional gold watch.

There was good reason for such conservatism. Watches were too costly to acquire in quantities.

Today it's common practice for one person to own several watches.

The development of durable, inexpensive metals and new production techniques have made timepieces available at modest prices.

Most people have an inexpensive watch to wear while doing housework or shopping, or playing golf, while the more costly watch is usually reserved for dress-up occasions.

Fortunately, the low cost of many new watches does not mean that they are inaccurate or poorly styled.

A great variety of accurate, smartly designed timepieces are available in this price classification.

For example, one company offers a sturdy waterproof watch for household chores; a watch with a set of five interchangeable straps and bezels suitable for afternoon wear, and a delicate gold - tone watch for evening for the ladies.

For the men, there are self-winding watches that keep themselves perpetually wound with normal daytime activity, new electric watches with "stop action" second hands and handsome electric calendar watches with expansion bands.

This great abundance of watch designs in every price range is a real boon to those puzzling over what to give for Christmas. Even if the person in mind already has a watch, you can be sure that he or she can always use another!

How Can I?

ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do about honey that has become grainy?

A.—Set the container in a saucepan of hot water, with a couple of sticks of wood under the container to keep the water circulating under it, and let it stand for several hours. Keep the water hot, but not boiling, and the honey should return to normal.

Watch 'Ticks' As Ideal Gift

Probably nothing that a man wears is more distinctive than his watch, says the Jewelry Industry Council.

And the good news is that jewelers this Christmas have more exciting styles and designs to suit every taste and personality.

Many a male heart will beat faster on Christmas morning at the sight of these new marvels of accuracy and modern design.

Today's watches are masterpieces in precision engineering as well as handsome accessories that make every man look more attractive and feel more successful.

Since time is important to every man, a quality, jeweled-lever watch is his best assurance to get to his business meeting or office punctually and to make sure of being on schedule for special appointments.

Because he and others look at his watch many times a day, an elegantly styled, accurate timepiece is always a much prized gift — especially at Christmas when the sentiment of the giver makes the gift that much more meaningful through the years.

The modern watches are sleek and thin, the last word in scientific ingenuity.

They not only wind themselves, resist wind, water, dust, shock and magnetic fields, but some are even powered electrically or electronically and have no winding mechanism at all. There are handsome new watches for dress, business, sport and professional use, and they come in all price ranges.

Gift Of Music Will Prove A Family Treat

Christmas is a day of surprise, bright ribbons, shining eyes and a spirit of giving.

When children awake on such a day, perhaps the best gift of all is the day itself.

Christmas is also a time of music. The gift of music is one that will be appreciated and enjoyed through all the years ahead.

With the increased interest throughout the country in music, both professional and the at-home variety, more and more homes this season will be ringing with carols and Christmas songs performed by family members.

Children are becoming more and more aware of music through music education in school and the excitement of creating their own music can bring added joy to the holidays.

With the sleek, compact styling of pianos, space is no longer a consideration for the small-home owner. The instrument offers children the most complete musical experience — melody, rhythm and harmony all at once.

Lessons — a certificate makes an excellent stocking - stuffer— may be arranged in advance for a gift that will last all year long.

By the time children are five or six, they are receptive to some kind of musical instruction. Such instruction and its resultant performance bring emotional strength, confidence and security to the musical boy or girl.

Poise and social adaptability result and these are the unseen packages beneath the tree which will make this Christmas and those to come the best gift of all.

'Charge' Call Sounds On New-Type Lighter

A truly unique gift for the person who "has everything" is the new rechargeable electric cigarette lighter that will light more than 100 cigarettes on one charge.

A special platinum heating element insures that the complete head of the cigarette is lit every time, eliminating the nuisance of uneven burning.

It is available in three designs for women.

For men, there is a choice of either the sterling silver insert or a decorative panel sporting three lions.

'Gifts' Stored In Freezer Often Solve Emergencies

Have you ever been embarrassed by a friend temporarily overlooked, who shows up at your door with a Christmas gift in hand?

Or by a new neighbor who just moved in and has come to greet you with a Christmas package?

Well, you are not alone, for in the hectic Christmas shopping scramble, some one is overlooked.

To meet emergencies at the holiday season and all year 'round, here's a suggestion from a noted home economics director.

If you have a refrigerator-freezer, use a section of the freezer compartment as a gift corner.

When time allows, make coffee cakes, layer cakes, cookies, candy, fancy rolls, nut bread, etc. . . . "any food item prepared from a favorite recipe you'd like to share with your friends," says this home economist. Unsalted nuts are a good gift item to have on hand, too.

First, wrap the foods for freezing. Moisture - vaporproof paper or a plastic container can be used. Then gift - wrap them on the spot and store the packages in a corner of the food freezer compartment.

You may use any type of gift wrapping paper, flocked, metallic or even tissue paper and your ribbon can be most elaborate with even small favors or trinkets attached.

They will not be damaged or moistened in your frostless freezer, while the food inside them is being protected. The packages will be easy to identify and handle.

So, this Christmas, set aside a corner of your freezer compartment as the gift corner and continue to restock it.

There will be countless occasions throughout the year when these homemade goodies will be welcome gifts.

Here's An Easy Pushbutton Way To Shine Shoes

The push button way to shine shoes! Here's a gift to pamper your man.

Today men are more conscious than ever of footwear styling, pay more attention to their shoes. They like fine leathers, take pride in well - groomed shoes.

But with the disappearance of the corner shoe - shine boy, shoe shining has become for the most part a do-it-yourself job.

And most men don't take it very enthusiastically—when it's the old - fashioned, work and sweat, "down on your knees" way.

That's why it's well to consider an electric shoe polisher for the man in your life this Christmas.

Here's a gift that's really appreciated. Models can make shoe - care a simple — even pleasurable chore with easy pushbutton operation.

A floor model shoe polisher has two bonnets — one for black shoes, one for brown. These large, fluffy buffers remove dust and bring up a gleaming shine in just a few seconds — eliminating hard work, bending, and stooping.

Use of an electric shoe polisher is said to make one polish application last for weeks.

How Can I?

ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I exercise greater economy with my paste shoe polish?

A. — To get all the polish that clings to the sides of the tin after the center part of the shoe polish has been used, hold the tin over a low heat. The wax will melt and form a new cake of polish.

Q.How can I remove airplane cement stains from fabrics?

A.—On all fabrics, except acetate rayon or vinyon, these stains will usually give way to a light treatment of acetone. Amyl acetate (banana oil) can be used on rayon. Fingernail polish remover contains acetone or amyl acetate, and can be used on linens and cottons to remove the cement.

Service Goes On

LINCOLN, Ill. (AP) — Worshippers at Zion Lutheran church got in a sweat when a transformer blew out and halted the air conditioning. Ushers quickly opened the windows and passed out hand fans. Without power, the pipe organ was useless, and Pastor Arthur E. Neitzel led hymn singing without accompaniment. The temperature outside was 97 degrees.

SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Par time 26 min. AP Newsfeatures 11/25

How Can I?

ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I remove insects from vegetables?

A.—When washing the vegetables, put a little vinegar or a pinch of borax in the water — which will bring the live insects to the surface of the water almost immediately.

Q.—How can I tighten the loosened head on a hammer?

A.—One quick and easy method is to rub the top end of the handle with a mixture of glycerin and water. This swells the wood, keeping the head of the hammer snugly in place.

Q. — How can I clean discolored brick walls?

A. — Dissolve an ounce of glue in a gallon of hot water, add a piece of alum about the size of an egg, plus a half-pound of Venetian red, and a pound of Spanish brown. Apply this mixture to the brick surface with a brush, and your bricks should emerge as bright as when new.

Q. — What is a practical and safe way of locating a leak in a gas pipe?

A. Never, never a match, of course! Instead, brush the pipe in the suspected spots with thick soapsuds. If there is a leak present, the bubbles will tell you all about it.

Junior Editors Quiz on ZIP CODE

QUESTION: What does "zip" mean in zip code, and how does the code work?

ANSWER: Postal service is important to the people of our country, for in our complex civilization, communication is absolutely necessary. The zip code is a modern system which postal authorities have worked out to speed letters for everybody's benefit. The use of numbers helps clerks sorting mail to move it quickly. If a letter is addressed "New York, 20," the clerk knows at once the general area of the city the letter is going to. The zip code is a further improvement on this.

"Zip" stands for "Zoning Improvement Plan." There are 5 numbers in the zip code. The one at the left stands for large areas: for example, 1 covers New York and Pennsylvania. The next two numbers mean a certain section of this area 25, for example, if your zip code was 12550, would locate you in the Poughkeepsie-Newburg section. The last two numbers show communities within sections; so, 50 would show you were in the city limits of Newburgh, N. Y. Postmasters would like you to do two things: (1) put your own zip code after the return address on the upper left of your envelope and (2), if you know the zip code of the person addressed, put it to the right of the bottom line of address.

FOR YOU TO DO: Find out your zip code and start using it. It's a good plan, too, to make a list of the zip codes of people you regularly write to, and use them too. If we all get into the zip code habit, all our mail is going to move more rapidly.

Patricia Vagas of Youngstown wins this week's grand prize of a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.
